Lessee and Manager ... ... Mr. L. M. BAYLESS.
Directress ... ... Mrs. M. GLADSTANE BAYLESS.

RE-OPENING NIGHT, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8.

ENGAGEMENT OF

MR. ALFRED DAMPIER.

Mr. BAYLESS avails himself of this opportunity to inform the public of Sydney and suburbs that the liberal patronage that has been bestowed on the Gaiety Theatre since the Opening Night, December 27, 1880, and the substantial recognition of his endeavours to provide successfully for their amusement, has fully justified the large cost of alterations necessary to enhance their comfort and convenience.

The high class of entertainment that has hitherto prevailed at this theatre has been generally acknowledged, and Mr. Bayless assures his numerous patrons that the same standard will always be maintained.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SYDNEY MORNING HERALD.

Sir,—We, the undersigned employees, desire, through the medium of your paper, to publicly thank Mr. STEPHEN GLASSON, Wheelwright and Coachbuilder, of Harris-street, for the great boon he has conferred on us, namely, for granting us the nine hours system with ten hours' pay. Such a deed speaks for itself, as Mr. Glasson is the first employer in Sydney, in our line, who has acted in so generous a manner. We therefore take the earliest opportunity of publicly acknowledging it, and we trust that Mr. Glasson's example in this case will be followed by other employers in our line of business, as but very few other mechanics do work but eight hours a day. Trusting that you will give this letter a space in your valuable paper,
WILLIAM IKIN,
JOHN BLINKHORN,
SAMUEL BOWDEN,

DERMATOLOGY.

JAMES H. ADGER,
DERMATOLOGIST—
Office: 131, Elizabeth-street, Sydney, southend Market-street—treats successfully all Diseases of the Skin and Scalp Loss of Hair, and Premature Blanching.

Synopsis of Mr. ADGER'S Theory and Treatment of Cutaneous Disorders which affect the Hair.

Particular attention is called to my theory of treating diseased scalps, or restoring hair; it, no doubt, will commend itself to every intelligent and reflective mind as being the only method based on physiological principles which has ever been presented to the public for the restoration of the hair.

Because persons have tried various preparations for the hair and have been deceived by them, and in some cases their difficulties made worse by their use, they should not be discouraged. The one-preparation system for all phases of diseases must necessarily prove a failure; no one compound can be available for all diseases; it may remove some, when in other cases it is useless, and in many positively injurious.

My method is in accordance with the law of cause and effect. I make a personal examination, ascertain what particular disease of the scalp has produced, or is producing, a loss of hair or premature whitening, and prescribe remedies according to its nature and requirements that will remove it. Hence my great success in treating capillary diseases.

My experience has been gained by study with the most eminent Dermatologists in the United States and in England, and by the devotion of the greater portion of my life (more than 20 years) to the investigation, theoretically and practically, of this speciality—the treatment of all diseases of the scalp, loss of hair, premature blanching, and general cultivation and growth of the hair; and as the result of this experience I may point to my flattering success during several years' practice in this city, without reference to the many special cures I have effected, as the best proof of the general efficiency of my system of treatment.

JAMES H. ADGER.

Mr. Adger can be consulted at his office, 131, Elizabeth-street, where letters and testimonials are open to inspection which must satisfy the most sceptical, signed as they are by persons of the highest position in society.

It will be obvious that no person could have obtained such names as an endorsement of his professional ability without constant proof of merit.

PARLIAMENT OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7.

Mr. SPEAKER took the chair at twenty-nine minutes past 4 o'clock.

REPLIES TO QUESTIONS.

Mr. SUTTOR, in answer to Mr. Campbell, gave information respecting the opening of a road from Merriwa West to Boggabilla.

Mr. HOSKINS, in answer to Mr. Campbell, gave information as to the water reserves near the main road from Taloona to Merriwa.

Mr. HOSKINS, in answer to Mr. T. G. Dangar, gave information as to the unsold lots in the town of Walgett, and as to the dedication of a recreation ground there.

Mr. WISDOM, in answer to Mr. Buchanan, said that Sir George Innes had called for a report from the gaol authorities at Coonamble as to the reported leg-ironing of prisoners awaiting trial, but the report had not yet been received.

Mr. SUTTOR, in answer to Mr. Abigail, said there were four standpipes, with hose, besides some 20 buckets of water, always kept ready in the woolshed at Darling Harbour, and several hydrants had been ordered for various parts of the yard in case of fire. The appliances were experimented with from time to time; they were last experimented with on the 3rd instant. The supply of water was admirable, and in the event of a fire breaking out it would be overcome before any serious damage could be done. There were no formulated regulations, and it was considered unnecessary to have such. The men had been made aware of the position of the hydrants, and anyone could use them when required.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in answer to Mr. Abigail, gave particulars as to the number and classification of immigrants by the Nineveh, and said that, two of the female immigrants having become insane during the voyage, an investigation had been made, and the report was in course of preparation.

Mr. JAMES WATSON said that the sanatorium at Little Bay would be completed for the reception of patients in about a month.

Sir HENRY PARKES, in answer to Mr. Melville, who asked a number of questions relative to Mrs. Bardwell's case, said he would lay the replies on the table during the afternoon.

PAPER.

Sir HENRY PARKES laid the following paper upon the table:—Return giving information relative to the examinations of Mrs. Bardwell.

It was ordered that the document should be printed.

EXPLANATION.

Mr. J. P. ABBOTT called attention to an error in the report of one of his speeches in the Sydney Morning Herald of that morning. He was made to say that he found from the wine list of Mr. Munro that his lowest priced wines were 10s. a gallon. What he did say was that he saw the lowest was 5s., and the highest 10s. a gallon. He thought it was only fair to Mr. Munro, that this correction should be made.

Mr. FORSTER also drew attention to two verbal errors which had been made in his speeches in the official reports of the Parliamentary debates.

ADJOURNMENT.—TREATMENT OF PRISONERS.

Mr. BUCHANAN moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of calling attention to the manner in which prisoners awaiting trial were treated at the Coonamble gaol. He had put a question on the paper in reference to the matter, and had received a reply from the Minister for Justice that he would call for a report; but surely if men were treated as he said they were, it was a monstrous abuse and a powerful wrong. This had been done because he had seen it; and he had expected the Government would have stopped it at once by telegraph. To put leg-irons on a man was a very severe part of a sentence, but in the gaol at Coonamble it was done to persons who were simply awaiting their trial. He had been spoken to by the people of the town, who said they could do nothing as the police were all powerful there, and he had accordingly promised to bring the matter under the notice of the Government. If the answer was that the prisoners could not be kept safely without leg-irons, he had no hesitation in saying that they ought to be allowed to go, for it was the duty of the Government to provide places where they could be safely detained without subjecting them to such an indignity as this.

Mr. WISDOM said that while he did not, of course, dispute the statements of the hon. member so far as regarded what he had himself seen, he thought the statements he had made from hearsay must be very much exaggerated, because he could not conceive it possible that if the gaol was secure prisoners could be treated in the way he referred to. [Mr. BUCHANAN: Every prisoner in the gaol was in leg irons.] That was a most extraordinary state of things. (Hear, hear.) He could not conceive it possible that such a state of things could exist without it being made known. But, if the hon. member's statements were true, there had been very improper conduct on the part of the gaol officials; but before coming to any determination on the matter, he thought it only right and fair that what the gaol officials had to say should be heard. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. FORSTER said that, although it was the duty of the Government not to express any opinion upon this matter until inquiry had been made, he did not think the Government had dealt with it in a satisfactory way. The hon. member had asked a question with reference to this matter the day previous, and had been asked to postpone it, and now the Government seemed to have as little knowledge of the matter as before.

Mr. WISDOM explained that the Government had sent a telegram, and had received a reply that written reports had been forwarded.

Mr. FORSTER said the written reports might be the means of keeping some persons in leg-irons for two or three weeks longer. He could not see any reason why an answer could not have been asked for and received by telegraph. If what the hon. member said was correct, this sort of thing must have been going on for a long time. It also appeared that a man named Hughes, whom the doctors had sent to the quarantine station as a smallpox patient, had been put in irons, so that it was evident that this practice of putting people in irons was being extended by this strong and liberal Government.

Mr. W. J. FOSTER pointed out that gaolers had a perfect right to keep prisoners in irons until they came before the court to plead, if the circumstances required it for safe custody. Such a state of things, however, as the hon. member for Mudgee had mentioned was wholly unjustifiable.

Mr. J. P. ABBOTT believed it would be found that Mr. Buchanan's statement was somewhat exaggerated. Coonamble gaol was one of those small country gaols where there was very little accommodation, and the prisoners awaiting trial had either to be locked up in the cells, deprived of air and exercise, or allowed to take exercise in the yard, when light irons would be put upon them as a matter of precaution.

Mr. FERGUSSON desired to call the attention of the Minister for Mines to a defect in the Mining Act. At the present time, under the Mining Act, a miner might apply for a mineral lease and expend a large sum in prospecting, and before the application was approved of and the lease granted a second person might apply under the Land Act for the same land and get it. The rights of applicants for mineral leases were not protected under the Mining Act. The Government could bring in a short bill to have the rights of applicants for mineral leases protected until the leases were granted. The Minister for Lands and the Attorney-General had both had their attention called to this defect in our mining law.

Mr. R. B. SMITH considered that the member for Mudgee deserved the thanks of the community for drawing attention to the abuses alleged to exist at the Coonamble gaol. The statement of the Attorney-General showed that the conduct of the officials was indefensible. The matter therefore deserved the serious attention of the Government. The practice might be common at Gunnedah, and that perhaps was why Mr. J. P. Abbott treated the subject lightly. A principle of law was that every person was presumed to be innocent until they were found guilty. Perhaps the reverse was the case at Coonamble; for no matter whether a man was innocent or not, leg-irons were put on him there, and he was retained in prison six months at a time. This state of things would not be tolerated in any civilized community, and he felt sure that the Government would consider it seriously, and put a termination to it.

Mr. BUCHANAN replied, saying that he blazed with indignation when he heard of these men being leg-ironed. He made the court ring about it, and the Judge, gaoler, and police not only did not deny it, but some of them said the practice would be continued. He saw the chains, which were as thick as a man's wrist. [Laughter, and Sir H. PARKES: "No such chains are made."] The practice was one of the grossest things imaginable, and if the Government had not a proper place in the district for securing accused persons they should send them elsewhere. He was surprised that any member should treat the matter with levity. If Mr. Cass were present that gentleman would confirm all he had said regarding it.

The motion for adjournment was negatived.

PETITION.

Mr. R. B. SMITH presented a petition signed by 265 residents of the Macleay River district in reference to the reclamation by the Government of swampy lands in the district.

The petition was received.

CLAIM OF MR. WILSHIRE.

On the motion of Mr. FARNELL, the House resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole to consider the claim of Mr. Wilshire.

Mr. FARNELL moved,—"That an address be presented to the Governor, praying that his Excellency will be pleased to cause to be placed on the Estimates for 1881 a sum not exceeding £2000, to compensate Mr. Austin Forrest Wilshire for losses sustained by him, as set forth in his petition of 18th May, 1880." He said that some hon. members would know that Mr. Wilshire's father, in 1806, established a tannery at Brickfield-hill, which was then complete bush, and he carried on the business very successfully for a long period; but the people of the colony began to consider the sanitary condition of the city in 1849, and an Act was passed a year later, providing that all tanneries, slaughterhouses, and other establishments of a kindred nature, should be removed from the city within a period of 10 years. During the passage of that bill through the Legislative Council of the day it was intended that tanneries should be exempt. A petition had been presented by Mr. Lowe on the subject, and Mr. Nichols consented to accept an amendment to exempt tanneries, but, owing to the absence of Mr. Lowe when the bill was considered the amendment was not inserted in the bill. In consequence of this Mr. Wilshire suffered great loss on having to remove his establishment within ten years, by reason of persons having started similar establishments outside the city boundaries. Mr. Wilshire's property was so situated that it had no frontage to any street, and when this property was destroyed it was done for the benefit of the city and the health of the citizens. It so much affected Mr. Wilshire's business that he had to give it up altogether and let the property for a coal and timber yard. He subsequently mortgaged the land, and, finding that the rent he received from the lessee would not pay the interest on the money borrowed, he was forced to sell the land. The price realised, however, was not sufficient to cover the amount of the mortgage, and he had to sell other land to pay off the mortgage. By that means he lost a large amount of money. Four select committees were appointed at different times to inquire into this matter, but owing to various circumstances no report was brought up until 1862. The committee then reported that it was undesirable to have the business of tanners and curriers carried on within the limits of the city of Sydney, and they were therefore not prepared to recommend any relaxation of the Act. They did not report anything at all in reference to Mr. Wilshire's claim. Then in 1868 Mr. Wilshire addressed a letter to Sir James Martin on the subject, who took the case into consideration; and so much did he think of the claim that he put £2000 on the Estimates to compensate Mr. Wilshire for his losses. That vote was, however, lost. He (Mr. Farnell) was a member of the House at the time, and knowing nothing of the case and the claims of Mr. Wilshire he voted against it; but since then Mr. Wilshire had brought the whole facts of the case before him, and he was now of opinion that he was entitled to this £2000. Mr. Wilshire was now a ruined man, and had been ruined by being deprived by Act of Parliament of a lucrative business, and under the circumstances it was only fair that they should make a liberal provision for him.

Sir HENRY PARKES said he thought it was more than 20 years ago since he brought Mr. Wilshire's case before Parliament, and moved a resolution in reference to it. At that time he went fully into the facts, and he felt convinced that Mr. Wilshire had been injured by the operation of the Act referred to by the hon. member. The bill originally introduced was for the removal of slaughter-houses from the city, and when the bill was in committee some member moved that tanneries and curriers' establishments should also be included. There was this circumstance in Mr. Wilshire's case that the bill introduced was not intended to affect his trade, and that the amendment affecting his trade was introduced suddenly, and before Mr. Wilshire had an opportunity to petition against it. Mr. Wilshire's father had expended large sums of money on the property in adapting it for the business of fellmongering and tanning, and the expenditure became not only absolutely valueless in regard to the property but injured the property for any other purpose. Mr. Wilshire could not be said to have slept on the injury he had received; he had been unremitting in trying to get redress. He believed there had been four select committees appointed in reference to this claim, and all of them, except the last, had been cut short either by prorogations or dissolutions; and although the last one reported, it reported only on the expediency of altering the law. Mr. Wilshire had suffered beyond all doubt a great injury to his property; his case was a good one, and he could not but support the resolution now before the committee.

Mr. POOLE pointed out that this matter had been before the House and refused when the circumstances were fresh in the minds of the members. If this claim for compensation were to be admitted they would have other claims of a similar kind constantly turning up. There was Mr. Walton, of the Glebe, who would have a similar claim. It seemed to him a dangerous thing that they should be called upon now to decide upon matters that occurred thirty years ago.

Mr. GARVAN said it appeared to him that more light should be thrown upon this matter before they agreed to this claim. People who carried on such a business must always be prepared to give way when it was necessary for the sake of the public health. He could not understand how this sum of £2000 was arrived at; the buildings used in this business were usually of a very temporary nature, and could have been removed without any great cost.

Mr. GARRARD also thought it would be a dangerous thing to allow this claim, because if they did so there would be other claims of the same kind brought before them.

Mr. FARNELL assured the hon. member, Mr. Poole, that there could not possibly be any other claims of the same kind as this, as it was the only case.

Mr. ROSEBY could not support this claim, as he did not consider that Mr. Wilshire had been injured to anything like the amount of £2000 asked for in this resolution.

Mr. GARRETT said if there was any claim at all, the excuse that the land cost nothing in the first instance could not be entertained for a moment. Nor could it be adduced as an argument that a long time had elapsed before this claim was introduced, for the fact was that it had been continually before Parliament so long as he had been a member of it. He was not inclined to do what might be an injustice on either of those grounds, and he was inclined to vote for this resolution.

Mr. BURNS always looked upon claims of this kind with a degree of suspicion. He could not see why Mr. Wilshire was not wise enough to make arrangements to carry on business outside the boundaries of the city, unless it was that having spent a good deal of money in establishing his business in the city he could not afford to spend money in other directions. He would have preferred to see the Government take the whole responsibility of the matter by placing the amount on the Estimates themselves.

Mr. KIDD would not support the resolution, because in 1868 the matter was dealt with, the amount having been placed upon the Estimates; but it was rejected by 16 votes to 9. He thought the 10 years' notice that had been given was quite long enough to enable Mr. Wilshire to make arrangements to carry on his business outside the city; in addition to which a tanner's business would not suffer like some others by being removed from one locality to another; and of course the value of the land in that 10 years would make up for the loss sustained by the removal of the business.

Mr. DAY would be glad to do what was reasonable and fair, but the House had nothing before them to show them how they ought to vote. For his part he did not think the whole of the tanneries in the colony would be worth £2000, for they were just composed of three or four pits and a bark shed. If this had been a just claim the Parliament that decided it before was an honest and just one, and would have given what compensation was necessary.

Mr. LLOYD thought Mr. Wilshire had been badly used by a law passed by the Parliament, which had compelled him to go out of town; and believing that this was a good and righteous claim, he thought it was one that ought to be considered and allowed by the House.

Mr. DAVIES intended to vote for the motion, as he had been through the works referred to, and knew that they were the largest industry of the kind that existed in New South Wales. When a bill was passing through the House for the removal of slaughter-houses from the precincts of the city, a provision was introduced which had the effect of compelling the removal of this particular industry. It was only fair when the Legislature interfered with existing private rights to compensate those who suffered thereby. He would vote for the resolution.

Mr. WILSON said he had read a document sent to him by Mr. Wilshire himself, and probably sent to every other member of Parliament, and upon that document alone he had come to the conclusion that he could not support the claim for compensation.

Mr. COPELAND said that in 1868 this proposal had been negatived by 16 votes to 8; and, therefore, strong evidence should be brought forward now to show that that decision was wrong. He would be quite prepared to vote for the proposal if that could be shown.

Mr. FULLFORD said he would support the payment of compensation, although he was not prepared to say he would support a vote of £2000.

Mr. VAUGHAN could not see any reason why Mr. Wilshire's claim should be allowed. If this claim was allowed it appeared to him that others would arise.

Mr. ROSEBY said he knew the tannery very well, and Mr. Wilshire himself would probably have removed the establishment voluntarily and sold the site. With the exception of a few tanpits, certainly not worth £2000, there was nothing that could not be easily removed.

Mr. W. FORSTER was sorry to hear that the person most interested in this matter was in needy circumstances, but he held that they must not permit their feelings to overcome their reason. He thought Mr. Wilshire should have taken into consideration the contingency of the removal of his premises when he established them, and calculated his profits accordingly. If he made the mistake of not doing so, he had no right to go the public for compensation. Taking that gentleman's statements he was satisfied that they contained nothing to justify this proposal. On the contrary, they must arrive at the conclusion that, instead of being badly treated, Mr. Wilshire had been very well treated. He was assisted by the public with a grant of land, and allowed to carry on a disagreeable if not deleterious business for 50 years, during which he must have made considerable profit. At the end of the period he was not dispossessed in a moment, but got 10 years' notice to remove. In connection with this claim, the possibility of claims being made in connection with other industries must be considered. If the sugar duties were removed, were they prepared to grant compensation to the sugar companies? Yet he was sure the removal of the duties would cause considerable loss to the companies. He had heard repeatedly that raising the railway rates had destroyed business in Goulburn. Well, why should not the sufferers put in claims for compensation? Looking at all the circumstances, he had arrived at the conclusion that Mr. Wilshire had been well treated, and, being fortified in this conclusion by the former decision of the House, he felt that they would take a wrong step if they agreed with the motion.

Mr. STUART said he thought they could not entertain this claim. The Legislature of the time arrived at the conclusion that all noxious trades must be removed from the city, and this trade of Mr. Wilshire was included in the removals. If they admitted this claim, were they to admit claims in connection with other trades that had to be removed. They had received no such claims as these. [Mr. MARTIN: We will if we allow this.] Of course they would. The question then would be whether, after an interval of many years, they should look up persons debarred from carrying on trade in the city in order that they might afford them compensation. As the city increased in size, so they prohibited noxious trades in it; but he had not heard that losses were necessarily incurred by their removal. If persons who made these claims had retained their land, the very necessity of the trades being driven from the city would have increased its value to them.

The question was put, and the committee divided with the following result:—

PAIRS.—For: Parkes, Garrett. Against: Kidd, Roseby.

Mr. CAMERON said that, the numbers being equal, it became his duty to give a casting-vote; and, in accordance with the usual practice, and in order that an opportunity might occur for the further consideration of the subject, he would give his vote with the ayes.

The question was therefore resolved in the affirmative.

The House resumed, the resolution was reported, and its reception made an order of the day for Friday next.

CROWN-STREET PUBLIC SCHOOL.

On the order of the day being called for the resumption of the adjourned debate, on the motion of Mr. Roseby,—"1. That a select committee be appointed, with power to send for persons and papers, to inquire into and report upon the management of the Public school in Crown-street, Sydney, and the differences between the head master and head mistress of that school. 2. That such committee consist of Sir Henry Parkes, Mr. Farnell, Dr. Renwick, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Mr. Fremlin, Mr. William Forster, Mr. Abigail, Mr. Hezlet, Mr. Poole, and the mover,"

Mr. ROSEBY said that as the parties referred to in the motion had been dealt with by the Department, and in a way which commended itself to his judgment, although there was very much surrounding the case that might be investigated, he did not see that anything would be gained by going on with the motion. He, therefore, moved that the order of the day be discharged.

Mr. MELVILLE thought the action of the hon. member not only singular, but exceedingly strange. It might be that an investigation now would do no good, but the investigation which other hon. members had in view, was not only into the circumstances of the case, but an investigation to ascertain how one of the teachers gained her position. If the decision arrived at satisfied the hon. member it did not satisfy him (Mr. Melville), and he did not think it satisfied anybody concerned.

Mr. COPELAND said it was very true that the master and Mrs. Bardwell had been dealt with by the Department, but as this was a question affecting our Public school system, it would have been far better to have allowed the discussion to go on. He recommended the hon. member for Northumberland to take the matter up himself, and move for a select committee, as he thought it necessary, in the interests of the public and the Public school system that these matters should be sifted to the bottom.

Mr. FORSTER did not think an inquiry such as that proposed would be of much value—(hear, hear)—but he did think it was a great pity that the hon. gentleman who had charge of the motion did not extend the inquiry into the whole Public school system. The facts shown in the papers in connection with the case proved this. He thought it had been admitted in the papers and in the debates that the lady—whose qualifications might be very high—was appointed irregularly. In some way or other she failed to pass the examination, and although it was quite possible that the examiner had made a mistake and that the lady was qualified, the result was that she did fail, and in spite of this she got an appointment higher than the particular examination would have admitted. That very fact showed gross maladministration in the Public school system, and it was a kind of loophole through which people could see the working of the machinery. They heard complaints on all sides about Public schools and the Public school system generally; they heard that our competitive examinations was a farce, that all kinds of interference took place either through the Government or through people of whose actions the Government were not cognizant, and that in all portions of the public service men were pushed in by political interest, and that our system was becoming destroyed and degraded to its very foundations.

Mr. DAVIES thought the hon. member was not speaking to the motion before the House, which was simply that the order of the day be discharged.

Mr. SPEAKER said that on a motion for the discharge of the order of the day, the merits of the main question could not be discussed, but the hon. member was discussing a question altogether apart from the motion before the House or the main question. He was perfectly at liberty to give his reasons why the order of the day should not be discharged.

Mr. FORSTER said if he made statements tending to show that an inquiry was necessary, and the object of the hon. member's motion was to give up that inquiry, it seemed to him that he was entirely in order.

Mr. SPEAKER said the hon. gentleman would certainly be in order in taking that course, but the proposal of the hon. member for Shoalhaven was a limited inquiry, of which the hon. member was not speaking at all.

Mr. FORSTER said that if an inquiry were held into the whole of the Public schools, it would include the Crown-street school. He regretted that the hon. member for Shoalhaven proposed to withdraw the motion for an inquiry, not so much on account of this school, but because the whole system required inquiry. He should have been glad to see the hon. member continue the inquiry and at the same time make it more extensive.

The question was put and carried on a division of 26 to 12.

DOWER ABOLITION BILL.

Mr. TERRY moved the second reading of the Dower Abolition Bill. Every one must know that there were a great many inconveniences in regard to this question of dower. Under the Real Property Act the Examiners of Titles deemed it their duty to inquire in every case into the dower, and much inconvenience arose through the difficulty of proving that dower did not exist. In the report of the Royal Commission on the Real Property Act this question received much attention, and the recommendations of the commissioners were very much the same as the provisions of this bill. He had provided for the preservation of all rights wherein a decision of the Supreme Court had been given, and he provided that all who were entitled to dower could lodge their claim within two years; and he preserved all rights in cases of intestacy. Very few persons in this colony were dowerable; he did not believe there were more than 20. In Adelaide they had passed a bill that went even further than this; but he had preferred to follow the Victorian law, which was the same as this bill. He had never heard of a single case of dower being brought in this colony; it would be very expensive, and there would be very little gained by it. But they knew the injurious effect it had upon property. It would prevent a property from being salable in the market. They also knew that the Government had only the registers of births for the last 20 years or so, and that all the records previous to that were in the hands of Mr. Kerrison James or the Jewish Synagogue, or other religious bodies, and owing to the difficulty of proof, the sooner this right was done away with the better. He did not wish to absolutely do away with dower, but to compel persons who were dowerable to come forward and prove their claims. No persons married after 1837 were entitled to dower; it was a relic of the past, and should be remedied quickly. Dower did not mean one-third of the property; it was only one-third of the rental at the time the husband sold it. Since the introduction of this bill, the Parliamentary draftsman had suggested certain verbal amendments, which he intended to move. He believed the Attorney-General had no objection to the measure, and he need say no more, but leave it in the hands of the House.

Mr. R. B. SMITH moved the adjournment of the debate. He had not expected it to come on so early, and he thought this was too important an alteration in the law to be decided in so thin a House.

The adjournment of the debate was negatived on division by 28 votes to 10; the second reading was agreed to, and the House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the bill in detail.

The preamble was postponed.

Clause 1. "Dower abolished."

The clause was verbally amended and agreed to, an amendment, moved by Mr. M'CULLOCH, limiting the period within which dower might be claimed to one year instead of two years, being negatived on a division by 29 votes to 6.

The remaining clauses, the schedule, and the preamble were agreed to without discussion, and the bill was reported to the House with amendments.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PROPERTY BILL.

Mr. KERR moved the second reading of the Presbyterian Church Property Management Bill. He explained that the bill was intended to make better provision for the management of the church property. It provided for the appointment of trustees in the place of those who died, for the election of others, for the renting of pews by deacons, and for officiating ministers to enter upon certain property. It would give trustees power to hold land in sparsely populated districts until congregations were formed, and power to grant leases for longer terms than at present, and to sell lands where such sales would be beneficial to the church.

The motion was agreed to, and the House went into committee to consider the bill in detail.

The clauses were agreed to after verbal alterations had been made in the 4th and 12th, and the bill was reported, with amendments, to the House. The report was adopted.

ROGERS ESTATE BILL.

Mr. BURNS moved the second reading of the Rogers Estate Bill and explained that it was intended by the measure to give power to Mrs. Rogers and the trustees under the will of the late Mr. Rogers to sell certain property and invest the proceeds.

The motion was agreed to, and the House, having resolved itself into committee, the bill was passed, without amendment.

The House resumed, the bill was reported without amendment, and the report adopted.

IMPORTATION OF GRAPE VINES.

Mr. FARNELL moved,—"That leave be given to bring in a bill to prohibit the importation of grape vines, grape-vine cuttings, and grapes."

The motion was agreed to, and the bill was brought up and read the first time.

The House adjourned at twenty-seven minutes past 9 o'clock until 4 o'clock on Tuesday next.

Custom House.—Entered Outwards, October 7: Governor Blackall (s.), 331 tons, Captain A. T. Edwards, for Brisbane; Rodondo (s.), 715 tons, Captain J. R. Clark, for Melbourne, via Newcastle; Potosi (s.), 2504 tons, Captain C. E. Darley, for London, via Melbourne and Adelaide; Tasman (s.), 491 tons, Captain J. Lewis, for Hobart, via Eden; Sikh (s.), 1510 tons, Captain J. Johnson, for Singapore, via Newcastle.

The Governor Blackall (s.) left Brisbane on October 5, at 1.30 p.m., and arrived in Sydney at 11.30 a.m. on the 7th. Experienced moderate and strong southerly winds and heavy head sea.

The Tasman (s.) left Hobart at 4.30 p.m. on the 4th instant; arrived at Twofold Bay at 10.80 a.m. on the 6th; left again the same day; entered Sydney Heads at 7 a.m. on the 7th. Experienced light S.W. winds to Cape Howe; thence light variable winds and calms to port, and heavy E. swell.

The Queen of the South (s.) crossed the Macleay bar at 5.30 p.m. on the 5th instant, and arrived in Sydney at 5 a.m. on the 7th. Experienced fresh breezes from the S.S.W. to Port Stephens, remainder of the passage moderate weather. Cargo: 1400 bags maize, 28 hides, 5 coops fowls, 28 pigs, 28 bags turnips, 14 cases eggs, 1 cask tallow, and sundries.

The Fiona (s.) crossed the Clarence bar at 6.15 a.m. on Thursday, 5th instant, and entered Sydney Heads at 4.10 p.m. on Friday, the 6th. From the Clarence to Tacking Point experienced moderate south winds, with heavy southerly swell, thence south winds, with easterly swell and clear weather. Cargo: 4400 sacks of sugar, 23 hogsheads, 2 cases, and sundries.

The Australian (s.) left Grafton on the 5th instant, and arrived at Sydney on the 7th. Cargo: 1178 bags maize, 1537 mats sugar, 1065 cases meats, 71 casks molasses, 16 cedar logs, 51 hides, 347 bunches bananas, 15 cases eggs, 5 coops poultry, 1 coop, 26 pigs, and sundries.

The ship King Cedric, with a cargo of steel rails, arrived in Port Jackson yesterday, and came to an anchor in Neutral Bay. She left Newport, Monmouthshire, on the 30th June, with S.W. winds, which detained her in the Channel for five days. After leaving the Channel, N.W. and westerly winds were met with for two or three days, thence variables until the N.E. trades were got, in 30° N.; they carried the ship to 10° N., and were succeeded by variables, which lasted for two or three days, and the S.W. monsoons, which were kept to 5° N., when the wind went round to the S.E. The Equator was passed on the 6th August in longitude 21° W. The S.E. trades were lost in 27° S., and were succeeded by southerly winds, which continued for four or five days; after that had N.W. and westerly winds to the meridian of the Cape, which was passed on the 2nd September in 39° S., 63 days out; thence to Cape Otway had strong variable winds from N.N.W. round to W. and S.S.W., with occasional squalls. On the whole the weather was very fine, and there was not much wind. Made Cape Otway on the 3rd October; passed through the Straits on the morning of the 4th, and made Cape Howe on the 5th; came up the coast as far as Jervis Bay with S.E. wind, which then died away to calm, and the ship was becalmed off Bulli for 15 hours; the wind again sprang up from the S.E., and brought her along the coast as far as Botany Bay, off which place the main topgallant mast carried away, and the yard came down and broke in three pieces. This was the only mishap during the voyage. The steam tug was got at about 11 o'clock, and the ship was anchored in Neutral Bay at 1 p.m. She is consigned to Messrs. J. and A. Brown.

With reference to a paragraph which appeared in yesterday's issue, "Nauticus Primus" writes:—"Your Newcastle correspondent would lead the public to think that the poor fellow left on board the ill-fated Prince Victor had, by setting fire to the ship, wilfully destroyed the last chance he had of saving his life. Being a sailor, and having gone through some rather nasty experiences, I do not think I am taking too much upon myself when I say that I am under the impression that the barque was set fire to by other hands than the cook's. Such a wreck as the ill-fated vessel was would be a source of great danger to other vessels, and it would be the duty of any shipmaster who might come across her to destroy her. To sink her by scuttling, she being timber-laden and already water-logged, would never be thought of. The application of fire would be the best and safest way, as she would, in all probability, burn to the water's edge, release her cargo, capsize, and sink. Such being the case, let us hope that the poor mis-guided fellow, who refused to leave his ship, has been rescued by some humane man, who, in doing so, did not forget to perform that act of demolition to floating danger which seems so graceful when done by a sailor for other sailors' sake."

With regard to the complaint made by Captain Brown, of the barque Prince Victor, that his signals of distress to the Governor Blackall (s.) were passed by unnoticed, Captain A. T. Edwards, of the latter vessel, writes as follows:—"At 7 a.m. on the 24th September, whilst running out a heavy gale, we sighted a vessel three points on our port quarter, N.W. by N., distant five or six miles. As the gale blew fitfully and hard, it was only between the squalls the vessel could be seen, and then indistinctly. At 1 p.m. the gale having abated a little, we stood toward the vessel on the port tack, and although a close watch was kept by several glasses, no signal of distress, or anything resembling one, was observed by anyone on board the Governor Blackall; in fact, the vessel appeared to us to be making equally good weather of it as ourselves, being hove to under her mizen, and had she shown distress signals should have remained by her until morning, having expressed my determination to passengers and officers to that effect. At 7.30 p.m. certainly a blue light was shown from the Prince Victor, but a blue light is often used as a mere matter of courtesy along our coast. I determined, after consulting with an experienced steamship master on board, to stand on my course for Newcastle. My steamer was short of coal, and my intention was to reach Newcastle if I could, but, the weather moderating as we proceeded, I kept on my way to Sydney, which port I reached, after a trying voyage, just 112 hours from Brisbane. To my many intimate friends and acquaintances I need not explain this matter, for I am sure they all credit me with ordinary manhood and humanity; but there are many of your readers who do not go down to the sea in ships, to whom Captain Brown's statement, uncontradicted, may seem a charge of inhumanity and cowardice against myself and my ship's crew. To them I say, that had I seen the ensign flying union down, or any other distress signal, I would have stood by and succoured the Prince Victor as long as the Governor Blackall would float, and so would any other true seaman. In conclusion, I assure Captain Brown and your readers that I never have, and never will, pass signals of distress without relieving them."

Messrs. G. R. Stevens and Co. have received a cablegram from their Hongkong firm stating that the Hungarian (s.) will leave Hongkong for Singapore, Java ports, Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney, on the 10th of October.

The name of the Albion (s.) was sent to us on Thursday as having arrived at Auckland on Wednesday, and was to leave for Sydney yesterday. It should have been the Hero.

The Chimborazo (s.) left Hobson's Bay at 4.20 p.m. yesterday for Sydney.

The King Cedric, ship, will be towed to Johnson's Bay to-day.

Mercantile Mutual Insurance were dearer; Nymagee Copper and Band and Albion gold weaker; otherwise there was no perceptible alteration in stocks, which now seem to be tolerably steady in all the leading dividend-paying companies. In Banks, New South Wales were sold at 62, and offered at the same, buyer 61½; Joint Stock had buyer at 17½, seller 17¾; City, buyer 13¾, seller 13⅞; Commercial, buyer 11¼, seller 11½; Mercantile, buyer 6¼, seller 6½; New Zealand, seller 25½—on New Zealand register, buyer 24¾, seller 24¾; Oriental, buyer 25, seller 26½; Queensland National, buyer 9¼, seller 9½; Union, buyer 63, seller 65. In Steam, business was done in Australasian at 20; Clarence and Richmond sold at 7, and held for 7¼—preferent stock, buyer 13½, seller 14; Hunter River quitted at 11⅝, buyer same, seller 12; Port Jackson sold at 52s. 6d., buyer 50s., seller 52s. 6d.; Newcastle, buyer 23s., seller 23s. 9d.; Illawarra, buyer 7¼, seller 7½. In Insurance, the only business reported was in United at 65s., buyer 64s. 6d., seller, 65s. 6d.; Australian Mutual had buyer at 9s. 3d., seller 9s. 9d.; City Mutual, buyer 11d., seller 1s. 3d.; General, buyer 100s.; Industrial Mutual, buyer 10s. 9d., seller 12s.; Mercantile Mutual, buyer 1s. 4d., seller 1s. 7d.; Pacific, buyer 80s., seller 81s. 6d.; Sydney Marine, buyer 47s., seller 48s. Australian Gaslight had seller at 15½—new shares, buyer 12¾, seller 13¼. Pyrmont Bridge, buyer 8¼, seller 9½. Sydney Exchange, buyer 11¼, seller 11¾. Shale and Oil, buyer 13s. 9d., seller 14s. 6d. In Coal, Bulli had buyer at 11½, seller 12; Wallsend, buyer 17½, seller 17¾; Waratah, buyer 6¼, seller 6½; Vale of Clwydd, buyer 24s., seller 25s. Great Cobar Copper had buyer at 76s. 9d., seller 77s. 6d.; Nymagee, buyer 19s. 6d., seller 20s. Wesley Tin, buyer 22s., seller 22s. 9d. In Gold, Krohmann's had buyer at 1s. 6d., seller 2s. 6d.; Star of Peace, buyer 1s. 11d., seller 3s.; Band and Albion Consols had buyer at 9¼, seller 9½. N. S. W. Funded Stock had buyer at 100; debentures (20 years'), buyer 116¼, due 1895, seller 116. Balmoral Gold (Milburn Creek), 10s. paid up, were sold at 25s.

Business in the Import markets has not yet improved to the extent anticipated, although distributing houses report a very fair trade. With a propitious season coming on, there is little doubt more activity will soon prevail in commercial circles, and as stocks lighten importers look for better prices. At any rate, at present an unusually large quantity of goods is going into store, pending some advance on rates, which on many lines only leave a loss. In breadstuffs there is a firmer tone, though no actual change in quotations can be made. Town brands of Adelaide are selling at from £13 5s. to £13 15s.; country brands, from £12 10s. to £13; Victorian, £12 to £12 10s., and New South Wales, from £13 to £13 10s.; and a fair trade is doing. Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, at auction to-day, disposed of a catalogue of wheat at 5s. 9d. to 5s. 10½d.; 1500 bags offered were withdrawn for higher figures. Nothing special characterises the tea trade, which is still quiet, sales being made chiefly for the requirements of the day. Coffee is moving off in grocers' lots at 9½d. for No. 1 plantation, the market being very steady. Chicory weak at 5½d. Cocoa also exhibits an easier tone, Taylor's having been sold at 1s. 3½d., and Epps' at 1s. 5½d. The market is extremely bare of medium quality sugars: all Queensland and colonial lots coming forward are readily taken up at prices favourable to the growers, and fully up to auction rates. The Sugar Company, however, retaining its tariff, checks any marked advance in outside lines. The latest Mauritius advices report a good crop, and sugars coming to hand for shipment for this and other Australian markets. In rice but little change can be noted: £21 10s. to £22 is full value for fine table descriptions, while common sorts, of which there is considerable variety in the market, are selling at from £16 to £17. Pepper is without change in value. Fish is meeting with a fair amount of attention; tinned salmon commands 7s. 9d., at which there has been business; sardines have had sale at 4s. 9d. to 5s. for quarters, halves 9s. 1½d.; salt salmon scarce, worth 4½d. Oysters are in good supply, and Kenett selling at 6s. 3d. Salt continues to be neglected, and is only placed in large lines with difficulty at the reduced rates lately quoted—70s. being value from ship, for both coarse and rock. Dried fruit has been easier during the past few days, and 5d. to 5½d. is full value of currants; elemes, 7½d. to 7¾d. Extreme rates are being asked for American dried peaches and apricots. D. R. J. candles are selling at 7½d. Oilmen's stores generally are in full stock, and no change of any note can be made in late quotations, prices generally ruling in buyers' favour; sales of no considerable lines coming under our notice. In liquors a steady sale is reported of the leading brands of bottled beer. Hennessy's case brandy, single star, is selling freely at 35s., in small lots, and 48s. is value for three star; bulk selling at 12s. 6d.; a small line of Robin's sold at 8s. Holders of Lowndes' rum are asking 4s. 4½d. for hogsheads and quarters, three to one. Geneva, full sizes, low strength, selling at 12s. to 12s. 3d. Brewers' goods are without change in value; except that good samples of malt are in better request, up to 8s. 9d. In metals there is more disposition to buy with the stronger markets in England, but as stocks and shipments in almost all lines are beyond the average, importers do not readily get the advanced rates for which some are holding. Stork brand galvanized iron was sold at £13 10s., and quotations generally may be given at from £13 to £15 10s.; fencing wire likewise is firmer, and quoted at £14 15s. to £15 for No. 8, and £16 to £16 5s. for No. 10 of leading brands. With sheet lead the market is plentifully supplied, and £18 10s. is full value for parcels. Wire nails are in heavy stock, and do not readily respond to the rise of £1 per ton advised in England. Tin plates moving only slowly at 18s. 6d. for I. C. Coke, and 24s. for charcoal. The cement market is still very depressed, owing to continued heavy shipments, and K. B. S. is offering as low as 16s. 6d. Jute goods have only a moderate sale. Woolpacks, 11¼lb., selling at 8s. 2d. There was a very good supply of forage at the Darling Harbour produce sales this morning, for which the following prices were obtained:—For oaten hay, in bales, 5s. 3d.; in bundles, from 4s. 7d. to 5s. 5d.; in truss, from 3s. 6d. to 4s. 10d.; wheaten and oaten hay, in bales, 4s. 10d.; wheaten hay, in bundles, 3s. 7d.; lucerne hay, in bales, from 2s. 10d to 3s. 1d.; in truss, from 3s. to 3s. 4d.; oaten chaff, in bales, from 3s. 8d. to 4s. 8d.; mixed chaff, 3s. 6d. to 3s. 8d.; straw chaff, 3s. to 3s. 2d.; oaten sheaves, 3s. 10d.; rye straw, 4s. 3d.; potatoes, 2s. to 3s. 3d. On the wharfs prime old hay is selling at £3; the market is glutted with inferior quality, for which there is no sale. Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe offered several lots of lucerne hay at auction on account of the Hunter River Farmers' Association, but disposed of only a few at from 46s. 6d. to 60s. per ton; for the greater portion there was no buyers. In Sussex-street the quotations for produce were—Maize, 2s. 11d. and 3s. per bushel; bran, 1s. 3d.; pollard, 1s. 2d.; chaff, from £4 15s. to £5 per ton; potatoes—New Zealand, from £2 to £2 10s.; Circular Heads, £3 15s. to £4; onions, £19 to £20 per ton; barley (Cape), 2s. 9d.; seed oats, 2s. 9d. to 3s.; feed, 2s. 10d. to 3s. per bushel; butter, 1s. per lb., in good demand; bacon, from 4d. to 6d.; cheese, 6d. to 8d., scarce, in good demand; eggs, 7d. to 9d. per dozen; fowls, 3s. 6d. to 4s. per pair; ducks, from 4s. 6d. to 5s.; geese, 6s. 6d. to 7s. 6d.; turkey hens, from 5s. to 8s.; turkey cocks, from 8s. to 14s.; millet brooms, from 7s. 6d. to 9s. per dozen.

Messrs. Mort and Co., J. Bridge, F. L. Barker, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Brunker and Wolfe, Maiden, Hill, and Clark held their weekly sales of produce today at their respective warehouses. The decline in the English market had the effect of reducing values considerably, and best mutton fell to £31 to £32; beef to £28 10s. to £31; station, £26 to £27 10s. Hides were slightly firmer, and extra heavy realized to 4⅜d.; station to 5¼d.

The King Cedric arrived to-day from Newport with a cargo of railway iron.

The R.M.S. Hydaspes left to-day for Southampton and Galle, via Melbourne and Adelaide, with 2575 cakes 2183 ingots copper, 2 casks leaf tobacco, 2 dogs, 4 packages boots, 1 bale drapery, 4 packages sundries, and 2 boxes sovereigns (valued at £10,000), shipped by the Commercial Bank.

From yesterday's Government Gazette we take the following general abstract, showing the average amount of the liabilities and assets of the City Bank, within the colony of New South Wales, taken from the several weekly statements during the quarter from the 1st July to the 30th September, 1881:—

BACHELORS' HALL COMPANY, LIMITED, CHURCH-HILL, SYDNEY

To be incorporated under the Companies' Act, with liability to the amount of the shares, and as much again in liquidation only. (The same as the banks and other mercantile companies).

Capital, £21,000, in 4200 shares of £5 each.

Provisional Directors:

G. A. MURRAY, Esq. (late P. N. Russell and Co.)
F. T. HUMPHREY, Esq. (Ashfield)
ALFRED HILDER, Esq. (W. Wolfen and Co.)
WILLIAM CLARKE, Esq., M.L.A. (John Wilson and Co., York-street).

Bankers:
The Commercial Bank.

Solicitors:
Messrs. STEPHEN, LAURENCE, and JAQUES.

Architect:
THOMAS ROWE, Esq.

Broker:
Mr. JOSIAH MULLENS, 34, Hunter-street, Sydney.

The Company is formed for the purpose of providing a First-class Residence for single gentlemen living in Sydney, and for visitors to the city, which will combine the comforts of a Home and the luxuries of a club, with an amount of freedom not usually to be obtained in lodgings, and at a cost much lower than board at an hotel.

An eligible site in the centre of the city, of ample dimensions for the purpose, has been secured in the vacant ground at the top of Jamison-street, near the Scots Church.

The land is held on a lease of thirty years at a ground rent of £330 per annum, with option of purchase by the Company at any time for the sum of £6000.

The leading feature of the scheme is the assumption that the most profitable part of the business of hotels is the letting of the beds. The Hall will find breakfast only to residents, leaving them to avail themselves of the convenience provided by other numerous establishments for the remainder of the day. Full meals will be provided on Sundays only, and the whole of the catering will be let by contract.

Details are fully explained in another circular, which may be obtained on application to the Broker, Mr. MULLENS, 34 Hunter-street.

Establishments of this kind are very successful in England and the United States, and there is no reason to suppose that the comforts provided in the Hall will not be equally appreciated here.

The financial results are estimated as follows:—

The hall will have 138 bedrooms, with 150 beds to let, with capacity of increase to 180, and it is taken for granted that out of this number 130 will be in constant occupation.

The receipts from these, at an average of 12s 6d per week ...	4,225	0	0
Rent of billiard-room, dining-room, and other sources ...	800	0	0

The expenditure is fully estimated as under:—

Management and servants ...	1,000	0	0
Ground rent, gas, and rates ...	630	0	0
Repairs, replacement, printing, advertising, and contingencies ...	658	0	0
Sinking fund for purchase of the freehold in thirty years...	87	0	0

This will pay a dividend of 12½ per cent. per annum on the full capital of £21,000.

The Architect—Mr. Rowe—has very carefully estimated the cost of the building, and he pledges his reputation that the whole will be finished and furnished complete for occupation within the limits of the capital. His detailed report will be found in the circular referred to above. The whole building will be so arranged and erected that it can be turned at a very small cost into a first-class modern hotel.

The promoters have been at considerable expense in securing the site of the hall and in organizing the scheme, and they are so confident of its success that they accept for their claim 400 shares paid up in full. The only charge on the subscribed capital will be the broker's commission, and the other usual charges incurred in forming the Company.

As the Provisional Directors are advised that 6 per cent. debentures will be readily taken up on such a security as that offered herein, the Company will be considered to be floated as soon as 2000 shares are applied for.

The financial result of such an issue of debentures, on a subscription of 2000 shares of £5 each, would be as follows:—

CAPITAL BEARING DIVIDEND.

Promoters' shares 400 at £5 ...	2,000	0	0
Subscribers' shares, 2000 at £5 ...	10,000	0	0
Debenture capital, bearing a fixed interest of 6 per cent. ...				9,000	0	0
				£21,000	0	0
Less interest on debentures, 6 per cent. on £9000 ...	540	0	0
Profit available for dividend ...				£2,110	0	0
Dividend on £12,000, at 17½ per cent. per annum ...				£2,100	0	0

Mr. Rowe estimates the cost of the hall furnished at £17,000. In the event of the contracts bearing this out, the capital will only be called up to the extent required.

The shares will be allotted in the order of application, and the Provisional Directors reserve to themselves the right to close the list at any time after the 2000 shares are applied for.

Application must be made to Mr. J. MULLENS, 34, Hunter-street, on the annexed form, and accompanied by a payment of deposit of £1 per share. The sum of £2 per share is payable on allotment, and the balance of £2 per share as may be required, in calls of 10s. per share, at intervals of not less than one month.

SUPPLEMENTARY SUMMARY OF NEWS FOR INDIA AND EUROPE.

A supplementary summary, for transmission to India and Europe per P. and O. steamer Hydaspes, will be given in the Herald of Monday, the 10th instant.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1881.

In the Legislative Assembly yesterday,

Ministers replied to questions respecting the want of a direct road from Merriwa West to Boggabilla, the water reserve near the main road to Taloona from Merriwa, the Supreme Court rules, the unsold allotments in the town of Walgett, the want of a recreation ground at Walgett, the alleged custom of leg-ironing prisoners in Coonamble gaol, the men employed in Darling Harbour, the immigrants per the Nineveh, the want of a directory-sheet of the Government offices in Sydney, the sanatarium at Little Bay, and the case of Mrs. Bardwell.

Mr. J. P. Abbott corrected a statement attributed to him in the press concerning the price of colonial wine, and Mr. W. Forster denied the accuracy of portions of the Hansard reports of two of his speeches.

Sir Henry Parkes laid on the table a further return in the case of Mrs. Bardwell, and it was ordered that it be printed.

Mr. Buchanan moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of denouncing the practice which he said prevailed in the Coonamble gaol of placing leg-irons on prisoners, including those who were under committal for trial. He urged that the Government should at once request the gaoler, by telegram, to discontinue the practice.

Mr. Wisdom thought that before any decision was arrived at the explanation of the gaoler should be heard, as he was inclined to think there was exaggeration somewhere. The gaoler had been telegraphed to respecting the questions put on the paper by Mr. Buchanan, and had replied that his report was coming by post.

After remarks from Mr. W. Forster, Mr. W. J. Foster, Mr. J. P. Abbott, and Mr. R. B. Smith on the same subject,

Mr. Fergusson contended that the Government should introduce a new Mining Bill.

Mr. Buchanan then replied, and the motion for the adjournment was put and negatived.

Mr. R. B. Smith presented a petition from residents of the Macleay, praying for the drainage of lands in that locality.

The House then went into committee to consider a proposed address to the Governor, praying that his Excellency would be pleased to cause a sum not exceeding £2000 to be placed on the Estimates for 1881 to compensate Mr. Austin Forrest Wilshire for losses sustained by him as set forth in his petition to the House of the 18th May, 1880.

Mr. Farnell moved that the address be adopted, and explained that Mr. Wilshire carried on a large and lucrative business as a tanner in Sydney till the year 1850, when the Legislative Council of that time unexpectedly included tanneries in the provisions of a bill which was then before it for the removal of slaughtering houses from the city within 10 years. Mr. Lowe was to have moved the exemption of tanneries, but was not in time to do so. Mr. Wilshire's business fell off, owing to the establishment of other tanneries beyond the city, and he was compelled at last to sell his premises, which were only fit for a coalyard, at a price which did not pay off a mortgage.

Sir Henry Parkes said he had himself felt that Mr. Wilshire was injured by the Act of 1850, which was originally intended for slaughtering houses only. The bill was amended without notice, so that Mr. Wilson did not have an opportunity of opposing the amendment. Mr. Wilshire expended large sums in adapting his premises to his business, and his expenditure was of a nature to injure the property for any other business, and he, beyond doubt, suffered loss. Mr. Wilshire had been unremitting in his endeavours to obtain redress, and, under the circumstances, the motion might be agreed to.

A debate ensued, in which Mr. Poole, Mr. Garvan, Mr. Garrard, Mr. Roseby, Mr. Garrett, Mr. Burns, Mr. Kidd, Mr. Day, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Fullford, Mr. Vaughan, Mr. Copeland, Mr. W. Forster, and Mr. Stuart took part.

The House divided and the result was—Ayes, 17; noes, 17. The Chairman gave his casting vote with the ayes, and the address was accordingly passed and reported to the House.

Mr. Roseby moved,—"That the order of the day for the appointment of a select committee to inquire into and report on the management of the Public school in Crown-street be discharged." He said the parties concerned had been dealt with in a manner that commended itself to his judgment, and he therefore thought the inquiry was not necessary.

Mr. Melville censured Mr. Roseby for frequently postponing the motion, and then consenting to its discharge, which would necessitate another motion of a similar kind being proposed by another member.

Mr. Copeland opposed the discharge of the order.

Mr. W. Forster believed there was a necessity for a more extended inquiry than was contemplated by the motion. He had been informed that their competitive examinations were farcical, as appointments were controlled by political influence, and it had been admitted that the appointment of Mrs. Bardwell had been made irregularly.

The motion was carried on division by 26 to 12.

Mr. Terry moved the second reading of the Dower Abolition Bill, which, he said, was framed on the model of the Victorian Act. All existing rights were preserved in the bill, which would not in any way prejudice the interest of any widow in the estate of her husband in terms of the Real Estate of Intestates Distribution Act, nor the right of any widow or married woman contingently entitled to dower, provided that notice thereof be given to the Registrar-General within two years. The claim for dower was only a myth, and yet notice of it in connection with titles was embarrassing, and it should, in the opinion of professional gentlemen as well as of others, be abolished.

Mr. R. B. Smith moved the adjournment of the debate, which was negatived on division by 28 to 10. The second reading was then agreed to without division, and the bill was passed through committee with verbal amendments.

The Presbyterian Church Property Management Bill and the Rogers' Estate Bill were respectively read a second time, and passed through committee without amendment.

Leave was given to Mr. Farnell to introduce the Grape Vines and Grapes Importation Prevention Bill, and the bill was brought up and read a first time.

The House adjourned at 27 minutes past 9 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday next.

Although the Irish Land Bill has become law agrarian outrages in Ireland still continue. Instead of decreasing, the outrages seem to be on the increase. A day or two ago it was reported that a farmer was murdered because he persisted in paying rent to his landlord. A labourer who supplied a farmer who had been boycotted had been himself boycotted. The boycotted farmer also was made the victim of a murderous assault, and was left mortally wounded. Not many days ago it was reported that riots had occurred in Leitrim, King's County, and Tipperary. It is stated that in the last-named county a barrel of gunpowder was placed against the house of a landlord, and that the premises had been partially wrecked. A few days before, we were informed that while a sheriff was performing his duties at Mullingar, the people assembled in large numbers to oppose him, the result being that the police interfered, and that sixty of the rioters were arrested and imprisoned. Events of this character, which some time ago had almost disappeared, are again becoming the order of the day. It does not seem that the area of the excitement is very large, or that there is imminent danger of its being increased. There can be no question that the passing of the Land Bill has had a tranquillising effect. A few weeks ago it was stated that the more hopeful prospect which the bill had created had caused the income of the League to fall off, and its leading spirits to look around for a new grievance. They have not had to go far to find one. It has been argued by the Home Rulers that the passing of the Land Bill ought to be signalized by the release of the suspects. Of these something like two hundred have been imprisoned. No less than one hundred and thirteen, or more than one-half of them, were arrested for terroring offences—that is to say, not so much for breaking the law themselves as for inciting the people to break it. The Irish bishops and others have been pointing out to the Imperial Government that since they have passed their bill, the best thing they can do for Ireland, so far as suspects are concerned, is to proclaim a general amnesty. The Imperial Government think otherwise. The question which they appear to have put to themselves is, What would be the effect of a general amnesty on the country? Would it tend to restore order or to provoke further agitation and misrule? The conclusion to which they have arrived is, that it would do the latter; and there can be little doubt that there is good ground for the conclusion. After the events of the last few months any Government that exists in England will be held responsible for keeping Ireland in order. While the Irish complained of an admitted grievance, and of one for which no remedy was provided, there was good reason for the leniency which, notwithstanding the charges of cruelty which have been so freely hurled against Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Forster, has been the most remarkable feature in the Irish administration of the last eighteen months. But the ground for leniency can hardly be said to exist any longer. A whole session has been devoted to the remedying of Irish grievances, and since this has been done, it will be necessary to show that, if England can be generous, she can also be firm. There is abundant evidence that the leading spirits of the League do not intend to accept the Irish Land Bill as a settlement of Irish disputes. Instead of regarding the passing of the bill as a matter for congratulation, they look upon it as an occasion for alarm. Their contention is not that the bill is not a good one. It is little matter to them whether it be good or bad. The better the bill the worse is it for their cause. It is on this account that the passing of the bill has been treated as a call to fresh exertion in the way of a new crusade against landlordism. Mr. Healy, who is a member of the House of Commons, and the most active spirit in connection with the Land League, has already devised a machinery by which the provisions of the Land Bill may be overridden. The Land Court, according to Mr. Healy, may say what it pleases, but the League will have a voice in the matter as well as the Land Court, and the League will stand the better chance of being heard. "If the League declared what was a fair rent, and if the League declared that only a fair rent should be paid the League gave him a remedy. If the landlord evicted him, no man would take the land." The mere improvement of the landlordism of Ireland is not enough for the advance party in that country. What they desire is to dispense with landlordism. By them the landlord is hated also, not only because he is the owner of the soil, but because he is associated with the oppressive Saxon yoke. What Ireland wants, as Sir Gavan Duffy intimated pretty plainly in a communication we published a few days ago, is not so much fair rent as self-government. "The colonies governed themselves, and they are content. This was the price of the peace in the colonies, it is the price of peace in Ireland, and it cannot be had a fraction cheaper." This is Sir Gavan Duffy's view of the Irish situation, and no one understands the situation better.

The boot manufacturers of Melbourne have made an investigation into the state of their trade, and have arrived at the conclusion that something further is wanted to put it in a satisfactory position. With the assistance of protection they have secured the home market, but now they want a greater market outside the colony. They have tried to get it, but their travellers report to them that there is very great difficulty in placing their goods on the neighbouring markets, principally through the competition of Sydney with their own manufactures, and European imported goods sold sufficiently low to secure the custom. The trade committee, whose report brings out these facts, further state that "it must be remembered that Sydney has always had a steady export of her own manufacture, and that her manufacturers are giving inducements to our best work people to remove there." The reason given why the free-trade colony beats the protectionist colony in the matter of cheap manufacture, is that in Victoria there is an import duty of 7½, and 10, and 20 per cent. duty on leather, which is the raw material of the bootmakers' trade, while in Sydney there is no such duty. The bootmakers, therefore, have arrived very clearly at the conclusion that if the duty on leather were abolished they would be able to compete with Sydney in the colonial markets. The curriers entertain some objections to this proposal, and say, "We have as much right to protection as you have." To this the bootmakers reply, "No, you have not;" and they justify this apparent unfairness by adding, "You do not make any more leather now than you did when you were not protected, and therefore you have not benefited the public by the monopoly that has been given to you, and moreover you cannot produce the calf and kid skins which we require for the better class of goods." This controversy between the two trades shows that it is much easier to protect selected trades than to give equal protection all round. What is the raw material for one tradesman is the finished article of another, and whilst everyone wants to have his raw material as cheap as possible, he wants to have his product protected, that is made as dear as possible. For if it is not made dearer, protection is not of much use to him. The object of protection is to increase the manufacturer's profit, and so support and stimulate his operations. That may be done either by diminishing his cost of production, or enhancing the price of his product. It cannot do the former, and therefore it fails if it does not do the latter. But if it does the latter, it hampers the manufacturer in competing in outside markets.

The Melbourne bootmakers say that some of their best workmen are being decoyed away to Sydney. If this is so, it must either be because more men have been brought up to the trade than there is room for, or else because the workmen find themselves better off on the whole in Sydney than in Melbourne. But whatever the cause, the migration of the workmen is no impeachment of the free-trade policy of New South Wales. The men know their own interest best, and their actions are a practical argument from which there is no appeal.

Our London correspondent, referring to the way in which the Conservative party in the House of Lords yielded on the Irish question, remarks that had the Earl of Beaconsfield been alive the party would have been differently led, the Government would have been enticed or forced into a resignation, and then the new Government would have bid for the support of the Radicals and the Irish party by submitting a still more slashing measure than that of Mr. Gladstone, and proposing at once the forced sales of estates, and the immediate creation of a peasant proprietary. The past career of the late Earl makes such speculations natural. The man who had "dished the Whigs" once was capable of doing it again. He was a great party general, and he looked at political questions from that point of view. He was equal to the task of championing and fashioning any cause in any way that would consolidate the party, give it a triumph, make it popular, and identify it with a policy. But those who wish to see the country advance steadily along the path of progress, undoing the old entanglements of evil, and straightening out the road in advance, do not wish to see politics made the sport of clever manipulators, who look upon legislation primarily as a means of serving a party, and secondarily as a means of serving the country. The best and safest reforms are those which, while sufficient, are gradual—which enable us to try new ground with the least degree of dangerous experiment, and which are made more in the growing light of widening knowledge than in the brilliant coruscations of a flashing genius. The tactics of the Liberal party in England have always been those of progressive reform — continually advancing, but always doing so with the least possible disturbance of existing interests. Mr. Gladstone's Irish Land Bill is no doubt a somewhat violent measure. It would have been better if it could have been less so, but circumstances for which he was not responsible created an emergency which he could not control, and he came to the conclusion that less than he proposed would not be sufficient for the crisis. It was not from any love of violent courses that he submitted so drastic a measure. His previous Land Bill testified sufficiently that he was not anxious to go too far at once, and it was the failure and insufficiency of that measure that led to the framing of a severer one. It is exceedingly probable that his last bill will lead by natural causes to a multiplication of freehold peasant proprietors in Ireland. The charm of landlordism there has gone. It is neither pleasant nor profitable. It brings neither political power nor social enjoyment. It is a bad commercial speculation, and its rights have become practically those of an annuitant varied by law-suits and pot-shots. If peace could be restored, and land become salable at a fair value, many landlords would be glad to get quit of their properties, and find a more desirable investment elsewhere. The principal obstacle in the way of such a result is the Land League, but if it should become less powerful for mischief than it is at present, Mr. Gladstone's bill will probably operate effectively in multiplying the number of freehold farms.

Mr. E. Joseph takes exception to our remarks in Monday's issue on the exorbitant interest obtained by pawnbrokers in Sydney for their loans on articles pledged, and endeavours to show that the London pawnbrokers by indirect process extort a very usurious rate. Even were this the case, it is really no justification of the practice of charging 100 per cent. here, which is not denied by our correspondent. Mr. Joseph asserts that the London pawnbroker may charge any rate of interest he pleases. The fact that such is the case, both in Sydney and London, is to be deplored, and clearly proves that the Act under which pawnbroking is regulated is defective, because by its silence on the matter of interest it legalises usury by one class of money lenders, while other branches of the money-lending business are limited to a given rate of interest by legal enactment. The rule in London is to charge for the ticket one half-penny for amounts up to 10s., and one penny may be demanded for loans beyond that amount. For the exact sum of 2s. the addition of the charge for the ticket brings the interest up to 50 per cent. for one month; if, however, the loan is above either of the sums named, the interest decreases, because the price of the ticket remains the same whether for 2s. or any sum between that and 10s. This 50 per cent. or less is the rate for pledges redeemed at the end of a month, but where the loan extends beyond that period, the interest is, as we have already stated, 25 per cent. Special arrangements may be made for higher loans on pledges, say of £10, but with all-sufficient security for that amount it is only reasonable to suppose that the lender would be satisfied with a lower rate of interest than that charged on 10s. It is a rule with money lenders that the larger a well-secured loan is, the less the borrower has to pay for it. The pawnbroker is well secured, and if, as is very rarely the case, he makes the mistake of lending more on a pledged article than its principal and interest value, he can well afford to recoup the loss from the 100 or even 25 per cent. paid by his other customers.

The controversy between the champions of the rival fiscal policies, which is in a chronically smouldering state in a neighbouring colony, was a short while ago fanned into a flame by an article in the Quarterly Review, attributed to the pen of Mr. Baden Powell, and which served as a new battle ground. One of the arguments most commonly advanced by the Protectionists of the sister colony is contained in a reference to the prosperity of America under a system of prohibitive tariffs. But American prosperity is not due to protection, as the country possesses a sufficient residuum of the materials of prosperity to bear up against a costly system. But the weak point in citing the case of America as an argument in favour of protection in Victoria is that there is no resemblance whatever between the positions of the two communities. America is a rich country which can afford to pay for the waste of protection, and it is a vast country, having free trade everywhere within its own borders. The States composing the Union form one immense nation, and surely the most extreme Radical would hardly maintain, in the face of existing facts, that the borrowed light reflected upon Victoria by the glory of nearly four years under Radical rule has elevated her into an individual nation. Perfect freedom of exchange exists between the States which form the Union, and the relationship of Victoria to any one of the other Australian colonies is identical with that which Virginia bears to North Carolina or Maine to Pennsylvania, and not with that which the United States in their collective character bear to other nations. The tendency at the present time throughout the British Empire is certainly towards consolidation. Whether it is the federation of the Australian colonies with one another, or the union of all the colonies of Great Britain into one vast Empire, that we have to consider, the most powerful moving agent, as we were lately told by a high authority who had the opportunity of studying the process whereby Germany became a nation, will be found in the principle of freedom of exchange among ourselves, and the broad and liberal spirit of forbearance and superiority to local prejudice which such freedom engenders.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mr. Buchanan moved the adjournment of the House last night in the Legislative Assembly, to call attention to the treatment of prisoners awaiting trial in the Coonamble gaol, and some discussion ensued. A proposal to ask the Government to put £2000 on the Estimates, for compensation to Mr. A. F. Wilshire for losses sustained by him in being compelled by Act of Parliament to remove his tannery beyond the city boundaries, was agreed to by the casting vote of the Chairman. Mr. Roseby's motion for the appointment of a select committee to inquire into the management of the Crown-street Public school was down for further consideration, but was withdrawn. The Dower Abolition Bill, the Presbyterian Church Property Management Bill, and the Rogers Estate Bill, were all read the second time and taken through Committee of the Whole. Mr. Farnell brought up a bill, which was read the first time, to prohibit the importation into the colony of grape vines, grape vine cuttings, and grapes.

It appears from a return laid before Parliament, on the motion of Mr. Brodribb, that the following amounts have been spent in the Wentworth electorate from 1861 up to the end of 1880:—On the Murray and Darling Rivers, for survey, snagging, wharfs, &c., £97,185 10s. 1d.; roads and bridges, £5794 5s. 8d.; electric telegraphs, £32,825; public buildings, &c., £25,762.

The letter of our Berlin correspondent, which appears in another column, contains some interesting particulars of the position of affairs in connection with the dispute between Bismarck and the Vatican, and the probability of its settlement. The attitude of the different parties towards each other pending the coming general election is pointed out, and also the effect of the recent elections in France on the German mind. Our correspondent comments unfavourably on the Jewish element in the German population.

The recent elections in France, the result of which reached us at the time by telegram, form the subject of our Paris correspondent's letter in another part of to-day's issue.

Mr. Donald Manson has forwarded to us a facsimile of the letter of condolence that has been forwarded by the American citizens and people of New South Wales to Mrs. James A. Garfield. It is surmounted by the armorial bearings of England, America, and Australia, in mourning, and appropriately displayed. Its wording is as follows:—"To Mrs. James A. Garfield, Washington, D.C.—Dear Madam,—At a meeting held Monday, September 26, 1881, in the Chamber of Commerce, Sydney, New South Wales, Australia, the following resolution of condolence was passed and ordered to be forwarded to you, through the United States consul. J. H. Williams, chairman. Committee: J. G. Barron, W. J. Moxham, T. H. Boyd, Dr. Slate, Donald Manson.—This meeting having learned with horror of the deplorable crime which has caused the death of General James A. Garfield, and being desirous of recording their feelings of sorrow for the death of the late President of the United States, and sympathy with the bereaved widow and family of the deceased General, therefore be it resolved that the following letter of condolence from the American citizens and people of New South Wales be forwarded to his grief-stricken widow and family by the outgoing Californian mail:—'Resolved that the American citizens and people of New South Wales, having learned with profound sorrow of the death of General James A. Garfield, late President of the United States, take this opportunity to convey to his widow and family their deepest expressions of sympathy and condolence in this the hour of their sad affliction, and pray that God, who is the husband of the widow and the father of the fatherless, will comfort them and heal their grief. The feelings of horror at the crime, and sorrow for General Garfield's demise, are universally expressed by all classes in this British community.'" (Cheers.)

A number of the leading citizens having expressed the desire that this colony should take its part in subscribing towards relieving the distress in the Orkney Islands consequent on the loss of life and property by the recent disaster to their fishing fleets, the distressing accounts of which have been published, the council of the Highland Society of this city have been requested to take the initiatory steps in opening a relief fund. At its meeting yesterday this council decided to call a public meeting at an early date, issue subscription lists, and invite the co-operation of the best musical ability in the community to organize a concert in aid of the fund.

The Melbourne University Council have proposed a regulation transferring the University examinations from single examiners, by whom they have hitherto been conducted, to boards of examiners consisting of three members.

The ship King Cerdic arrived yesterday from Newport, Monmouthshire, with a cargo of steel rails (numbering 7544) for the Government of New South Wales.

In a note in the Sydney Mail the question of the date of the probable turning on of the water from the Nepean is considered, and it is pointed out that though the contract time is 1883, the quickest progress yet made in tunnelling in the shafts by the contractors who have been at work for nearly three months, only admits of hope of piercing the distance of 4741 feet, between two of the shafts which have not yet been sunk, in three years and a-half. Unless machinery can be got to work more quickly at the headings, or unless it be resolved to sink more shafts than is proposed, there is good reason to doubt whether the waters of the Nepean and Cordeaux will be flowing through the city taps before March, 1885.

The council of the Health Society of New South Wales held their usual monthly meeting on Wednesday last. After the usual formal business the committee appointed to determine the merits of the essays sent in for competition for the prizes offered by the council on the subject of uncleanliness in relation to health, reported that they recommended the award of prizes as follows, viz.:—To pupil teachers: First prize, £5, to Donald Gillespie, Public school, Inverell; second prize, £3, to Charles Taylor, Public school, Petersham; third prize, £2, to W. Cary Taylor, Public school, William-street, Sydney. Scholars under 16 years: First prize, £3, to Edith Braine, Public school, Bega; second prize, £2, to Edward Luney, Public school, Dungog. Scholars under 15 years: First prize, £3, to Leslie Angwin Parker, Public school, Coonabarabran; second prize, £2, to Mary Jennings, Public school, Dungog. Scholars under 14 years: First prize, £3, to Frank Russell, Public school, Hunter's Hill; second prize, £2, to Isabella Thompson, Public school, Tindalee, Cootamundra. The council adopted the report of the committee, and awarded the prizes accordingly. The hon. secretary reported that he had ordered from Mr. George Robertson thirty-six copies of Nichol's Human Physiology, in order to the presenting a copy to the master or mistress of each of the schools from which competition had taken place; these would have to be obtained from England. The council requested the hon. secretary to report to the Under-Secretary for Public Instruction the award of prizes to the pupil teachers and scholars of the Public schools. They also desired him to ascertain the willingness of certain members to accept vacant places in the council, and to call a general meeting of members for an early day.

On Thursday last the committee of the Animals Protection Society held their monthly meeting at Spring-street, Mr. E. Fosbery presiding. Members present—Messrs. W. Beaumont, W. W. Stephen, J. H. H. Hunt, W. J. Weston, P. N. Trebeck, and J. Sidney (secretary). After the usual finance business, a letter was read from the Postmaster-General to the effect that horses becoming disabled through accident and unfit for further service should be destroyed instead of being sold. The secretary submitted the annual report, which was approved and adopted. On a motion moved by Mr. Hunt, relative to prize essays, it was agreed to again invite competition among the scholars of the Public and private schools of the colony.

A general meeting of the New South Wales branch of the British Medical Association was held at the rooms of the branch, Phillip-street, last evening, when Dr. Andrew Moffitt, the president, occupied the chair. The Secretary (Dr. Milford) narrated the history of a case of hydatid cyst, which he had successfully treated. It was stated that the disease was introduced into this colony from Victoria, and that hydatids were much more prevalent in New South Wales now than formerly. Dr. Belgrave read a lengthy paper on Hospital Management, and was accorded a vote of thanks for preparing it.

The annual meeting of the members of the Parramatta Volunteer Fire Brigade was held on Tuesday, at the engine station. There was a good attendance of members and after the ordinary business was concluded, the election of officers took place, resulting as follows:—Superintendent, Mr. L. Meaner; foreman, Mr. E. J. Love; assistant foreman, Mr. W. Carpenter; engine-keeper, Mr. W. Pratt; secretary, Mr. S. Crouch; treasurer, Mr. N. Tollis.

A meeting of the Dairyman's Protective Society was held at the Burrangong Hotel, on Wednesday evening last, Mr. Coward in the chair. There was a good attendance of members. After the usual routine business, it was unanimously agreed to hold the annual picnic at the Sir Joseph Banks pavilion, Botany, on Wednesday, November 16. A vote of thanks to the chairman brought the meeting to a close.

The attendance at the Great Synagogue on Sunday and Monday last—when the fast of Yom Kippur was in progress—was unusually large, and interest in the ceremonial extended among other classes of the community than that alone which professes the Hebrew faith. A very interesting account of the different services, including a report of the sermons preached by the Rev. A. B. Davis on the occasion, is published in this week's Sydney Mail.

On Thursday evening the Rev. Dr. Kelynack lectured in the Wesleyan Church, Waverley, on "The Life and Times of Martin Luther." Mr. E. Vickery presided. The rev. lecturer gave a description of the state of Europe prior to Luther's birth, and passed rapidly in review Luther's education, both mental and religious; the successive steps by which the errors of Romanism became revealed to him; the boldness and determination with which he opposed Tetzel and his indulgences; the many efforts he put forth to rouse Germany to sympathy with himself in his great work of resistance of the papacy; passing on at length to his appearance before the Diet at Worms, his imprisonment in the Wartburg, and his translation of the Word of God into the German tongue. After dwelling upon the nobleness of Luther's character and the greatness of his work, the lecturer proceeded to show that the struggle with Romanism to-day is essentially the same in character as that which roused the spirit and called forth the opposition of the "monk that shook the world," and urged his hearers to maintain unwaveringly their devotion to Protestantism. The freedom of the Bible, and the freedom of the human conscience to be guided by the Bible in matters of faith and practice, he affirmed to be the two great elements in the building up of full manhood and in the production of those virtues which constitute the highest type of citizenship. The church was well filled with an audience which frequently during the evening responded to the lecturer's views in hearty manifestations of approval. The object of the lecture was the reduction of a circuit debt, and after the lecture was closed a collection and subscriptions were taken up, amounting to £40. Votes of thanks were tendered to Dr. Kelynack and the chairman, and the meeting closed.

On Tuesday, the 4th instant, at St. Mary's, South Creek, the Rev. Thomas Kemmis, of St. Mark's, Sydney, gave one of his interesting and instructive entertainments in the Church of England Sunday-school, the title being "Readings Grave and Gay." The attendance was about the largest ever held in the school. The proceeds were devoted towards paying off the balance (some £20) due on the organ.

For the last week Mr. John Young's gardens and hot-houses, Kentville, North Annandale, have been thrown open to the public, and the permission the owner has so kindly given people generally to view his collection of primulas, cinerarias, and pansies, has been largely taken advantage of. The flowers are now in splendid bloom, and probably nowhere else in Australia is such an interesting show to be seen by those who take an interest in botany and floriculture. The beautiful gardens, conservatories, and hot-houses are still open to the public, and Sydney visitors can reach them by the steam ferry which leaves the Lime-street Wharf at thirty minutes past every hour.

A man named Blizzard was charged at the Water Police Court, yesterday, with having assisted a seaman of H.M.S. Carysfort to desert. The seaman's name is Charles Smith, and the evidence proved that he and the accused were acquainted with each other in Plymouth, and that he stopped at Blizzard's house, at Balmain, and left it to go to the Liverpool district. As he could not obtain employment in the country, he returned to his friend in whose house he remained several days hiding, as he was apprehensive of being arrested. The police, however, were on his tracks, and he had scarcely shown himself in public when they took him into custody. The Bench considered the charge proved against his friend, and fined him £20, with £5 11s. 2d. costs, or two months' imprisonment.

A butcher named John Martin, carrying on business in Kent-street, was severely fined at the Water Police Court yesterday, for having in his shop beef unfit for human food. Inspector Seymour and some other persons saw the meat and said it was rotten and swarmed with maggots, and a woman was present who stated that she purchased some of it. The Bench inflicted a fine of £20 on the man, with the alternative of three months' imprisonment.

Yesterday morning James M'Neil, a mason, residing at Rose Bay, fell from the upper story of a building which is in course of erection in Goulburn-street, and fractured his pelvis, besides receiving a wound on the left eye. M'Neil was conveyed to the Infirmary.

The second of the series of lectures on zoology which is being delivered by Mr. W. A. Haswell, M.A., B.Sc., under the auspices of the Linnean Society, in their room at the Garden Palace, was given yesterday afternoon, when the particular division of the science considered was "Main Types of Animal Life, or Styles of Animal Architecture." There was a moderately good attendance, but some of those who had obtained tickets failed to attend, so that the seats reserved for them remained vacant. Considering that a number of persons applied for tickets after all that it had been decided to issue had been granted to others, and were consequently unsuccessful in their applications, it is to be regretted that any seats whatever should have been unoccupied yesterday afternoon.

The body of a man was found on the beach at Sugarworks Bay, St. Leonards, by Mr. Andrew Stephens, of Chippen-street, Newtown, on Thursday. The following particulars have been supplied by the police to enable friends of the deceased to identify his body. The man is about 40 or 42 years of age, and about 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, medium build, small dark whiskers and moustache, dark complexion, dressed in a black cloth monkey jacket, English tweed trousers, black mixture vest, bound with black braid, dark striped cotton shirt, grey woollen singlet, white cotton drawers, white cotton socks, and blucher boots. In the man's pockets were a small sum of money, a brown-handled penknife, three white cotton handkerchiefs, a silver ring, and a letter, as follows:—"Sydney, 29th September, 1881. Joseph Aldridge, Esq. Dear sir,—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your firm's draft for £100 with thanks. Charles Montague Hodgson is very ill. On his behalf I send, and sign myself, P. Colgan. Please send the balance to the Australian Joint Stock Bank here, they being the agents for the Victorian Bank." The body now lies at the Morgue, Circular Quay, for identification.

We have been requested to remind candidates for the forthcoming Senior and Junior Examinations at the University and elsewhere that their applications should be sent in on or before Tuesday, the 18th instant.

The following is the order of musical services at St. Andrew's Cathedral for Sunday:—Services, Dykes; anthem, "The Heavens are telling."

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

[By Telegraph.]
(From our own Correspondents.)

CARCOAR, Friday.

A new gold-bearing reef has just been discovered by Professor Nicholas, the Victorian geologist, whilst engaged examining Oliver's 100-acre paddock, at Milburn Creek, recently purchased by Melbourne capitalists. Leases were applied for to-day for outside of the paddock on the line of the new reef. Four casks containing 17 cwt. of valuable mineral specimens from Murray and party's claim at the Burnt Yards, were forwarded to the Mint yesterday for analysis. Several more mineral leases have been applied for during the last few days in the vicinity of Mount M'Donald.

BLAYNEY, Friday.

The district escort arrived from Carcoar yesterday with the following quantities of gold:—On account of City Bank, 277oz.; Commercial Bank, 29oz.; and 18loz. from Milburn Creek. The monthly return from Brown's Creek Gold-mining Company shows 317oz. forwarded from Blayney.

ARMIDALE, Friday.

The antimony mine, 12 miles distant, are yielding large returns. Waggon loads of ore daily pass through for Sydney. About two hundred men are employed. Several of the mines are one mass of pure metal. One-ninth share in John Moore and Co.'s claim was purchased to-day from Richard Palmer by Peter Speare, of Sydney, for £1000 cash. Much larger sums have been refused for other shares.

Mr. C. J. Buckland reports re-formation of the Victory Goldmining Company, Limited, to work the Victory Prospect claim, Extended, at Charters Towers, capital, £60,000, in 60,000 shares of £1 each. The meeting of shareholders held on Thursday at the offices of the company, Exchange, Sydney, appointed Messrs. Jno. Woods, Jno. Newton, John Way, S. Raphael, Sydney directors; F. W. Foerr, Robert Crawford, Melbourne directors; and Thos. J. Buckland, managing director at Charters Towers. Solicitor for the company, Mr. W. J. Fergusson, M.P.; auditors, Messrs. J. T. Davenport and John Phillips. Legal manager, Mr. C. J. Buckland. A large number of shares is held in Melbourne and Ballarat.

Mr. Joseph Palmer reports the yield for this week of the Black Horse United Gold Mine, Kyneton, to be 110oz.

AMUSEMENTS.

MASONIC HALL.

The Mendelssohn Quintette Club has now apparently established itself firmly in popular favour, and last night, when its sixth concert was given, the Masonic Hall was filled; and not only was there a large audience, but this audience thoroughly appreciated the excellence of the music played and the clever way in which it was performed, for every item on the programme was applauded; and although, for obvious reasons, repetitions are discountenanced, in three instances they had to be allowed. The programme stated that Mr. Isidor Schnitzler, the young first violinist of the club, would play Leclair's "Sarabande and Tambourin," but at the last moment a change was made, and he played a minuet from a suite by Raff. This was encored, and Mr. Schnitzler gave the beautiful fantasia, by Leonard, which he performed at the first concert of this series. Mr. Frederick Giese's violoncello solo was a larghetto by Rhomberg—a splendid medium for the display of those qualities of artistic bowing, good expression, and facile execution, in which he is pre-eminent among the 'cellists who have visited Australia. In his case, too, the audience remained unsatisfied until he played a fee, and this was a curiously-phrased gavotte by Sebastian Bach. Mr. Thomas Ryan played a romance for the clarionette, by Crusel. The theme is full of tender sentiment, and while the clarionette has, of course, the principal part of the work to perform, the first violin provides a harmonious second for it, and the other three stringed instruments play a sympathetic accompaniment. Miss Cora R. Miller sang the grand aria from the first act of "Il Trovatore"—"Regnava nel Silenzio"—in very finished style; and later on sang a little ballad, composed by Mr. Ryan, and entitled "Your Name." The words are full of pretty pastoral sentiment, their burden being that a certain honey-bee, instead of devoting itself to the business of gathering honey, "is humming it"—i.e., the name of some young lady not specifically mentioned—"among the clover sweet." And the melody to which these words are set reminds one pleasantly of some English madrigals, while it demands a range of cultivated voice to do it justice, which precludes it from ever becoming hackneyed. This was encored, and Miss Miller then sang Tosti's canzonetta "Ti Reparei." The concert commenced with the sudden heard overture to "Zanetta," one of Auber's operas, which, we think, has never been performed here. The Quintette played it with delightful precision, and it might well be repeated at some future concert. Soon afterwards came Mendelssohn's quintette in A (opus 18), and the brisk allegro movement, the expressive andante, and the sparkling scherzo were played with such an evident appreciation of their beauty, and consequently with such effect, that this number—which, given by less capable artists, would have been found tediously long—was one of the most successful on the programme. The quartette of strings played the scherzo from Cherubini's quartette in E flat delightfully, and the last number was a quaint gavotte by Silas, arranged for the Quintette. To-night the seventh concert will be given, and, by special request, an item on the programme will be the "Kaleidescope on popular airs," which was so much enjoyed by the audience on Monday night.

THEATRE ROYAL.

Last evening the closing performance of "Madame Favart" was given at the Theatre Royal. Mr. Mervin having taken a rest, on account of ill-health, the part of Charles Favart was taken by Mr. Edwin Kelly, who is an old Sydney favourite, and who has been very successful in supplying the vacancy created by Mr. Mervin's temporary retirement. This evening "La Fille du Tambour Major" will be revived.

GAIETY THEATRE.

Since the conclusion of the Montague-Turner opera season the Gaiety Theatre has been closed for the purpose of effecting extensive alterations, necessary to enhance the comfort of the patrons of the theatre. Last evening, by the invitation of the lessee and manager, Mr. L. M. Bayless, a large number of ladies and gentlemen visited the theatre, and had an opportunity of seeing the building in its improved condition, and judging for themselves of the alterations, which will undoubtedly add much to the convenience of the audiences, while rendering the theatre considerably more attractive in appearance. We propose in a future issue to notice the alterations more in detail.

This evening a new season will commence, when Mr. Alfred Dampier, supported by what promises to be a good company, will produce G. R. Sims' comedy, "Mother-in-Law." The company includes Miss Amie Adere, as leading lady; Miss Marian Melnese, and Mr. Richard Stewart. The comedy in which they are to appear has been unusually successful in London, and is quite new to the colonies.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

This evening "Tried and True" will give place, at the Queen's Theatre, to "Ould Erin," another of Mr. Walter Reynolds' dramas.

VICTORIA HALL.

D'Arcy Read's Ghost is still being performed at the Victoria, and Mr. Macoabe continues his very popular entertainment at the School of Arts.

Information has been received that Mr. Thomas Hardy, one of the principal South Australian vignerons, shortly visits the Victorian districts where the Phylloxera vastatrix has been discovered, to form an official report to his Government, as measures were taken to suppress the disease, and success attained. Mr. Hardy commences with the Geelong vineyards.

At the presentation of prizes at the Central State School, the Minister of Education to-day stated that no other influence but merit would guide him in making appointments. Eighty per cent. of State school children attended Sabbath schools, and therefore they were not left without religious teaching.

A number of gentlemen were invited yesterday to test the meats preserved by the Australian Cooked Meat Company's new process. The meat was quite fresh and good after being kept for months. It was stated that 1,000,000 sheep could be cooked and preserved by the new process at a cost of £300.

The traffic manager of the Victorian railways recently stated that the stock tax had caused a loss of railway revenue of from £15,000 to £20,000 per annum in stock traffic, which would be increased to £40,000 by diversion of wool and stores, and in addition to this direct loss serious injury is inflicted on meat-preserving and other industries by the tax, which yielded last year a revenue of about £39,500.

The Police Commission expect to present on Monday the first portion of their report on the Kelly outbreak.

Reports speak favourably of the progress of hop-growing in Gippsland. The area under cultivation is nearly doubled this year. The season is favourable, and the next crop promises well.

Water is extremely scarce in the Geelong district. Wells that have been giving good supplies for 10 years are now reported to be failing.

Thomas Roland Clibborn, a police constable, died suddenly this morning, as was believed, from the effects of strychnine. Deceased was well educated, being an M.A. of Cambridge University, and only last mail received intelligence that he had inherited a legacy of £31,000 in England.

Numerous convictions are being obtained for breaches of the Beer Tax Act, several brewers having within a few days been fined for omitting to cancel stamps affixed to their casks.

It is understood that Alderman Ham will be the next Mayor of Melbourne without opposition.

A second forged Crown grant has been discovered, and an active investigation is being made by the Crown Law Department, it being feared that this system of forgery has been very extensive. All the signatures are excellent forgeries, evidently done by tracing the originals, while the seals of the colony have been removed from old and comparatively worthless documents.

QUEENSLAND.

BRISBANE, Friday.

In the Assembly this morning, the Colonial Sugar-refining Company's Bill was passed through committee. An amendment was carried to the effect that the company expend £200,000 within five years, otherwise the selections will be forfeited.

The Queensland Club, in Brisbane, are about to erect a new Club-house in George-street, and are issuing debentures to the extent of £20,000 for that purpose.

The weather continues fine.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, Friday.

The Governor and members of the Legislature, by invitation of the Ministry, went over part of the first section of the Nairne Railway to-day, and were entertained at luncheon in the first railway tunnel ever completed in the colony. The Governor spoke in appreciation of the work of the contractors, Messrs. Walker and Swann, complimenting them on the solution of one of the most difficult engineering problems in South Australia. He expressed a hope that the line would eventually be the means of communication with Victoria. The Murray bridge had been long waiting to be employed, and he believed that it was in the best position for crossing the river and carrying a railway to the adjoining colony. If the ground over which the railway passed were sold at 5s. per acre, as was proposed by the commission six years ago, the funds would thus be provided for the construction of the line. The project was premature yet, but it would eventually be done.

7220 bales of wool have been forwarded by rail from Morgan already this season.

The divers have made another attempt to investigate the state of the wreck of the Euro. The weather was most favourable, but they could get no satisfactory results, and it is considered now not likely that anything will be recovered from the hull of the vessel.

An extensive bush fire was raging to-day on the Flinders ranges.

The Juvenile Fancy Dress Ball given by the Mayoress at the Town Hall to-night was a brilliant affair. About 500 were present, and the costumes were gay and very diversified. The ball was opened by the children dancing a polonaise, the effect being most picturesque.

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

The export of coal for the week is 27,017 tons. The Customs revenue received for the same period amounts to £1189 10s. 10d.

CENTRAL KEMPSEY, Friday.

There was a heavy hailstorm on Tuesday night, extending from Frederickton to Kinchella. Hailstones lay in some gutters six inches thick. On Wednesday morning Mr. Robert Plummer was severely injured through being thrown out of a spring-cart near Summer Island. The accident was caused by the bad state of the road. The cart-wheel went over his chest, breaking two or three ribs. At the Railway League meeting yesterday, the offer of Mr. Sanderson, civil engineer, to make a survey, was brought under consideration. At a future meeting, district collectors will be appointed to canvass for members for the league.

BLAYNEY, Friday.

The weather is clear and frosty. Rain is anxiously looked for.

CARCOAR, Friday.

At the Lands Office yesterday 1044 acres were selected in the county of Georgiana, Bathurst. There was a frost this morning. The weather is dry, and rain is wanted.

GOULBURN, Friday.

Ten lots, consisting of 721 acres, were selected. Deniliquin has been fixed by the Synod as the cathedral town of the new diocese. For the quarter ended the 30th September 3994 acres of land were conditionally purchased in the district of Goulburn. The land revenue has been £3626 2s. 7d. The weather is fine and dry, and rain is badly wanted.

ARMIDALE, Friday.

The Pastoral and Agricultural Society have accepted tenders for the buildings at the new show ground at a cost of nearly £600. The Municipal Council has accepted plans for the town-hall, and tenders will be called for immediately. The weather is fine, and grass is growing fast. Lambing is proceeding, and a small increase is expected.

YASS, Friday.

A libel case Dodds, v. Brown, in which damages were claimed at £1000, was commenced on Wednesday afternoon, and closed to-day at noon. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for 1s. damages. In his evidence yesterday the plaintiff stated that he was proceeding for the money, and only substantial damages would satisfy him. The cross case, Brown v. Dodds, for slander, in which damages were laid at £3000, commenced at 10 this morning, and was proceeding when the jury in the first case returned their verdict. In the latter case the plaintiff then consented to accept a verdict for a similar amount, and expressed, through Mr. Pilcher, regret for having written so wrongly about Dodds; and the defendant Dodds, through Mr. Want, similarly expressed regret, and stated that he had never meant the imputations against Mr. Brown as alleged in the declaration. By direction of the Court the jury then returned a verdict to the effect stated.

ALBURY, Friday.

The Albury Borough Council, at the fortnightly meeting, resolved to forward a petition, signed by a large majority of the ratepayers, praying the Government to undertake the construction of water-supply works on the basis of Mr. William Langtree's scheme, at a cost of £13,000. Rain has been threatening for the past week, but none has fallen. The lack of moisture, combined with sharp frosts every night, is likely to prove injurious.

CHORAL FESTIVAL.

A choral festival, or choral service of a very interesting kind, was held in St. Thomas' Church, North Shore, last night; and after the service, a choir supper was given by the ladies of the parish, in the School of Arts, in order to afford those taking part in the service an opportunity for meeting some of the bishops of the Church of England who are arriving in Sydney for the purpose of being present at the General Synod, which will hold its sittings next week. The choral service had been arranged to celebrate the completion of some extensive additions to St. Thomas' Church; and as the presence of a large congregation offered a fair prospect of liberal offerings in aid of the church funds, it was decided to make a collection in aid of a fund for the purchase of a new organ. A special feature in the service was that the occasion was the first on which any combination of church choirs in Sydney had taken place; and as members of the choirs of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Christ Church, St. Leonards; Christ Church, Sydney; St. Mary's, Waverley; All Saints, Petersham; All Saints, Woollahra; St. Thomas', Willoughby; together with representatives of other choirs, were present—numbering in all 120 well trained voices—the effect was very striking. The Rev. Dr. Ellis was precentor, and throughout the service the singing was excellent, though the acoustic properties of the church interfered considerably with the volume of sound. The church was crowded, and many of the congregation went from Sydney. The clergymen present were Dr. Pearson, Bishop of Newcastle; Dr. Marsden, Bishop of Bathurst; Rev. S. H. Childe, incumbent of St. Thomas's, Willoughby; Rev. Dr. Ellis, Rev. E. G. Hodgson, Rev. A. Yarnold, Rev. J. Bloomfield, Rev. E. A. Colvin, Rev. E. Symonds, Rev. H. Mort, Archdeacon Child, Rev. G. F. Garnsey, Rev. J. Hough, Rev. T. Kemmis, Rev. A. Sharp, and Rev. C. Baber. The first lesson was read by Archdeacon Child, the second lesson by the Bishop of Bathurst, and the sermon was preached by the Bishop of Newcastle from the words "All thy works praise thee, oh Lord! and thy saints give thanks unto thee." Immediately the service had come to a close, the bishops, clergy, members of the choirs, and others adjourned to the School of Arts, where the choir supper was tastefully laid in the hall, which was very prettily and appropriately decorated. The chair was occupied by the Rev. S. H. Childe, and on the right and left of the chairman were the Bishops of Newcastle and Bathurst. After supper the chairman proposed the toast of "The Queen," which was drunk with cheers and the singing of the National Anthem. The chairman then proposed the health of "The Bishops of our Church in Australia," coupled with the names of the Bishop of Bathurst and the Bishop of Newcastle. (Cheers.) The Bishop of Bathurst, in responding to the toast, said he had accepted with very great pleasure the kind invitation of the chairman to take part in the service that evening, in order to show a sympathy with him in the arduous work he had undertaken in the enlargement of his church. He (the Bishop) felt an interest in that work, not only as a bishop of our church, but as a native of the city of Sydney—(cheers)—and here he might mention that of about 100 bishops in the church, not less than three were natives of the same city. (Cheers.) The Bishop of Newcastle said, with regard to the special work in which they were all engaged, that he was really not at all the person to address them in that respect, for he did not possess any musical powers. At one time in his early childhood he was about to join a choir, but the organist was a bit of a phrenologist, who examined his bumps, and said—he forgot at this length of time whether it was that he had no time and very little tune, or no tune and very little time. But it was one or the other. (Laughter.) So that if he were to dwell on musical points he would only show his weakness and his ignorance. But there were higher points of view on which he might say a few words. The work of a church choir was of a most important character, and the same little rule or principle which applied to so many other things applied to this—that whatever was worth doing was worth doing well. (Hear, hear.) For his part, he could say he had suffered a good deal in his time from choirs. First of all, he had found it very difficult to get them to work for what they considered they knew. Something elaborate, or that had a novelty, about it, they were all ready for, and he had known cases where a church choir would be very good at elaborate music, and very poor at what he might call the chanting of the ordinary service. That seemed to him to show that things were looked at in the wrong light. If singing was worth doing at all it was worth doing well. There was room in choirs, too, as there was in all bodies where united action was desirable, for a good deal of what was known as the give and take principle, in order to remove little difficulties that sometimes occurred, and he hoped that the work of the choirs present on that occasion would be done not only with heartiness, but with goodwill one to another, and also with a growing appreciation of the importance of the work, and of that thoroughly solemn character which belonged to it, showing that it was not concert singing, but church singing. (Cheers.) The remaining toasts were "Our Guests," coupled with the names of the Rev. Dr. Ellis and Mr. Cullen, the leader of the choir of All Saints' Church, Petersham, which was proposed by the chairman, and replied to by Dr. Ellis and Mr. Cullen; "The Ladies," proposed by the Rev. G. F. Garnsey; and "The Chairman."

PIGEON SHOOTING AT GOULBURN.

[By Telegraph.]
(From our own Correspondent.)

GOULBURN, Friday.

Several pigeon matches were shot off at Kenmore yesterday. A large number of sportsmen took part, and the shooting was good. First match, £1 sweep, 5 birds, 25 yards' rise—Faithfull, Phelps, W. Davis, H. Payten, W. Best, 4 birds each; Smart, Weston, H. T. Gordon, 2; Badgery, Smith, M'Dougall, retired; Gannon, first. The fours shot off, Hamilton and Gordon dividing second and third money. Second match, £3 sweep (handicap), 21 to 30 yards, 9 birds—Smith, H. Gordon, M. Faithfull, Phelps, Gannon, 8; Hamilton, Weston, and H. Payten, 7; Scone, 6; Best, H. T. Gordon, Davis, Smart, M'Dougall, Badgery retired. Smith, H. Gordon, M. Faithfull, Phelps, Gannon divided money. Third match, £2 sweep, 5 birds (handicap), £20 first, £8 second, £5 third—A. Badgery, 5; M. Faithfull, Thorn, E. Badgery, H. Gordon, 4; H. Payten, 3; H. T. Gordon, W. Davis, Scone, Phelps, Smith, Gannon, P. Payten, retired; A. Badgery first; Faithfull, Thorn, E. Badgery, H. Gordon dividing other prizes. Fourth match, £2 sweep, double birds—divided, H. Gordon, Hamilton. Private match for £5 aside, H. Payten and Smith; the former won.

ROYAL SYDNEY YACHT SQUADRON.

We would remind intending visitors that the opening day of the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron's season will be celebrated this afternoon by a series of evolutions, in which nine yachts will take part. The yachts are to assemble in Farm Cove at 1.15, and after going through the evolutions, will rendezvous at Cremorne, where the usual luncheon will be given. For the convenience of those gentlemen who do not go in the yachts, the steam launch Ma... will leave No. 2 jetty, Circular Quay, at 1.16 p.m., to convey them to Cremorne.

SYDNEY AMATEUR SAILING CLUB.

The ninth annual meeting of the members of the Sydney Amateur Sailing Club was held last night at Aaron's Exchange Hotel, Commodore S. H. Hyam, J.P., in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and the following new members elected:—Messrs. H. H. Onslow, — Levey, J. F. Elliott, W. Day, S. Day, C. Allt, and G. Hardy. Several new members were proposed. It was reported that Mr. Grant was preparing a design for the new boathouses of the club, which are to be erected on the allotment of ground adjoining the Sydney Rowing Club's premises. The hon. secretary read the annual report, as follows:—"Your committee has much pleasure in laying before you their report of the doings of the club for the season 1880-81. Members' Roll: During the season 30 new members were elected, a few having retired, leaving 146 on the list. Club Fleet: The club fleet number 68 sail, all told, viz., sixteen 24-feet boats, sixteen 22-feet boats, eight 19-feet boats, seven 18-feet, eleven 16-feet, ten not classed, comprising the fastest and finest boats afloat in Port Jackson. Races during the Season: There have been fourteen races during the season for trophies valued at £290. The winners were—24-feet, Snowdrop, Lizzie, and Deronda; 22-feet, Rosetta, Buttercup; 19-feet, and 18-feet, Desdemona, Alert, Lucia; 16-feet, Ouida, Regina, Ettie; 20-feet and upwards, Gemini and Adelphi. Donors: Commodore Hyam, with his accustomed liberality, gave four handsome trophies to be competed for, and were won by the Lizzie, Buttercup, Lucia, and Regina. Messrs. M. A. and A. J. M'Lean also gave a very fine trophy, which was won by the Rosetta. Your committee point with pleasure to the foregoing as a proof of the prosperity of the club, and trust most sincerely that under the new régime the same tide of success will continue to flow. Your committee, in retiring, wish to add their sense of appreciation of the universal courtesy and attention they had received at all times and occasions at the hands of the members during their term of office, and feel sure, while such amicable relations exist, it points to even greater prosperity in the future than has existed in the past. Faithfully yours, E. M. Deitrich, hon. secretary." The report was unanimously adopted. The financial report read by the hon. treasurer (Mr. T. Stokes), showed that there was a balance from last year of £80 12s. 10d., and that the subscriptions, &c., for the present year amounted to £142 14s. 9d. The disbursements had been £150 8s. 9d., and there therefore remained in hand a balance of £72 18s. 10d. The statement was adopted unanimously. The election of officers was then proceeded with, and resulted as follows:—Commodore, Mr. G. C. Elliott; vice-commodore, Mr. A. J. Soutar; hon. secretary, Mr. A. Green; hon. treasurer, Mr. T. Stokes; committee, Messrs. Deitrich, Fitzhardinge, Grant, Williams, and Cope; auditors, Messrs. Soutar and Scarr. The opening day of the season was fixed for Saturday, 22nd October; and after a vote of thanks to the retiring officers, the meeting terminated with a similar vote to the chairman.

ROWING ASSOCIATION'S REGATTA.

The second annual regatta of the New South Wales Rowing Association is to take place this afternoon. To allow our amateur rowers to enter for both oar and scull races in the respective classes, the committee have divided the regatta—three events to take place to-day, and three more next Saturday. If all who have entered start this afternoon, there will be 57 competitors—certainly the largest number of amateur pullers ever brought together in Sydney. On the following Saturday 25 competitors will take part. The committee of the association have recognised the coxswains by offering prizes to them as well as to successful oarsmen, thus setting an example to other regatta committees, who too often ignore the office filled by the steersman. The steamers Telephone and Princess will leave No. 2 Jetty, Circular Quay, at 2.30 p.m., carrying the umpire and press. We mention this to prevent visitors being left behind through going to the wrong wharf. The band of the New South Wales Artillery has been engaged for the occasion.

CRICKET.

The cricket season will be commenced this afternoon, and it may fairly be stated that the prospect, especially in connection with club cricket, has not been so encouraging for some years past. The handsome challenge cup granted by Messrs. Holdsworth, Gardyne, and Co. will render the coming competition between the senior clubs unusually keen, and the junior clubs have also received incentives to increased exertion by the bestowal of the Thompson Challenge Cup and a number of other trophies. The first contest for the Holdsworth-Gardyne Cup will be commenced on the Association Cricket Ground this afternoon, the competing clubs being the University and Carlton; and it will be seen from the list of players appended that both teams will be very strong in batting, though in bowling the University appear to possess an advantage. The players will be selected from the following:—Carlton: A. Bannerman, C. Bannerman, J. J. Callachor, J. Davis, A. Geary, G. Hall, H. Hall, W. A. M'Crea, T. Nunn, W. S. Wearne, W. Webster, E. J. Briscoe, 12th. University: R. C. Allen, S. P. Jones, T. W. Garrett, J. Coates, T. Iceton, H. M. Faithfull, R. Teece, Rygate, M'Manamy, Fuller, T. Powell. The contest is likely to be one worth witnessing, and no doubt if the weather proves fine there will be a considerable muster of lovers of cricket on the Association Ground. The Alberts apparently have no engagement until the 22nd instant, when they meet the Warwicks for the cup; but the latter club opens the season this afternoon at Newtown, where they play against the local club.

The following prizes have been offered in connection with the Warwick Club: Mr. P. B. Walker, president, presents trophies, valued in all at £10 10s., namely—for the best average batting, 1st eleven, £4 4s.; best average bowler, 1st eleven, £4 4s.; and the best average batsman, in any eleven, joining this year, £2 2s. The club's conditions are that two-thirds of the matches are to be played in. Mr. Charles Davis, vice-president, presents a £7 7s. Waltham watch as a prize for the member making the largest number of runs for the club during the season in any eleven. Mr. J. Kellick offers a £5 5s. trophy to the batsman making the highest average in the club, any eleven.

The following is the result of the drawing for the Thomson Junior Challenge Cup, which took place at a meeting of the secretaries last Monday evening, at Mr. Thomson's, Oxford-street:—1. Nationals v. Surry United. 2. Caxton v. North Shore Belmore. 3. Oriental v. Glebe Strathmore. 4. Herald v. St. Peters. 5. Conqueror v. Australian. 6. Waratah v. Our Boys. 7. Orient v. Montrose. 8. Albion v. Royston. 9. Excelsior v. Osborne. 10. Richmond v. Royal Orient. 11. Croydon v. Oxford. 12. Alexandria v. Corios. 13. Woollahra Victorias v. Ironclads. 14. Derwent v. Lincoln. 15. Strathearn v. Clios. 16. Australian Surry v. Lismore. 17. Young Oxford v. Perseverance. The winners, after all clubs have played, will have to draw again for companionship and places in the second division. The Nationals and Surrys will open to-day (Saturday) on Moore Park, at 2.30 sharp; and a suggestion, thrown out at the meeting by the chairman (Mr. F. Ironside), will be acted on all through the matches, of making eight balls to the over.

In addition to the several trophies already announced, another is offered of four guineas' value by Mr. G. E. Russell Jones. The umpires for the opening match are Messrs. J. Hinchey and J. Neild. The playing ground will be indicated by flagpoles, and it is to be hoped that the public will not encroach beyond these. Some misapprehension existing as to what players can compete, we give the terms of condition 1 as follows:—"Clubs eligible to compete must have been properly organized during last season, and must not allow anyone to play with them who shall belong to any senior club [and shall have any intention to play in matches with such senior club during the present season], under penalty of being struck out of the list of competitors." The words in brackets have necessarily been inserted to overcome an obvious difficulty.

On Monday next a match will take place on the Association ground between representatives of the press and a number of members of the London Opera Comique Company, now performing at the Theatre Royal. Play will begin punctually at 11 o'clock, and the stumps will be drawn at 4. The teams will be selected from the following names:—Press—Messrs. Rogers, Harvey, Price, Cooper, M'Indoe, M'Whirter, Richards, Wilkinson, Ellis, Hogg, Hogue, Utting, Cunningham, and Whittaker. Theatre Royal Company—G. Musgrove, Harwood, Brennir, Lazar, Kelly, H. Musgrove, Goodman, Dean, Burt, Harvey, Peake, Grundy, and Haswell.

It will be seen by advertisement that an exhibition of Dr. Weir's trotting horses, lately imported from America, will take place this afternoon on the Randwick racecourse.

The sports in connection with the Ashfield Amateur Athletic Club are to take place on the Ashfield Cricket Ground to-day.

COMMERCIAL.

WOOL, PRODUCE, AND STOCK REPORT.

Wool.—No public business was done this week. Upwards of 1000 bales of the new fleece are now arriving daily per steamer and train, a considerable part of it for shipment. The sales next week will mainly comprise odd lots. The regular opening sales of the season will probably take place in about a fortnight.

Sheepskins.—In the absence of sales business may be quoted at last week's rates.

Leather.—Competition was scarcely so active at last week's sales as at the sales of the previous Tuesday. Kip sold at 13d. to 16d.; sole, 8d. to 11d., damaged sole from 7d.; calf 17d. to 30d.; yearling, 21d. to 24d.; tweed, 17½d. to 25½d.; harness, 13d to 14½d; bag, 9s. to 12s.; bridle, 9s. to 12s.; basils, 6s to 12s.; collar 5s. 6d.; kangaroo, 20d. to 24d.; wallaby, 18d.

Tallow.—280 packages offered at yesterday's sale, and 220 sold. The rapid change in the English market was immediately felt at the day's sales. Best mutton brought £32, and best beef £30 to £31; station from £26.

Hides.—680 offered, and 440 sold. The supply being below the average, prices were firm for the better qualities. Extra heavy, 4¼d. to 4½d.; heavy, 3¾d. to 4d.; medium, 3½d. to 3¾d.; station, 4d. to 5½d.; yearlings, 4s. to 7s. 6d.; horse hides, 5s. to 8s. each; kangaroo, 3s. to 26s.; opossum skins, 2s. to 5s. per dozen for rumped, and 4s. to 6s. for full furred skins; platypus skins, 1s. to 4s. each, according to condition, quality, &c.

Hair.—The market continues good. Horse—tail worth 14d. to 16d.; mane, 8d. to 11d.; cow, from 5d. to 12d.

Horns and Bones.—Good lots of both were in demand, and one lot of horns went at 35s. per 100; others ranging according to quality from 2s. 6d. Bones worth from £4 to £5.

Beeswax.—A brisk inquiry at from 9½d to 11d.

Fat Cattle.—340 head of cattle were yarded for the week's supply, 620 on Monday and the remainder on Thursday. The market was very much firmer, and best beef is worth from 25s. to 27s. 6d. per 100lb. One lot of cattle realizing £10 2s. 6d., the highest price obtained for two years past. Messrs. Pitt Son, and Badgery sold—22 bullocks (T. D. Badgery) at £9 18s. 8d., 15 (H. E. Kater) at £6 12s., and 11 cows (ditto) at £4 14s. 6d., 166 bullocks (J. K. Mackay) at £7 3s. 9d., 3 cows at £6 3s. Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe sold—130 bullocks (P. Cornford) at £5 4s., 13 cows (ditto) at £4 15s. 10d. Maitland: 30 bullocks (T. and R. Button) at £5 0s. to £7 1s., 18 cows (ditto) at £4 7s. to £5, 35 bullocks (J. P. Lake) at £5 5s., 56 bullocks (A. Holden) at £5 5s., 50 cows (Ravensworth Estate) at £5 6s. to £6 17s., 14 bullocks (G. P. Hall) at £5 11s. to £9 11s., 4 cows to £7 1s., 11 cows (A. Cobcroft) at £5 1s. to £5 19s. Messrs. Sullivan and Simpson report having sold—102 bullocks, on account of Mr. Thomas Hungerford, at an average of £7 1s.; and 97 bullocks at an average of £7 19s. 9d. Messrs. Griffiths and Weaver report the sale 400 for Mr. Edward White at £7 10s. Mr. William Inglis reports having sold 25 fat cattle, from £2 15s. to £9; 19 milch cows, from £3 7s. 6d. to £10 5s.; 14 dry cows, from 16s to £3 17s.; Messrs. Bacon, Leeds, and Wilkinson sold 60 on account of C. Hoskinson, in conjunction with Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark; and a draft for Messrs. Walsh, Elliott, and Kenny. Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark sold 151 bullocks for Mr. R. Ridge, Willie, at £8 12s.; also 48 cows, for same owner, at £6 11s. 6d.; 188 bullocks, for Messrs. Hill and Hector, Grawtrey, at £10 9s. 6d, the highest price obtained for the past two years. Also, privately, on account of Messrs. Hardie and Millar, the whole of the Goarigia herd, numbering 1000 herd, at 46s.—Mr. B. Richards, Yarradool, purchaser.

Calves.—The market was firm. Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark sold 18 calves, heifers, and steers for Mr. M. Doyle. Steers to £5 11s., light heifers to £3 6s., and calves to 27s. Mr. W. Inglis reports the sale of 59 from 6s. 6d. to £1 15s. Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery sold consignments for Messrs. Ranken, Holt, Kater, Caster, and Southern agents, numbering in all about 200, at from 8s. to £2 2s.

Fat Sheep.—13,000 sheep were penned for the week's market. The demand was scarcely so good, and prices were rather easier. 60lb. sheep in wool quitted at 15s. 6d.; 54lb., 14s. 6d.; 50lb., 12s. 9d.; shorn sheep, 3s. less. Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin sold 2000 sheep, Peel River Co., to 13s. 3d.; 216, M. Drummond, to 8s.; 83 M. Drummond, 9s. 6d. to 9s. 7d.; 249 sheep and lambs, James Smith, to 9s. 2d. Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark sold 697 wethers, in wool, for Mr. T. Fitzgerald, Orange, at 13s. 1d.; 117 ewes, shorn, for Mr. M. Doyle, Yanco, to 9s. 7d. Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery sold for C. Trautenfelder, 220 shorn, mixed sexes, at 11s. 6d. to 12s.; 160 ewes, wool ditto, at 12s. 9d.; 1601 wethers, wool (Bretton Brothers), at 10s. 11d. to 11s.; 1655, at 11s. 6d. to 11s. 9d.; 2500 (Swift and Hann), at 12s. 7d. to 13s. 10d.; 983, at 11s. 3d. to 11s. 9d.; 211, shorn (Swift and Hann), at 9s. 1d.; 670 (Gardener), at 8s. 6d. to 8s. 9d. Messrs. Wilkinson, Graves, and Lavender sold 3000 wethers in the wool at an average of 14s. 3d., and 600 shorn, outside; also, last week, 2000 shorn sheep for C. B. Fisher at 10s. 6d. Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe sold in Maitland shorn wethers for Messrs. White Brothers at 11s. 6d.; 455 wethers (George Hill) at 14s. to 14s. 4d.

Fat Lambs.—About 1200 head were forward, and, the supply being large prices were weaker, but making about 9s. 6d. Messrs. Wilkinson, Graves, and Lavender sold 332 for Mr. J. C. Moore at from 8s. to 9s. 3d. Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery sold about 500 to 8s.

Store Cattle.—A better market is noted for this description of stock. Good bullocks 50s. to 60s., cows 35s. to 40s. Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe sold 300 mixed bullocks to £2 14s., steers to £2, cows to 35s.

Store Sheep.—A fair demand is noted for young fattening sheep. Messrs. Wilkinson, Graves, and Lavender sold 1100 maiden ewes, for Messrs. Watt and Thompson, Cocketgedong; and 6000 ewes, for Mr. James Cochran, Widgiewa; 140 4-tooth rams for Messrs. M'Gaw and Co., Burraboga. Messrs. Bacon, Leeds, and Wilkinson report the sale of 2600 wethers, in the wool, on account J. M'Masters; and 1200 maiden ewes, on account J. F. Iredale, of Goolbi, at very high figures.

Pigs.—There was a fair supply of pigs forward. Messrs. Brunker and Wolfe sold 28 at 15s. 6d. to £1 11s., 14 at 12s. Mr. W. Inglis sold 114 from 13s. to £3.

Stations.—A good demand exists for this class of property. Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery sold for Mr. F. Cook his Oriel and Pockataroo stations, with about 14,000 cattle (the noted JBO brand), 5800 sheep, land, and sundries—Messrs. Walsh, Elliott, and Rennie, purchasers.

SMALLPOX.

Four fresh cases of smallpox were reported yesterday, in addition to a supposed case of the same disease. It was previously reported that Mrs. Dunford and two of her children were suffering from variola. A member of the Government medical staff visited the house yesterday, and found that three other children of Mrs. Dunford had been attacked by the disease, so that the one place is now occupied by six patients, irrespective of the man George Dunford, who seems to have introduced smallpox into the place, but has become convalescent. The rapid spread of the disease in this house is attributed to the fact that the children were unvaccinated. George Dunford seems to have been first taken ill with the disease about a month ago. Some of the children now ill attended school up to Saturday last. The other new case of smallpox was reported to the authorities and visited at a late hour last night. The patient resides in a house occupied by Mr. John Hayes, No. 1 Plunkett-street, off Palmer-street, Woolloomooloo. The supposed case of smallpox, previously referred to, was found on Thursday evening to exist in a house in Pelican-street, late Edward-street, Surry Hills. The building is about 100 yards from Oxford-street. The front part of the house, consisting of two rooms, is constructed of weatherboard, and attached to this is a brick building, also consisting of two rooms. The place is occupied by Mr. Henry Mitchell, painter, who is the tenant, his wife and child, and Mr. William Casey, who is also a painter, his wife and child, as well as by Mrs Smith and child. The Caseys and Smiths are lodgers. Both Mrs. Casey and Mrs. Smith go out washing. The patient is Mrs. Emma Casey, aged 26 years. She had been ailing for two or three days, and on Thursday an eruption appeared upon her face. It did not prevent her, however, from going about Woolloomooloo. It was at first thought that the eruption was that of measles, but acting in accordance with the advice of some of his friends Casey called at one of the police offices at about five o'clock in the afternoon, and reported the matter. It is understood that, as there are now three medical gentlemen whose special duty it is to investigate all supposed cases of smallpox, the greatest promptitude would have been exercised in dealing with this report. It was, however, we believe, after 10 o'clock at night before one of the Government medical staff called to see the patient, so that fully three hours were allowed to elapse between the time of receiving the report and dealing with it. Another member of the staff visited Mrs. Casey yesterday morning, and although the eruption had disappeared from her face and was profuse about her body, he was unable to say definitely whether she was suffering from smallpox or some other disease.

The official report of the Board of Health for yesterday is as follows:—"The undermentioned persons were visited by the Government medical staff on the 6th instant, and were reported to be progressing favourably:—Elizabeth Stephenson, 122, Bowman-street, Pyrmont; Mrs. Dunford and her five children, 18, Cross-street, Pyrmont; Edward Langley, the latter, and Mrs. Tee, 83, Quay-street, Ultimo; and Mrs. Evans and child, 5, Arthur-place. Several of the houses lately released from quarantine have also been visited, and all the inmates were found to be in good health. The patients in Mr. Langley's house have now so far recovered that a nurse is no longer required for them. The late nurse has therefore been removed to attend on the patients in Mr. Dunford's house at Pyrmont. A case of suspicious character has been reported in a house in Pelican-street, off Oxford-street. The Government medical staff have it under close observation, and the house has been quarantined as a precautionary measure. The following persons arrived from Quarantine Station yesterday (Friday) afternoon, and were met by Senior-sergeant Lenthall, who had them conveyed to their respective homes:—Mrs. Gall, Mrs. Fisher and child, and Mrs. Mary Allen. The house in Clarence-street, in which Mrs. Gall, her three children, Mrs. Brickiesa, and Mr. Clark resided when seized with smallpox, has been condemned as unfit for human habitation. The Board of Health has therefore, in accordance with Mrs. Gall's wishes, taken a house for her and her family at Pyrmont. Mrs. Buckleton, who has had charge of the three children during the period of Mrs. Gall's absence, has been staying with them at the Sanitary Camp during the last four weeks. The waggonette will convey Mrs. Buckleton and the three children from the Camp to Mrs. Gall's house this afternoon."

THE GENERAL ELECTION IN FRANCE.

PARIS, AUG. 26.

We have passed through the electoral crisis, and although there are certain constituencies where ballotages, or second ballots, will be necessary, we are now in possession of sufficient data to know approximately what will be the composition of the new Chamber of Deputies. The elections took place simultaneously last Sunday throughout France.

To those who had had experience of general elections in England, the contrast presented here was rather humiliating to British pride in the supposed perfection of British institutions. In Paris there was no gathering of disorderly mobs, even in the "red" quarters of Belleville and Montmartre. The workmen recorded their votes as calmly as if it were a part of their daily routine to elect legislators. Each seemed bent on his own business, and did not concern himself with the political preferences of his fellows. Throughout the length and breadth of Paris there was scarcely a sign of anything unusual occurring beyond the flaming election addresses plastered upon every available piece of wall. This must have opened the eyes of many persons educated in the creed that the Frenchman is mad on the subject of politics, and that his stored gunpowder is ever ready to explode on the smallest pretext for a display of patriotic zeal. If the truth must be told, this gunpowder needs a good deal of drying and preparing before it is ready to take fire. The French workingman is not by nature a revolutionist. His natural gaiety and good-humour, and his practical common sense, are quite opposed to the gloomy passion of the conspirator. Generally speaking, there must be great physical misery to break his trust in honest labour, and to compel him to exchange the tools of peaceful trade for the weapons of civil war. As for rowdyism as a pastime and pleasure in itself, irrespective of definite aims of solid benefit in the future, he could not be made to understand the humour of it. When he has made up his mind to fight, it is for the sake of principles which, however rash and utopian, stand to him as the articles of a faith that he is prepared to die for, and being then thoroughly in earnest, he becomes sanguinary, brutal, and desperate.

The chief interest of the general election was centred in M. Gambetta's double candidature in the Belleville circumscriptions. In both cases the chief adversaries pitted against him were thorough-going Radicals—Sigismond, Lacroix, and Tony Revillon. Gambetta succeeded in obtaining a majority in both circumscriptions, but so small was it that his enemies call it a defeat. In one case he is actually en ballotage, that is, he has not obtained more than one-half of the total number of votes recorded, which constitutes the legal majority. It is doubtful whether he will go to the poll again, considering that he cannot hold both seats. He may, however, do so with the hope of recovering some of his lost prestige in Belleville. Viewed in connection with the result of the elections throughout the country, the importance of the contest in Belleville becomes insignificant. The new Chamber will be more Gambettist than the previous one. The fickleness of Belleville is easily explained. When elected in 1875 Gambetta was leader of the Opposition, and the belligerent representative of popular sentiments in a Conservative Chamber. When the cards were re-shuffled the game lay in his hands; he gradually dropped the demagogic character, and assumed that of the statesman. He realized that, in order to reach the summit of his ambition, he must reckon with other forces than the democracy. He found himself, moreover, in most comfortable circumstances. The gilded and frescoed salons of the Palais Bourbon, with their marble pillars and luxurious furniture made for kings, must have presented to his mind a tremendous contrast to the surroundings of his boyhood in the paternal grocery at Cahors. When Gambetta came to know what luxury really meant, he found it very pleasant, and there is no man in Paris more ready than he to give cookery a place among the fine arts. The wild enthusiasm of his youth for levelling society underwent a perceptible change when he felt that his own struggle with the dominating class was over. It was long since he ceased to represent the toiling, illiterate masses of Belleville. He was deeply annoyed, however, to discover the change that had taken place in them. When they refused to hear him the other night, he made the great mistake to lose his self-command and tact, and called his interrupters "drunken slaves." He afterwards paid the penalty for this indiscretion by still further reducing the size of what is familiarly known in Paris as his "Belleville tail." So small a tail has it become that it may be regarded as one of the certainties of the future that at the next general election Gambetta will turn his back upon his old constituents, and angle for voters in fresh waters, possibly at Cahors, his native place, or at Tours, where he made his memorable balloon ascent during the siege of Paris.

I will now summarise the results of the general election throughout the departments. The triumph of the Republicans has equalled, if not surpassed, their expectations. The Bonapartists have lost 35 seats, and the Monarchists 19. Therefore, the Reactionary Opposition is now rendered absolutely powerless in the Chamber. The ruling influence in the new Assembly will be Gambettist, and the Ministry will have no longer cause to fear a combination of the Right and Extreme Left to defeat Government measures.

While, however, the grand total has been a triumph for M. Gambetta, he has received some unmistakable hints that the country is not disposed to submit to his dictation. He has witnessed the defeat of his most servile followers, among whom were men who had every reason to hope that the weight of his influence would secure them success. M. Bardoux, author of his pet measure, the scrutin de liste, has lost his seat. Gambetta's chief oracle, M. Isambert, editor of the République Française, came back from Chateaudun beaten and crestfallen. A similar fate befell several more of his familiars and abettors. The moral to be drawn is that the country, while appreciating the genius of the President of the Chamber of Deputies, and the fact that no other man in France is so fitted to assume the responsibility of guiding either openly or covertly the chariot of State, is fully alive to the dangers lying in the secret cells of his ambition, and is too mindful of the past to be easily seduced by the blandishments of a dictator, however brilliant.

The party upon whom defeat has fallen most disastrously are the Bonapartists. The reason is obvious. They represent an abstract idea. There is no member of the Napoleonic family capable at the present time of popularising the Imperial tradition. Even Paul de Cassagnac, who in spite of his follies has more influence over the masses than any other Bonapartist, dared not run the risk of defeat from his old constituents. He, however, secured his return through the complacency of his brother, who retired in his favour from Mirande, the family constituency formerly represented by his father. The Duc de Padone M. Abbatucci, M. Haentjens, and Baron Larrey are among the Bonapartists who have lost their seats. M. Rouher seized the opportunity of the election to retire from political life. Baron Haussemann is likely to lose his seat, as he is among the second ballots.

Although the Legitimist loss is considerable, the Comte de Mun has been returned, and also the Bishop of Angers, Monseigneur Freppel.

LATER.

M. Gambetta has addressed a letter to the electors of the Belleville arrondissement, declaring that it is not his intention of again contesting the circumscription, where he learns that his candidature resulted in a drawn battle. He is quite satisfied with the knowledge that he has been elected a Deputy for Belleville, "in spite of the base and violent efforts of our united enemies." He declares that he will persevere in the policy of gradual progress by easy stages as sanctioned by the national will.

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the Fenian plot detected at Liverpool promises to revive the idea of an international entente against political conspirators. The semi-official Fremdenblatt suggests that all Governments should formally bind themselves to consider attempts on life and property, even when perpetrated with a political object, as crimes, and to prevent the same from being carried out by every means in their power, and, if possible, to inflict punishment on the offenders.

DEPUTATIONS.

ROAD AT ASHFIELD.

Yesterday, Mr. W. C. Proctor, M.L.A., Mr. T. L. Nicholson (Mayor of Ashfield), and Alderman George Moss, waited upon Mr. Suttor, acting-Minister for Works, for the purpose of asking him to reserve certain land, between Charlotte and Chandos streets, for the purpose of constructing a road which would enable the residents of this suburb to get to the park, as at the present time they had to make a detour of about half a-mile, whereas the length of road between the two streets referred to is only about 150 feet. They also asked that a small section of land which was now claimed upon a holding title, and which obstructed Julia-street in the centre, should also be resumed. The owner not having a legal title was unable to sell, and hence the only course open to them was to ask the Government to step in under the Lands Resumption Act. With regard to the other land, it was pointed out that the owner had refused to sell the land to the council at any price, having stated that he would not take £1600 a foot for it. After considerable conversation of a desultory character, Mr. Suttor stated that he would make inquiries into the case, and get reports from the surveyors in the district. He would see what could be done, if anything, and let them know as soon as he could.

THE PROPOSED GOULBURN TO COOMA RAILWAY.

A deputation from the Braidwood district, introduced by Mr. Ryrie, M.L.A., and consisting of Messrs. Hassall, Maddrell, Gordon, Payne, and Steward, waited upon the Minister for Public Works yesterday, and asked that a deviation should be made in the route of the Goulburn to Cooma railway, in order to bring the line eight miles nearer Braidwood.

Mr. RYRIE presented a petition from the residents of Braidwood and the adjoining districts, pointing out that it would very materially benefit the interests of those districts if a slight deviation were made in the route marked out for the Goulburn and Cooma railway, between Tarago and Bungendore. The proposed deviation would bring the railway to an accessible point at least eight miles nearer to the town of Braidwood than the present marked line, whilst at the same time, owing to the more favourable features of the country through which it would pass, it would not add anything to the cost of construction, and only involve a very slight increase in the distance. The proposed deviation consisted merely in keeping on the eastern side of the Boro range instead of the western from Tarago, and the crossing of that range was much easier and more practicable than at the point where it was now crossed. Over and above the great boon which such a saving of distance would be to the inhabitants of Braidwood and adjacent districts, and the stimulus it would give to their mining industries, it was pointed out that as the great bulk of the hardwood timber required for the construction of the through line to Cooma would have to be procured from there, a very great further public saving would be thereby effected. Mr. Ryrie also pointed out that by keeping on the eastern side of the Boro range some seven or eight miles of railway would be already constructed, when, at any future time, a tramway or railway might be found necessary for Braidwood.

Mr. LACKEY said the deputation simply reiterated what a deputation some short time ago stated in support of this deviation, and on that occasion he said that if the facts were as represented he could see no objection to making the deviation. In furtherance of that promise he gave directions for a survey to be made; but as both Mr. Whitton, the Engineer-in-Chief, and Mr. Palmer, the head of the trial survey branch, were out of town, he could not state what the result of that survey had been, but he would ascertain and inform the deputation through Mr. Ryrie.

SINGLETON RECREATION GROUND.

Yesterday, a deputation, consisting of Mr. J. P. Burns, M.L.A., Mr. H. C. Dangar, M.L.A., Mr. Burdekin, M.L.A., and Mr. Quinn, Mayor of Singleton, waited upon Sir Henry Parkes with reference to the public recreation ground at Singleton. The deputation was introduced by Mr. Burns, who explained that the only public recreation ground at Singleton was a piece of land about 2½ acres in extent, in the centre of the town, and given some years ago by the Burdekin family. At one corner of the land there was an old lockup, which was an eyesore to the place, and the inhabitants desired the Government to remove the lockup, and have it erected somewhere else away from the recreation ground. Then, as this ground was very small it did not afford sufficient room for recreation purposes, and, in view of the Parliamentary vote for recreation grounds, the Singleton Borough Council desired to make application to the Government for an additional 12 or 14 acres of land in Singleton. This additional recreation ground might be purchased, it was believed, at a cost of not more than £800 or £1000.

Mr. Dangar, Mr. Burdekin, and Mr. Quinn also urged upon the Colonial Secretary the desirableness of granting the request made by the deputation; and Mr. Quinn pointed out that this was the first deputation from the Borough Council of Singleton that had waited upon the Government since the town of Singleton was incorporated, 16 years ago.

Sir HENRY PARKES assured the deputation that both the applications would be considered, and he thought he might say in regard to the lockup that the Government would see its way to the removal of the building, as it seemed to him a thing that ought to be done. With regard to the application for a piece of land other than the Burdekin park, that should also be considered with the other applications relating to reserves in country towns. Of course, he would pay great attention to the fact that the municipality of Singleton had never before waited on the Government, and he admitted that the modesty and shyness of the town were well represented in this matter.

STANMORE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Yesterday, a deputation, consisting of Alderman Cubitt, Mr. W. Bailey, Mr. M'Coy, and Mr. W. C. Fallick, introduced by Mr. Pigott, M.L.A., waited on the hon. Minister for Public Instruction in reference to the Public school at Stanmore, near Newtown. From the representations made by the deputation it appeared that the land belonging to the Public school in question is about one acre in extent, and that there is adjoining it about an acre more of unimproved land, which would be soon required for the due efficiency of the school, in view of the rapidly increasing population of the district, and the fact that the nearest Denominational school would be shortly shut up.

Sir JOHN ROBERTSON informed the deputation that he was required by the law to be ready to accommodate the children that would come into the Public schools when the Denominational system ceased in 1882, and he was determined to be ready for them. He would cause inquiry to be made into the matters brought before him by the deputation, and if he found it necessary, the land referred to by the deputation should be resumed without delay.

NAUTICAL SCHOOL SHIP VERNON.

The annual report of the Superintendent of the Vernon has just been published. Mr. Neitenstein's report contains the following remarks:—"The sanitary condition of the inmates still retains its high standard, and will compare favourably with any other establishment of a like nature. The total number of cases of sickness of all kinds for the year was fifty-one; and this would not have been reached had it not been for measles attacking over thirty of the lads, owing, as I have reason to believe, to the disease having been imported here by visitors during the prevalence of the complaint in Sydney. The boys, when sent to the ship, are usually in the poorest condition, through the neglected life led on shore, and suffering from skin disease, want of proper nourishment, effects of dirt, vermin bites, &c. The rapidity with which a change in their health and physique is effected by the wholesome diet and discipline of the ship must be considered satisfactory. No deaths have occurred during the past six years, and at the present date, among a total ship's company of 180, there is but one case of illness of any kind—a boy suffering from general debility, who is quickly gaining strength under generous diet. The usual drills have been engaged in, and with satisfactory results, the smartness, healthiness, and improved bearing of the boys testifying to the value of this part of the system of training, which is carried out, as far as is practicable, according to the routine of duties upon the training ships at home. Gun, musketry, cutlass, and a portion of the light infantry drills have been regularly prosecuted, in addition to fire-drill, sail-drill, manning yards, pulling and sailing boats, knotting, splicing, &c., and we are at present employed in thoroughly overhauling the spars and rigging, in the accomplishment of which we have stripped the vessel to the lower masts, and have found it necessary to remove the main lower-mast, and replace it with a new spar. This is as heavy work as can be done by the crew of any vessel, entailing the handling of masts and yards some tons in weight. Upon the completion of the process of refitting, which will yet occupy some time, the experience gained will doubtless prove of much practical value to those among the older boys likely to adopt the sea as a profession. Where so large a number of boys is congregated, as is the case on board—many of them very small—it is a matter of importance that the most perfect discipline should obtain, as serious results would be likely to occur in the event of fire and other accidents taking place. As a practical proof of the order on the Vernon, I would instance the case of an outbreak of fire in the store-room, where large quantities of oil, tar, pitch, and other inflammable goods are kept, on the 27th January last, at 3 a.m., when, with the exception of the officer on watch, every one was asleep. The boys behaved well and quietly, and showed promptitude and coolness under trying circumstances; they rigged the engines and hoses, having large supplies of water from the four various means of supply; they got the boats ready for lowering; small boys mustered on poop, &c., in a very short time from the first alarm." The report goes on to show that the money value of the work done on board during the year was £1328 6s. Two additions had been made to the routine of duty—the teaching of vocal music, and the establishment of a brass band. The total expenditure on the boys per head was £24 13s. 5d., or £4 less than in the previous year. Several letters from boys who have left the institution are given, also reports from employers who have taken apprentices, such reports being generally of the most favourable character. Eleven boys had been apprenticed as sailors during the year, and were all doing well.

ART SOCIETY'S EXHIBITION.

III.

This year's exhibition is rich in water-colour paintings, and many of them are of great merit. Especially so are a few by Combes and Hoyte. No. 44, "An Incident in the Zulu War," is a little study by G. R. Ashton, one of the Graphic artists during that miserable struggle in South Africa. A sergeant of cavalry has just cleft with his sword the skull of a stalwart Zulu, two of whose comrades, armed with assegai and rifle, are hurrying up to avenge him. The correctness of the landscape will be acknowledged by all who have been in Zululand, and the muscular figure of the central warrior swaying dizzily as it falls in death, is a splendid study; but the horse is ill-shaped, and the legs of the rider seem too short to correspond with his body. No. 45, "Collins-street, Melbourne," shows more talent on Mr. Ashton's part. It is just a representation of the crowd to be seen in Collins-street any afternoon on the footpath—pretty girls and well-dressed dandies doing the block, and a schoolboy hurrying home; and in the road, a swiftly-gliding bicyclist, and a confusion of cabs, and carriages. But the colouring is truthful, and there are those qualities of life, light, and movement in the picture which make such a study interesting. No. 47, "Pomegranates and Grapes," by Mrs. Parsons, shows that the lady knows how to paint pomegranates, but that, in her opinion, grapes differ little from sloe-berries. No. 49, "In the Huon Forest, Tasmania," by W. C. Piguenit, resembles very closely his picture, "Forest Life in Tasmania—the Midday Halt," which has been photographed for presentation to members of the Art Society's Art Union. In each picture there are the same tall gums, robed and crowned with feathery foliage, the same cool green shades, and the same beautiful touches of purple and blue in the background. But, however often Mr. Piguenit repeats himself, no one can tire of looking at his work. Mr. Hoyte has sent in a very large selection from his pictures of the last two years, and what must be to him a very gratifying fact is, that every one of them bears the red wafer, which shows that it has been purchased. No. 51, "A View of Watson's Bay from the South Head-road," is one of the best, though 52, "The Bell Rock, Bondi, near Sydney"—where the brown of the piled-up ledges of rock is relieved by the white of a few sea birds—is almost equal to it. No. 53, "Moor Scene, North Wales," by E. Combes, shows all the characteristics of this artist's work—high stormy sky, long low lines of landscape, good foreground, and splendid perspective. But this picture is inferior to another from the same studio—No. 56, "O'er the Muir amang the Heather"—where one seems to look over miles of spongy sterile moorland, patched with pink and purple heather, and darkened here and there by the dusky shadows of drifting rain clouds. The foreground is almost pre-Raphaelite in the minute accuracy with which every detail is worked in—the half-dried pebbles by the shallow ford, the deeply-tinted, elegant, but fragile moor flowers, and the tattered shrubs which crowd together on any patch of soil less sour than usual. A faintly-marked track winds away to the horizon, and on it are a pair of riders—travelling it may be "o'er the muir among the heather" to or from Gretna Green, or some representative of it. One of the prettiest views of Sydney Harbour is that to be obtained from Mr. Wylie's estate at Bondi, and this Mr. Hoyte has represented in No. 55. The curious rock formations and peculiar scrub noticeable around Port Jackson, occur in the foreground, the middle distance is occupied by the bays and coves of the harbour, and in the background the domes and spires of the Garden Palace and the vague lines of Sydney streets are outlined against the misty shadows of the Blue Mountains. The picture is well lighted, and from the colours in the sky and the direction of the shadows it seems to have been painted just before sunset. No. 57, "The Katoomba Falls, looking down the valley of the Kadumba," by C. E. Hern, has been noticed by us before. It is hung to advantage, and its fidelity to nature is admired by all who have visited the mountains. No. 58, "Waterfall and Ferns, Mount Munda, Victoria," by F. B. Gibbes, is chiefly noticeable for the care with which a few of the ferns have been worked in. No. 59 and No. 62 are effective studies of New Zealand scenery, by J. C. Hoyte. No. 60, also by Hoyte, represents "Rose Gully, near Watson's Bay," and sea and sky are so much alike in tone that at first sight a vessel sailing near the horizon seems as though she were floating in mid-air. No. 61, "Distant View of Norham Castle," by E. Combes, will repay inspection, and No. 64, "Ravine, Kurrajong," by A. L. Jackson, would be an effective picture had the artist introduced some touch of bright colour to relieve the greens and browns which are the prevailing tints of it. No. 63, "Primrose and Crab Apple Blossoms," and No. 68, "Mountain-ash Berries," are two studies by C. Whitley, who paints flowers—as the French say—caressingly, and whose berries are a study of warm orange colour and clever shading. No. 65, "Middle Harbour, from near George's Head," and No. 67, "Bantry Bay, Middle Harbour," are a couple more of Hoyte's clever pictures. No. 66, "The Heads, Sydney," by J. T. Richardson, is rich in mellow umber and ochre shades; and 69, "London Bridge Rock, Portsea, Victoria," by F. B. Gibbes, shows much the same colouring. But in the case of the latter, the yellow-brown lines of rock, crowned with green, act only as a golden frame to a tiny little seascape, and are contrasted by the gay dresses of a pair of ladies in the foreground. No. 70, "Scene on the Hawkesbury River," by A. L. Jackson, is a clever picture, not so much for the drawing—though that is good—as for the soft golden light with which the whole scene is suffused.

Perhaps the best of Mr. Combes' pictures in the gallery is No. 71, "The Curfew," in which he has illustrated Gray's deeply poetic elegy. The seated figure in the foreground might be the poet himself, and the scene thoroughly expresses the sentiment of the opening stanza of the admirable poem:—

> "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day;
> The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea;
> The ploughman homeward plods his weary way,
> And leaves the world to darkness and to me."

Over the lea, with its misty boundaries, wind the herd and toils the ploughman, while the curfew bell in an old church tower hard by is manifestly tolling, and to the right a clump of aspens seem to be waving a trembling farewell to the dying twilight. The sky is gloomy with approaching night, and this dark tone, which seems to blend with and absorb every other tint, pervades the whole picture. No. 72, "Long Bay, Middle Harbour," is a picturesque little bit of harbour scenery, by J. C. Hoyte, in which the air is beautifully transparent and the water very natural. No. 73 is a collection of interesting portfolio sketches, by A. Collingridge; 74, "On Rush Farm-road, Parramatta," is carefully drawn; and 75, "Summer Roses," by Miss Levoy, is creditable, although the background might well be darker. No. 78, "Going to Market," by E. Combes, is a good companion for 71, for while in the latter the shades of evening form the study, in this the dim greys of morning, just before dawn, are represented. No. 81, "Mount Macedon," by Mrs. Parsons, might have been called Mount anything-else, since it is simply a combination of rugged boulders and a foaming waterfall; but for all that it is a meritorious work. No. 83, "Elderberries," is another of Mr. C. Whitley's pictures, and, like the others he has sent in, is a really excellent production, the berries with their purple bloom being especially true to nature. No. 84, "Hacking River from the Fountain," and No. 102, "On the Hacking River," by W. C. Piguenit, are evidently companion pictures, each presenting a pearly stretch of water shaded here and there by a few tall, slender gums, and shut in by a range of uplands. In each the river bears a yacht, fairy-like, as corresponds to a scene fit for the land of the Lotos-eaters, where and in each the sky is cool and bright, though its tints are warmer in 102 than in 84. No. 85, "View near Putney, Parramatta River," by A. Collingridge, shows a very mellow sky effect; and No. 87, "Temple of Nyeno, Japan," by J. Smedley, is a good study of architecture and curious figure-drawing. No. 89, "Narrabeen Heads," by H. Brees, has a well painted ship, but the vessel is rather too close in for safety, and the water has not the dark tints which the reflection of such a sky as the artist has introduced would impart. No. 90, "A reach on the Upper Hawkesbury;" 91, "The Ruined Church, Wiseman's Ferry;" 92, "Going West, on the Hawkesbury River;" 93, "The Kanimbla Valley, from Blackheath;" and 94, "Govett's Gorge, looking east," are charming miniature studies drawn for John Sands' series of chromo-lithographs of Australian scenery. No. 99, "Ketch making for Port," by J. Dalgarno, is a good picture, in which the water is much better in treatment than the sky is. No. 103, "Aqueduct near Paris," by A. Collingridge, shows dashing work; and No. 106, "On the Racecourse Hill, Daylesford," by Mrs. Parsons, displays splendid perspective and good colouring.

> "It seemed always afternoon;"

NEWTON v. THOMPSON, Agent Albany Lubricating Compound.
I, the defendant in this action, desire to apologise to Mr. NEWTON, the Plaintiff, for having published statements charging him with fraudulently imitating the Albany Lubricating Compound, and with endeavouring to impose upon an unsuspecting public thereby, and I admit that such charge was, as far as I am concerned, unjustifiable.
W. D. THOMPSON.
Witness—G. C. MURDOCH, Solicitor.
Dated this 6th October, 1881.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DAILY JOURNALS, October 3, 1881, as follows:—
S. M. Herald and Echo.
"Mr. James Kidman has recently erected a new shop at the corner of George and Market streets, which forms one of the architectural ornaments of the city. The building which has been constructed has taken the place of a number of insignificant erections which formerly occupied the site. It is four stories in height, the upper floors being divided into offices, which will doubtless let readily, considering that they occupy one of the finest situations in Sydney, while the ground floor forms a large and handsome shop, fitted up with every convenience that Mr. Kidman's long experience in the business could suggest. It was opened for the first time on Saturday, and until the closing hour was thronged with customers, and even by those who were merely attracted by curiosity to see the manner in which it was fitted and furnished."
Sydney Daily Telegraph.
"The opening of Mr. Kidman's 'Model Grocery Emporium of Australasia,' corner of Market and George streets, was celebrated on Saturday night with much eclat. Flags were festooned across George-street, Market-street, and York-street; the interior of the building was brilliantly lighted up, and the vast stores of provisions were arranged with taste and skill. Customers crowded in with orders in great numbers. Mr. Kidman's numerous delivery carts were kept busily employed. The new buildings devoted to the uses of the Model Grocery Emporium are as imposing and as extensive as any business establishment in Sydney. They occupy almost the length of Market-street from George-street to York-street. They are highly ornamental and very lofty, and Mr. Kidman's enterprise in achieving the alterations and improvements at the corner in question ought to be rewarded by a large accession of public support. A novelty is noticeable on the grocery counter, which traverses the whole length of the shop, into which nearly 80 sample boxes are fixed, thus giving the purchaser an opportunity of at first sight fixing upon any particular article he may desire to possess. Another counter runs along the end of the shop, which is devoted to the colonial produce department. A lime light affixed on the top of Hunter's City Boot Palace threw a brilliant stream of light on the building, which stood out in bold relief against the dark sky. This latest enterprise of Mr. Kidman, proving, as it does, to some considerable extent, the progress of colonial enterprise, will, it is expected, not only confer a boon on the public, but a handsome return to the promoter is confidently looked forward to."
Evening News.
"Mr. James Kidman's new business premises were opened on Saturday. The building was decorated with flags, and in the evening was illuminated by the electric light. It is a four-story building, constructed of brick, and is a great improvement upon the old edifice, which only four months ago occupied its place. The shop is commodious and really well furnished."

TO WOOL-GROWERS AND OTHERS.
Sydney, 14th September, 1881.
Gentlemen,—We beg to inform you that, in addition to our own stores, we have secured a portion of those recently erected by Mr. A. Hinchcliff at the Circular Quay, for the reception and disposal of wool during the ensuing season, which enables us to place at your disposal commodious and well-lighted premises.
The system started by us last year of showing each lot of wool during the time of auction sale, gives such general satisfaction to sellers and buyers that we determined continuing it.
All consignments (if only a bag) of wool are arranged so that buyers can thoroughly examine each lot prior to and during the time of sale, should they desire; this has enabled us to realize full values, as well as retain the confidence of buyers.
Our charges are exceedingly moderate, and considerably below the rates charged by the Associated Brokers.
Hoping to receive your wool for sale or shipment this season,
We are, yours faithfully,
BRUNKER and WOLFE, Auctioneers, Maitland and Sydney.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
To arrive by every San Francisco mail steamer, a full supply of the original American
ALBANY LUBRICATING COMPOUND and CUPS
Albany Cylinder, Spindle, and Winter-strained LARD OIL
West Virginia LUBRICATING OIL
Tatum and Bowen's Light Drop Continuous Feed Cylinder Cup.
To guard against any of the poor imitations, bearing in every detail our original name, trade mark, and general descriptions, our many patrons who wish to use the genuine Albany goods will look carefully to see that every tin bears our name and address in full.
TATUM and BOWEN.

THOSE SEWING-MACHINES.
Public opinion is generally conceded to pretty accurately define and determine what suits the public requirements, or something of that sort. Now, public opinion exercises itself with considerable freedom in the matter of Sewing-machines, and, as the result of that same public opinion,
THE NEW DAVIS SEWING-MACHINE stands to-day in the proud position of the CHAMPION MACHINE of AUSTRALIA. There's not a shadow of doubt about this, but if there were, here are proofs that would cause doubt to vanish like the mists the poets sing about. Read this:
THE NEW DAVIS SEWING-MACHINE, awarded only FIRST and SPECIAL prizes and gold medals for hand and treadle machines at Melbourne International Exhibition 1880-81; Sydney ditto 1879-80; Adelaide ditto 1881; Brisbane 1880; and first prizes wherever shown throughout the colonies.

IMPORTANT FACTS for FAMILIES and SEWING-MACHINISTS.
MELBOURNE EXHIBITION, 1881. Two First Prizes.
Extract from the Jury Report on Sewing-machines:—"The PREMIER PLACE was awarded to a WHEELER and WILSON MACHINE, which performed the feat of sewing together all the parts of a pair of moleskin trousers in NINE (9) MINUTES, doing its WORK SMOOTHLY and WELL."
ONLY GRAND GOLD PRIZE PARIS EXHIBITION, 1878, BEATING 80 COMPETITORS.
Reasons why the New Wheeler and Wilson are superior to all other sewing-machines:—
Have no shuttles, they have no cog-wheels, they have no heavy gear to tire and weary the feet. It is evident that the rotatory motion of the Wheeler and Wilson has much less friction than the shuttle movement of other machines; therefore the Wheeler and Wilson is much more durable and needs less repair.
The new WHEELER and WILSON has more and greater improvements than any other sewing-machine, and is the fastest, making over 1000 STITCHES PER MINUTE.
CAUTION.
Beware of hawkers and also puffing advertisements of inferior hard-running machines, which are highly injurious to the health of the operator.
Inspect the New Wheeler and Wilson ROTARY ACTION MACHINES, and Judge for yourselves.
They run by hand and foot, and are warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION. TIME PAYMENTS.

EQUITABLE PERMANENT B. BUILDING LAND, AND SAVINGS INSTITUTION, 248, Pitt-street.
Trustees—Robt. Hudson, Esq.; Chas. Bown, Esq.
THIRTY THOUSAND POUNDS.
Notice to the careful and thrifty citizen as well as to suburban residents.
WHY do you pay Rent? when by the aid of this Society you may purchase and occupy your own dwelling, and only pay a sum per week such as you have been previously paying a landlord. 5s 4d per week for each £100 advanced will pay principal and interest in about 10 years. The house is then your own.
Without doubt this is one of the best and most popular societies in Sydney.
Do not hesitate; there is no time like the present. Call at the office and make every inquiry; everybody is welcome.
£220,000 have already been advanced.
THOS. MILLER, Manager.

INDUSTRIAL AND PROVIDENT PERMANENT BUILDING AND INVESTMENT SOCIETY.
FIFTY THOUSAND POUNDS ready to be advanced on Freehold or Leasehold Security, repayments spread over any reasonable number of years. Intending Borrowers before deciding would do well to apply at the Offices of the above Society, where they can make arrangements as to repayments and terms to suit their convenience.
WILLIAM JARRETT, Manager.
171, York-street.

BUILDING SOCIETY ADVANTAGES COMBINED WITH LIFE ASSURANCE.
The Directors of the INDUSTRIAL and PROVIDENT PERMANENT BUILDING and INVESTMENT SOCIETY have now made arrangements by which, on a small additional sum being paid monthly or in one sum, Borrowers' mortgages will be redeemed in case of the death of the Borrowers during the currency of their loans.
Example.—A person, age 25, by paying £1 3s 8d per month for 10 years, may leave his property free should he die before that time; the ordinary repayments for a loan of £100 being £1 2s 6d per month. Or a person making the ordinary payments on a loan of £100, may leave his property free by a single payment of £6 1s 9d.
Again, he may insure the redemption of £10 or any multiple number of this sum, for one year, by paying 3s for each £10 at risk. Existing borrowers can thus insure the whole or any portion of the sum now owing by them, and as they pay off their loans yearly, so they can reduce the premium equal to the amount actually owing or at risk by them.
Tables, and all further information, can be obtained at the Society's Offices, 171, York-street, Sydney.

EXCELSIOR.
GRAND DIVISION OF PROPERTY.
The DREAMS of SOCIALISTS AND COMMUNISTS, now about to be realised.
EVERY MAN MUST BE HIS OWN LANDLORD.
They who are able to pay rent year after year are also able to buy a home of their own on the terms offered by this company.
FREEHOLD VILLA AND COTTAGE ALLOTMENTS, VILLAS, HOUSES, COTTAGES, and BUSINESS PREMISES are offered on TERMS TO SUIT PURCHASERS.
The Excelsior Land Investment and Building Company and Bank (limited) in addition to their large property the Elswick Estate, Petersham, have now purchased that magnificent estate situated at Marrickville, and known as THE WARREN, formerly owned and occupied by the Hon. Thomas Holt, and containing upwards of 140 acres of beautiful undulating land, having a frontage of upwards of 3000 feet to the most picturesque part of Cook's River, and also having large frontages to the Illawarra, Unwin's Bridge and Warren Roads.
Some of the advantages of this Estate may be summarised as follows:—
TORRENS' TITLE
WATER FRONTAGES
GRAND VIEWS
GOOD SOIL
WIDE ROADS, and
EASY ACCESS TO THE CITY, as the Illawarra Railway is surveyed to run through one side of the Estate, and the Terminus of the Marrickville Tramway, which is now in course of completion, will be at the other side.
THE BIRKENHEAD ESTATE, opposite Callan Park, containing 50 acres, has also been purchased by this Company. Here there are deep water frontages to Iron Cove Bay, and the Parramatta River; and the bridge now building by the Government renders it easy of access to the city. Title, Torrens'.
THESE GRAND ESTATES will be IMMEDIATELY SUBDIVIDED in a LIBERAL MANNER, into VILLA SITES, COTTAGE SITES, BUSINESS SITES, RESERVES FOR SCHOOLS AND CHURCHES, RESERVES FOR RECREATION, &c.
THOSE, THEREFORE, WHO ARE ABOUT TO PURCHASE HAD BETTER WAIT FOR THE AUCTION SALE OF THESE PROPERTIES, which will take place EARLY IN THE SPRING.
THERE WILL NEVER BE A BETTER OPPORTUNITY TO OBTAIN SPLENDID WATER FRONTAGES ON SUCH TERMS.
READ THE TERMS. READ THE TERMS.

OUR BERLIN LETTER.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.

The most important event of the last month was the understanding which has been arrived at between the Prussian Government and the Vatican regarding the appointment of a new bishop of the diocese of Treves. In my former letters I have already mentioned to your readers that nearly a thousand parishes are without priests in the Catholic districts of the Prussian monarchy, and that both the State as well as the Church have to suffer from this state of affairs, for the population is no longer accustomed to listen to the word of the Lord, and morals begin to become dreadfully deteriorated. It cannot be denied that the Curia is in the first line responsible for this unpleasant situation, for the Prussian Government has not asked or expected other rights from the Prussian State than the Curia had before granted to other countries. But the Vatican was not willing to make any concessions to a Protestant Government, and therein alone is to be seen the motives for the protracted struggle between Church and State in Prussia. The longer this war has lasted the more have the passions of the belligerents been weakened, and now the moment seems near at hand when both parties are truly inclined to conclude peace. During the last session of the Prussian Diet a bill was voted by which the Government was allowed to make several important concessions regarding the so often mentioned May laws. The new Minister of Public Worship has made use of those articles of this bill which could help to restore better relations between the clergy and the authorities, but these measures alone could not suffice for putting aside all those evils which had arisen in consequence of the heavy struggle. The dioceses are still for the most part without clergymen, and as also in many parishes their administrators, the had been elected with the consent of who Government, have died, it was necessary to fill up the vacancies. The Vatican and the Prussian Government entered into new negotiations; but as the Curia was at first not inclined to make the concessions asked for by Prince Bismarck, there was but little hope that an understanding would be come to. As, however, on one hand home affairs in Germany are at present so very complicated that the Government seems to be in need of the support of the Centre party; and as, on the other side, the Vatican must likewise wish to see peace restored in the interests of the Church, the negotiations have at last led to a better result. The Vatican proposed that Dr. Korum, until now coadjutor of the diocese of Staspburg, should be appointed Bishop of Treves; and the Government accepted this proposition all the more willingly as Dr. Korum seems to offer all necessary securities that he will use his influence to maintain peace. The Liberal press was, of course, not very satisfied with the transactions between the Curia and the Government, for they fear that the rights of the State will be sacrificed, and that the warfare which has been going on for the last ten years will have been waged in vain. And in this the Liberals are not far wrong, for the Government has not yet made known the conditions on which the arrangement between the two parties has been come to. This is all the more to be regretted, as the Ultramontane organs are very triumphant, for they declare that the Church has made no concessions whatever, and that the Government was obliged to give in on all points. Both parties seem, however, to somewhat exaggerate the present situation, for we hear from a trustworthy source that negotiations are still going on between the Vatican and the Government of Prussia, and that the conditions of peace have, as yet, not been fixed. The Government papers continue to assert that the Government will not make any concessions which would endanger the supreme right of the State, but that in all minor questions the wishes of the Church will be attended to. In any case, it is almost certain that the struggle between Church and State in Prussia will soon be brought to a close, and that this event will have a very perceptible effect on the development of home affairs in Germany.

The day for the general elections for the German Parliament has not yet been fixed by the Government, but it is believed that they will take place in the second half of October. The different parties are naturally very busy making their preparations for the occasion, which will probably bring with it many and great surprises for the political world. Neither the Government, nor in fact any party, will commence the campaign with a fixed programme, and therefore the whole struggle will partake of a purely personal character. It is therefore natural that the struggle between the different parties should be carried on in a very bitter spirit, and that the newspapers are every day full of accusations and retorts levelled by the supporters of the Government against the leaders of the Opposition, and vice versa. It cannot be denied that the Liberals have begun to carry on the compaign in a very undignified manner, but the Government organs have been only too ready to follow their example. Under such circumstances as these it is very difficult to say what will be the result of the elections, for the situation has been completely changed lately, especially as the Government seems resolved to conclude peace with the Vatican, and thereby to satisfy the demands of the Centre party. The organs of the latter continue, of course, to oppose the Government, and they assure their readers that the Centre party will not be seduced by the present peaceful attitude of the Government towards the Roman Church, and the abandonment of their political programme. It is, however, generally believed that they will soon receive direct orders from Rome to make as little opposition as possible to the Government, and to stop incensing the latter by their attacks. That this is all the more probable may be gathered from the fact that the Polish faction has already declared itself independent of the Centre party, which, indeed, never supported the claims of the Poles, but only used them for party purposes. The same course will be followed by the Guelph faction and other Particularists, who have until now supported the Central party in their opposition to the Government. Both the Poles and the Particularists will therefore join the Progressists and Successionists, who will for the future form the Opposition. Taking all things into consideration it seems likely that the Conservatives have a very good chance of obtaining a majority in the next Parliament, for the lower classes are by no means satisfied with the conduct of affairs during the rule of the Liberals in Germany. Many bills have been passed which have proved to be complete failures, so that it has been necessary to revise these bills, and to make many alterations. Commerce and industry have also suffered severely all over Germany during the last few years, and the Liberals are also made responsible for this lamentable state of affairs, for they are accused of having taken the initiative in proposing various bills regarding joint stock companies and many others, which were considered very dangerous for the commercial world at large, as they only benefited speculators. Finally, Liberals are also accused of having helped the Jews in emancipating themselves, and that to such an extent that the latter have acquired the upper hand in almost every walk of life. In order to fully convey to the minds of foreigners the meaning of this latter remark, it must be remembered that the Germans are nothing like as active and business-like as the Jews, and this is the reason why the latter will always surpass the former in commercial and many other matters. While the Jews can gain but little influence in England and France, in Russia or Italy, they have made themselves masters in Germany in the short period of thirty years in so far as concerns the money and corn markets, the greater part of the most important commerce, and a great part of the press, and they have succeeded in becoming not only teachers in Christian schools, but also judges, solicitors, and barristers. This would, however, be tolerated by the German people if the Jews had not lately begun to become more and more assuming, and to offend the well-educated classes by their arrogant and insolent behaviour. Some Stock Exchange papers tried to imitate the sensational papers of Paris and New York, by publishing every day particulars of the private affairs of persons and families of high rank in a very indecorous manner. In consequence, the anti-Semitic movement began to set in, and the agitation against the Jews soon gained such proportions that public order was endangered in many places. Particularly in certain districts of the provinces of Pomerania and West Prussia the people were much excited against the Jews, who have made themselves detested on account of their usurious practices; the authorities have, however, now taken all necessary steps to prevent disturbances again taking place. The Jewish press does, of course, rejoice very much at the failure of the anti-Semitic agitation; but apparently this triumphing comes somewhat premature, for as the anger against the Jews has not yet been perfectly crushed, it may revive at any moment. In any case it is probable that the Conservatives will profit by this state of affairs, and will get a greater number of their candidates returned.

The Socialists will commence in the electioneering campaign under the pressure of the Socialistic law, by which they are forbidden to make any agitation. Nevertheless the leaders of this party have made also their preparations, and it is probable that at least those deputies who had already sat in Parliament will again be returned for the great centres. While the preparations for the great elections in Germany are still going on, the French elections have already taken place. These elections were followed here with the greatest interest, for the result of them was to decide whether Gambetta would again become the leader of France or not. The ex-dictator has, during the electioneering campaign, made several speeches in which he has openly declared that he would never abandon his policy of revenge, and that he should always regard it as a holy duty to see Alsace and Lorraine united again to France. These words have, of course, excited great misgivings all over Germany, and the Germans are convinced that Gambetta will take advantage of the first opportunity to conclude an alliance with Russia in order to be able to take his wished-for revenge on Germany. Although Gambetta has only been returned by a small majority for the suburb of Belleville, he will, nevertheless, control such a strong majority of Republican deputies in the Chambers that he may be regarded as virtually the master of the situation. It is more than probable that Gambetta will soon assume the leadership of the Cabinet, and that his next step will be to make himself President of the Republic. All these changes are, of course, followed in Germany with the greatest attention, as they may bring on before long many untoward events. For the moment the situation is indeed not endangered by the result of the French elections, but the immediate future may probably bring with it many surprises. This is all the more likely since Gambetta has also shown a very bitter feeling against Italy. The Italians have gathered from the events which have taken place in Tunis that the French Government is in no way willing to support the claims of Italy, but that on the contrary they are doing all in their power to obtain for themselves the supremacy in the Mediterranean, and the Italians are thereby obliged to search for allies in another direction. The present Minister of Foreign Affairs in Rome has, in consequence of this potent fact, thought it wise to endeavour to restore friendly relations between Italy and Austria. The Vienna Cabinet had indeed to complain very often of the Italian Government for supporting the aspirations of the Italia irredenta, and for interfering in Albania against Austria. As the situation is, however, entirely changed, and as Italy has now to fear an attack from the side of France, the Italian Cabinet is trying to come to a full understanding with Austria, and at the same time with Germany. This project has occasioned very lively discussions in the European press during the last few weeks, and it may be expected that King Humbert will pay a visit to the courts of Vienna and Berlin during the month of October. No definite arrangements have as yet been made for this journey, but it is generally believed that it will certainly take place, and that thereby a new guarantee for the maintenance of peace will be given.

Emperor William has returned from Gastein in very good health and spirits, and after a short visit at Coblentz, where he visited the Empress, he has taken his abode at Babelsberg, where he works very much. In the beginning of September the great autumnal manœuvres begin near Hanover and in Holstein, and we are informed that the Crown Princess, as well as Princess William, will go there to witness the great military exercises. For the moment the Crown Princess is still in England with her younger children. The Crown Prince returned a few days ago. On September 22 the wedding of Princess Victoria, of Baden, with the Crown Prince of Sweden will take place. It is the day on which twenty-five years ago the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden celebrated their own wedding, and their silver wedding will therefore be celebrated at the same time. Great festivities are being planned in Carlsruhe. The Court of Sweden will of course be present, and it is hoped that also the Empress of Germany may be so far restored to health as to be able to assist at the wedding. Within the next few days the Empress Augusta will leave Coblentz for Baden-Baden.

TEBBUTT'S COMET.

(From the Athenæum, August 27.)

The American Journal of Science for the present month contains an interesting "Note" by Professor Henry Draper, of New York, on his experiments in photographing the spectrum of Tebbutt's comet. He had been for some time anxious to obtain some good photographs of a cometary spectrum, because, in examining those of the spectrum of the voltaic arc, a strong band or group of lines was found above H (in the extreme violet part of the spectrum); and supposing that the incandescent vapour of a carbon compound exists in comets, this band might be photographed in their spectra. Interposing a direct vision prism between the sensitive plate and the object-glass, a photograph of the spectrum of this comet was obtained after an exposure of 83 minutes, exhibiting those of the nucleus, coma, and part of the tail; but the banded spectrum of the coma was to a great extent overpowered by the continuous spectrum of the nucleus. Professor Draper afterwards applied the two-prism spectroscope used for stellar spectrum photography, thinking that although the diminution of light would be serious after passing not only through the slit, but also through two prisms and two object-glasses, yet the advantage of having a juxtaposed comparison spectrum made the attempt desirable, and moreover the continuous spectrum being more weakened than the banded by the increased dispersion, the latter would become more distinct. In this way three photographs of the comet's spectrum were obtained with exposures of 180, 196, and 228 minutes respectively (taking care to stop the exposures before dawn to avoid superposition of the daylight spectrum over that of the comet), and with a comparison spectrum on each. It is, of course, not possible for him yet to give the full interpretation of his results, but "the most striking feature is a heavy band above H which is divisible into lines, and in addition two faint bands, one between G and h, and another between h and H." Thus the hypothesis is strengthened of the presence of carbon in comets; but "a series of comparisons will be necessary, and it is not improbable that a part of the spectrum may be due to other elements." Prof. C. A. Young, of Princeton, New Jersey, also communicates a paper on spectroscopic observations of this comet, of which the following appear to be the principal results:—1. The spectrum of the nucleus was found to be for the most part simply continuous; but on several occasions it showed distinct bands, coinciding with those of the spectrum of the coma. 2. The spectrum of one of the jets which issued from the nucleus was isolated on June 29 and found to be continuous; this is probably, indeed, usually the case, but it is seldom possible to separate the spectrum of a jet from that of the nucleus sufficiently to be perfectly sure. 3. The spectrum of the tail appears to be a continuous spectrum overlaid by a banded spectrum, the same as that of the coma. 4. The spectrum of the coma shows only three bright bands, with a faint continuous spectrum connecting them. 5. All the comparisons made concurred in showing a close, and, so far as the dispersive power employed could decide, an exact, agreement between the spectrum of the comet and that of the Bunsen flame.

LAW REFORM.

The explanatory letter of Sir Alfred Stephen would appear to indicate that for some reason or other (probably from sheer despair) he has not of late persevered with his laudable efforts to promote law reform. It is a matter for regret that all modern English practice decisions are lost to us here, owing to the retention in this colony of an antiquated system of judicature and the non-adoption of the English Judicature Acts. South Australia and Queensland have adopted these Acts, which are also in force in Ireland, India, Hongkong, Jamaica, Ceylon, and almost every English dependency.

A Royal Commission (presided over by Sir W. Stawell, C.J.), has in Victoria recommended the introduction and adoption of these Acts in that colony. The same recommendation has been made in this colony by a select committee presided over by Mr. Farnell.

Notwithstanding all these facts, we still retain separate courts and jurisdictions of law and equity. We make no attempt to effect a fusion of the two systems, or to adopt the many great improvements effected by the Judicature Acts in England.

It is true that a committee of judges, Queen's counsel, and solicitors has been appointed by the Lord Chancellor (Lord Selborne) to enquire into and report as to any amendments or alterations required in the English Acts, but this is mainly with a view to endeavour to make the Acts work less expensively.

These Acts are as warmly supported and defended by the ex-Conservative Lord Chancellor (Lord Cairns) as by Lord Selborne.

At a recent banquet at the Law Institution, Mr. Justice Watkin Williams (formerly one of the leaders of the Bar in commercial cases, and one of the latest appointed Judges) expressed most decided approval of the Judicature Acts, and spoke of the great improvements effected thereby.

When the Premier was addressing the electors of East Sydney at the Masonic Hall, he gave a distinct pledge "that amongst other law reforms that his Ministry would bring forward, if elected, were measures for bringing our colonial system of judicature more in harmony with that of the mother country;" also, "measures for the amendment of the land laws having for their object the expediting and simplifying the transfer of land."

These pledges have not been redeemed. No one has a better opportunity than Sir A. Stephen has to call the Government to account for their failure to redeem the pledges given by Sir H. Parkes, and to introduce measures of law reform himself if the Government will not.

If the Government here would even appoint a strong Royal Commission (including therein some of the Judges, two or three leaders of both branches of the profession, the Attorney-General, and Minister of Justice) to take evidence and report as to the amendment of our system of judicature, it would be some advance. This was the preliminary step adopted in England, and on the report of the commission the Judicature Act was framed and introduced. The Equity Practice Amendment Act is only incomplete, and was admittedly only a temporary measure by way of experiment. Several valuable provisions of the English Judicature Acts are adopted by this Act, but many others are omitted.

It would be matter for congratulation if Sir A. Stephen, as one of the most influential workers in the cause of law reform, were to take up in the Council this important question. In another article it is proposed to point out some of the most valuable provisions in the English Act which may usefully be adopted in this colony, and also to submit where modifications thereof may usefully be made to meet local exigencies, facilitate and simplify the working of the Acts, and diminish expense in this colony.

In connection with the Judicature Acts is the question of a Court of Appeal. The resolutions passed at the late Intercolonial Conference, by which each colony agreed to bring forward a bill for the creation of a strong Intercolonial Court of Appeal, appear to have been ignored by the Ministry here. In Queensland, if not also in South Australia, better faith has been observed, and effect is being given to this resolution.

A more glaring instance of the apathy of the present Ministry on all questions of law reform is to be found in the continued and quite unjustifiable delay in legislating on the Land Acts, and for the reform of the Lands Titles Registry Office, in accordance with the recommendations of the Royal Commission presided over by the Hon. James Norton.

It may be well asked what earthly use are Royal Commissions if for five years or so the recommendations of the commissioners are to be, as in this case, simply ignored. Here again the Premier may be challenged with the non-observance of his distinct pledge to the electors of East Sydney.

Moreover, last session Sir Henry Parkes evaded answering a question asked in Parliament as to whether in the face of this report the Government intended to retain the services of two of the examiners of titles, and gave a pledge to the House that this matter would be dealt with by a bill to be introduced on this subject. How have these pledges been redeemed? It is much to be hoped that the attention of Parliament will be forcibly called, and that at an early date, to these instances of absolute neglect to fulfil or observe pledges publicly given by no less a personage than Sir Henry Parkes.

RAILWAY FREIGHT ON PRODUCE.

When the farmers' delegates from the Western districts recently visited this city to give evidence before the Commission appointed to consider the question of the conveyance of produce by railway, they were met with the statement that only evidence respecting freight would be acceptable, and that information regarding railway management would not be admissible. This not being consonant with the opinion of the Western farmers, the delegates, of whom there were eight, respectfully declined to appear before the Board as witnesses. Subsequently at the request of the hon. the Minister for Mines, they consented to furnish the Board with a statement of what the Western farmers required. It is understood by the delegates, that this statement, which is as follows, will be attached to the report of the commission:—"Sydney, 29th September, 1881. The Delegates of Farmers' Unions and others to the Railway Rates Board, Sydney. Gentlemen,—The railways having been constructed more for the purpose of developing the resources of the country than with a view to an immediate profitable return, we consider that farm produce especially should be carried at as low a rate as possible, as the promotion of agriculture is the surest way of developing those resources, and must indirectly prove the means of a large increase in traffic and revenue. Taking this view of the matter we consider that the following alterations should be made in the railway rates:—1. That agricultural produce should be carried for the first 50 miles at one penny per ton per mile, and for every mile exceeding 50 and not exceeding 100 miles, three-farthings per ton, and every mile exceeding 100 at a halfpenny per ton per mile. The minimum charge for truck to be—hay 3 tons, chaff 2½ tons, straw 2 tons. 2. That permission be given to send mixed consignments such as hay, potatoes, turnips, wheat, &c., at the same rate per ton. 3. That all dairy produce should be carried at special A rates. 4. That agricultural machinery be carried at first-class rates. 5. That poultry and pigs, in truck loads, be carried at the same rate as sheep. 6. That proper hay gauges and stages for loading purposes should be provided at all loading stations and sidings, and that weigh-bridges and cranes should be erected at all loading stations. 7. That where practicable, assistance should be given for loading, for which service a charge of one shilling per truck be made, and that the roping and sheeting should be performed by the department. 8. That all produce should be weighed by the department at the loading and unloading stations, free of charge, and receipt given for weights. 9. That sound sheets be used for covering all farm produce, and that the department be held responsible for any damage that may occur from insufficient covering. 10. That small consignments of produce, roots or seeds, for seed purposes, be charged for at actual weight, at special A class rates. We are, gentlemen, your obedient servants, Thomas Goodman, Alfred J. Pechey, M. W. Pascoe, Thomas Worboys, Thomas S. Pearse, Jacob Knight, John Parker, James Bonnor." At a meeting of the Spring Hill Farmers' Union, held a few days back, the whole question of rates was discussed and the action of the delegates endorsed.

THE JEWISH QUESTION IN GERMANY.—A Conference of the Orthodox Evangelical Clergy was held in Berlin on August 25, at which the Jewish question was discussed. The Rev. Mr. Plath, Inspector of Missions, described the Jewish community as a power hostile to Christianity, which was not content with enjoying equal rights with the Christians but aimed at absolute predominance. The speaker asserted the necessity of Christians freeing themselves from the supremacy of the Jews. The rights already accorded to them could be withdrawn, and Mr. Plath recommended the substitution of relative rights for the absolute civic equality which they now enjoyed. These rights, moreover, should be firmly kept within prescribed limits by means of special measures in order to break the Jewish autocracy. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the Conference.

SANDGATE—Botany Bay—fifth of November. Hardie and Gorman.—ADV.

MACQUARIE'S Estate, Macdonaldtown.—The sale of this extensive property takes place at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on Monday next, 10th October, at 11 o'clock. Richardson and Wrench, auctioneers.

LAW REPORT.

INSOLVENCY COURT.—FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7.

(Before the Acting CHIEF COMMISSIONER.)

SINGLE MEETINGS.

In the matter of Lavinia Eulalie Rose Higman. Insolvent was present, and was briefly examined in reference to her schedule. No debts were proved, and the official assignee having read his report, the meeting closed.

In the matter of James Croghan. Insolvent was in attendance, four debts were proved, and the official assignee read his report. Directions were given to allow the insolvent his household furniture and wearing apparel, and the meeting closed.

In the matter of William John Cotton. Nine debts were proved. Insolvent was examined by Mr E. Barton (for the official assignee), and stated that before he incurred the debt to D. Cooper and Co. he held a lease of certain land belonging to the Ultimo Estate, and at that time he owed about £1500, his assets being about £70 or £80; he mortgaged the lease, but did not realise enough to pay his creditors; at one time he carried on an hotel business in King-street, and subsequently had some booths at the Exhibition; both businesses proved unprofitable; when he went insolvent the lease of the hotel in King-street had 2½ years to run, and before he opened the house he gave the lease as security to Burrows and Gleeson. The official assignee having read his report, the meeting was adjourned to the 17th instant.

SPECIAL MEETINGS.

In the matter of Alfred R. West. Mr. Robertson, on behalf of the A. J. S. Bank, applied for leave to withdraw the bank proof of debt, as the endorser had paid the promissory note. The application was granted.

In the matter of Henry Arthur P. O'Connor. One debt was proved, and the meeting closed.

In the matter of Constantinus E. A. Hagger. One debt was admitted as a claim, and the meeting terminated.

In the matter of Walter Eyles. Insolvent was in attendance, and was briefly examined. No debts were proved, and the meeting closed.

In the matter of Charles J. Hawkins. One debt was proved, and insolvent was directed to file six months' accounts within six days. The meeting then closed.

In the matter of Eugene F. Rudder. One debt was proved, and the meeting closed.

FIRST MEETINGS.

In the respective matters of William Ralph M'Arthur and Stephen Muhleback. One debt was proved, and the meetings closed.

SURRENDER.

William Rixon, of Campbelltown, labourer. Liabilities, £70 11s. 3d. Assets, £3. Mr. Lloyd, official assignee.

RULE NISI.

Hugh Savage v. David Muir Travers, of Blue-gum Flat, Gosford, gentleman. Returnable 20th October. Mr. Stephen, official assignee.

SCHEDULE FILED.

George Anderson, of Sydney. Liabilities, £905 18s. 9d. Assets, £86 10s.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.—FRIDAY.

(Before Mr. District Court Judge MURRAY.)

CHAMBERLAIN V. KEROSENE OIL COMPANY.

Plaintiff in this case brought his action against the Australian Kerosene Oil and Mineral Company to recover the sum of £62 10s., amount alleged to be due for services rendered by him to the company in the capacity of accountant, the amount being made up of three weeks' salary from the 1st day of June to the 21st, at the rate of £16 13s. 4d. per month, and three months' salary, amounting to £50, from the 22nd day of June to the 22nd day of September, in lieu of the notice agreed upon between the parties. Evidence was adduced by the plaintiff to show that he was employed in the service of the defendant company from March until June 21 upon the terms agreed to by the company, and that he performed his duties efficiently and to the satisfaction of his employers. On the 22nd June, when a fresh quarter commenced, the plaintiff was unable to attend to his duties, owing to illness, and wrote to the company, informing them of the fact, having previously called at the office for a few minutes. Next day he received notice of dismissal. Defendants paid the sum of £10 10s. 3d. into court, and pleaded never indebted as to the remainder. The evidence of Mr. Lamb, one of the directors of the company, and other witnesses went to show that plaintiff absented himself from the office on the 21st and 22nd June, without permission, and that his duties as accountant and bookkeeper were not performed in a competent or satisfactory manner. It was admitted, however, that plaintiff, on the morning of the 22nd June, called at Mr. Lamb's private office, and said something about not being able to attend to his duties, and that Mr. Lamb, being busy with his own private affairs at the time, omitted to tell plaintiff that the company had dispensed with his services, the intimation being given to plaintiff on the following day. Plaintiff, being recalled, swore that he was engaged in the company's business on the 20th and 21st June, and that on the night of the 21st he was working in the office with the company's bookkeeper. The question to be determined was whether a new agreement had been entered into upon the termination of the first quarter. His Honor, after hearing argument, said that upon the oral evidence there was some difficulty in deciding the matter, but on the question of mere legal right plaintiff was entitled to a verdict for three months' salary. It was certainly hard upon the defendants that they should be bound by the omission to give plaintiff notice before the new quarter commenced, but plaintiff, as a matter of law, was entitled to recover. Verdict for plaintiff, £50, in addition to the amount paid into court. Mr. Bruce Smith, instructed by Mr. T. Read, appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. M'Cormick (for Mr. S. C. Brown) for defendant.

M'CARTHY AND ANOTHER V. KYNGDON.

Plaintiffs sued to recover the sum of £21 for a second-hand buggy sold to defendant, and for certain repairs thereto. Defendant pleaded that the vehicle in question was purchased by him under a special condition, namely, that it should be put into such a state of repair as to render it entirely new. A good deal of evidence was given as to what arrangement had been come to between the parties, and also as to the state of the buggy when plaintiff accepted delivery. His Honor gave a verdict to the plaintiffs for £15, with costs of four witnesses. Mr. J. M. Curtis appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. E. Barton, instructed by Messrs. Allen and Allen, for defendant.

POLICE.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

The Police Magistrate was assisted yesterday on the Criminal side by Messrs. Reading and Holborrow; and on the Summons side by Messrs. Neale, Barden, Ridge, Withers, and Hourigan.

Thirty-four persons were brought in custody before the Bench. Elizabeth Stevens was sentenced to be imprisoned three months, and Margaret Byrnes six months, on conviction of vagrancy. Three persons were fined 40s. each for using obscene language, to the annoyance of persons passing in public places, after midnight; one defendant was fined 20s. for riotous behaviour; and the rest, charged with drunkenness, were mulct in various amounts up to 20s.

On the Summons side, Sub-inspector M'Kay had a list of thirty-six complainants. Joseph Ryan was fined 20s. for endangering public safety by wantonly throwing stones; John Newman 5s., for keeping his tobacconist shop open on Sunday; William Bunk and Thomas Swadling were fined 20s. each, Ross M'Laughlin, Stephen Mulford, and John Sutcliff 10s. each, for keeping their public-houses open for the sale of liquor on Sunday; Ann Bloomer and Joseph King 2s. 6d. each, for conveying liquor from a public-house at an unlawful hour on Sunday; John Telfer 10s., for permitting dice to be used for the purpose of gaming in his public-house; and David Alger 5s., for neglecting to keep a lamp burning before his public-house from sunset to sunrise. Three persons were fined for having been found drunk in public places. A number of defendants were fined in sums from 5s. to 20s., for offences against either the Police Act or the Vagrant Act.

WATER POLICE COURT.

The bench was occupied yesterday morning by the Water Police Magistrate, Messrs. Marsh, Arguimbau, Hunt, Baydon, Scott, Penfold, and Lester.

A number of persons were punished for drunkenness or other minor offences.

George Emerson, a seaman of H.M.S. Wolverene, was fined 20s. or seven days for using obscene language in Phillip-street, 40s. or fourteen days for assaulting Constable Longfield in the execution of his duty, and ordered to pay 10s. for damaging Constable Mackie's uniform.

Charles Willis and John Paton, also seamen of the Wolverene, were each fined 60s. or three weeks' imprisonment for assaulting Constable Coates in the execution of his duty, and 40s. or fourteen days for making use of obscene language in Phillip-street. These men seem to have made matters in Phillip-street extremely lively for passers-by, assaulting them and the constables in a very free manner, and using offensive language towards them. They also gave much trouble to the constables at the Water Police Station before they could be locked up.

George Thompson, alias Castles, alias Montague, for having a meerschaum pipe in his possession reasonably supposed to have been stolen, was sent to prison for one month, with hard labour.

Daniel Healy was fined 10s or four days for being drunk in Argyle-street, and 40s or 14 days for using obscene language in Watson's-road.

Cornelius O'Keeffe, sailmaker, was fined 40s. or fourteen days for resisting Constable Doughty in the execution of his duty, and 25s. or seven days for damaging Constable Buckley's uniform.

John Martin was charged with having, on certain premises in Kent-street, kept a quantity of beef unfit for human food. Inspector Seymour said that on October 5 he visited the butcher's shop of defendant, in Kent-street; he found on a block there a piece of beef rotten and crawling with maggots; he seized it because it was unfit for human food, and he showed it to a magistrate, who ordered it to be destroyed; defendant said he did not intend to sell it, and that he had it in the shop since the previous Saturday; he added that he intended to leave the business, as it did not pay him. George Baker said he accompanied Inspector Seymour to the shop; he also saw the beef, which was rotten and crawling with hundreds of maggots; defendant said, "I did not sell the meat to the woman," and that his man must have done so. Lyall Scott, a magistrate, stated that Inspector Seymour waited on him with the meat; he ordered it to be destroyed, for it stank abominably, and had maggots half-an-inch long in it. Catherine Power, living in Kent-street, said she knew the defendant; he took money for meat, which his man served her with; she looked at the meat and said, "I'll have my money back, this meat is bad;" it had maggots in it, and defendant said, "It's too good for you;" he gave her her money back, throwing it on the floor, when she took a constable to the place. Constable W. Scott was also examined, and said that he saw a lot of bad meat in the place; the defendant said he did not intend to sell the meat, and to the woman he said, "You knew what you were buying;" the people of the district were of the poor class. Evidence was given for the defence to show that the shop was leased by another man than the defendant, and that the woman had purchased old bones, which the defendant at first declined to give her. The Bench considered the case proved, and fined the defendant £20, levy or distress, or three months' imprisonment.

Bridget Cheers, 21, servant, pleaded guilty to having stolen two rings and one pair of earrings, valued at 29s., the property of John Smith, and was fined 20s. or seven days.

H. A. Wilson, charged with deserting his wife, was ordered to pay her 10s. a week for twelve months.

Alfred H. B. Blizzard, a one-armed man, was proceeded against by Archibald Rainey, master-at-arms on board H.M.S. Wolverene, for having assisted Charles Smith, an ordinary seaman of H.M.S. Carysfort, to desert. Mr. Lowe appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Cooke for the defence. The prosecution depended principally upon the evidence of Smith, who, at an inquiry held on board the Wolverene, testified in writing to what had taken place in connection with his desertion. Smith was called, and said that in August he obtained leave to go ashore; he had previously been put on the black-list because he permitted something to go wrong with a royal yard; while connected with a training-ship at Plymouth he knew defendant, who kept a public-house there, and on shore here he went as a friend to his house at Balmain; he met defendant in a Sydney theatre, and subsequently had a conversation with him about deserting, when defendant told him to do as he liked, as he would not advise him to desert or go on board again. A subsequent statement from Smith, however, revealed the fact that defendant had said that he was very stupid to remain on the black-list, and that he ought not to go aboard any more. Smith then made up his mind to desert. He stayed at defendant's house, bought some private clothes, and went to the Liverpool district, leaving his uniform behind him. As he could get no work in the country he returned to Blizzard's place, where he hid himself for several days, fearing the police would apprehend him. The police had, however, obtained clues as to his whereabouts, and arrested him at the first opportunity. He had food and lodging at defendant's house, for which he promised to pay, but he obtained no money. The defendant treated him well, and he regarded him only as an old friend, and he did not know how much he owed him, although he promised to pay his what was due. Some constables were examined as to the manner of Smith's arrest, and, at the conclusion of their evidence, the Bench said they considered the charge proved, and fined the defendant £20, with 6s. 2d. costs of Court, and £5 5s. complainant's costs, or two months' imprisonment.

In the License Court, temporary extensions of licenses were granted to C. P. Stretton and George Adams.

Inspector Oram, in the Summons Court, obtained twenty-two convictions against persons who had committed breaches of the transit bylaws.

Inspector Seymour obtained twenty-nine convictions against persons who had committed breaches of the Municipal bylaws, in which the fines varied from 10s. to £20. For loitering on footways, Patrick Burns was fined £3, and Annie Coma £1. Several persons were fined for driving across intersections of streets at paces faster than a walk, or driving on the wrong sides of thoroughfares. For permitting filth to remain on their premises, Joseph Casemens was fined £2 and costs, and James Graham and Frederick Smith each £1 and costs.

NEWTOWN POLICE COURT.

On Thursday, before Mr. Alexander, J.P., W. Moore was charged by Mary Mackinley with keeping a ferocious dog, which attacked her; fined 40s., with 4s. 11d. costs, or one month's imprisonment. On Friday, before Messrs. W. Bailey and J. Kingsbury, Js.P., — Preston, charged by A. Bramey with assault, was discharged. A wine license was granted to J. T. Page, Enmore-road; and the license of the Freemasons' Tavern, Burwood, was transferred from Thomas Spencer to John Sturt.

THE LATE MR. BENTHAM, C.M.G., F.R.S., &c.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Now that the illustrious botanist who has done so much to develop the vegetable resources of Australia has passed away, I send to you for publication a copy of the subjoined letter, which I had the honour to receive from him whilst he was engaged on the third volume of the "Flora Australiensis." By that letter it will be perceived that the venerable writer felt the immense difficulty of describing plants simply from dried specimens, and that he regarded the co-operation of Baron F. von Mueller as a matter of the greatest importance. It is not generally known that at the time the publication of our "Flora" was in contemplation the Baron had actually intended to prepare a similar work, but that, at the suggestion of the late W. S. Macleay, F.L.S., and other scientific friends, he gave up his long cherished projects in Mr. Bentham's favour, as it was considered necessary that the author of our "Flora" should have the opportunity of examining the European herbaria where the published types were deposited. Mr. Bentham regarded the Baron's conduct as "a signal proof of the generosity of his disposition and the absence of all selfishness," and therefore, whilst the one had the means of examining the accumulated specimens which had been forwarded to Europe since the foundation of the colony, the other was able to furnish valuable descriptions from living plants, as well as copious notes respecting their peculiar habit and geographical range.

It is pleasing to think that these great men worked together so harmoniously for more than 16 years, and that they were permitted to bring to a satisfactory termination the seven volumes of our "Flora." Whilst the arrangement and execution of that work must ever remain as a monument of Mr. Bentham's genius and perseverance (and for which, indeed, the Australian colonies should ever feel grateful), we may rejoice to think that the mantle has fallen upon one who, by the elaboration of his "Eucalyptographia," is carrying into effect the plan indicated by Mr. Bentham in 1865. In following up the labours of Brown, Cunningham, and Bentham—names which must ever be associated with the progress of botany in Australia—the Baron is not only gaining for himself a world-wide reputation, but he is facilitating the study of eucalyptus, "the most dreadful of all genera;" whilst I may add that the artificial system of classification suggested by Mr. Bentham for the grouping of species, may long connect his honoured name with a genus that had puzzled all preceding botanists.

I am, &c.,

W. WOOLLS.

Richmond, October 1.

"25, Wilton-place, London, S.W., October 17, 1865.

"My Dear Sir,—I have to thank you for occasional articles of yours on the botany of your neighbourhood, and also for the notices of my "Flora." I have no doubt this work will be full of errors, but I work hard and do my best. Thanks to the very rich collections I have before me (and which have been so materially added to by those sent me by Dr., now Baron Mueller), I have more means of identifying species than any one else has had. On the other hand, specimens of species from half a hundred to a hundred stations are often bewildering, and I am under the great disadvantage of never having observed the plants in their native stations as I have for European plants; and although Dr. (Baron) Mueller's own and his collectors' memoranda, which he has so liberally communicated to me, are most important, a very large number of specimens have none. So long as his "Victorian Flora" preceded me I had a great assistance; but beyond that, valuable as his descriptions, &c., are of individual species, I have no complete monograph of any large genus to guide me, and the dividing into groups is the most difficult part of the whole business.

"Having finished the other Myrtaceæ, I am now at Eucalyptus, the most dreadful of all genera for the monograph, but I had at the outset begged Dr. (Baron) Mueller to do it entirely himself, but he had not time, so that all I can now do is to verify the old species, which will be all named in his herbarium, and to give in my "Flora" such a rough account of the genus as is within my power, trusting that he will then give us an elaborate monograph with plates, which from him would be most valuable. Your notes in in your remarks on the botany of the Berrima range, and especially those attached to your specimens, have been and will be very useful to me. I have got through most of the New South Wales and Tasmanian species, but I think it will take me a couple of months more hard work of six or seven hours a day to get through the genus, for I always, after having done a genus, go over the whole ground a second time, and often a third.

"I am glad to see you have joined the Linnean Society. I trust you will find our publications useful. It is to them, and to our library—especially to the publications—that we devote all our funds, having entirely given up forming a museum, which to be useful in a place where there are such immense national ones as in London, would be beyond the means of any private society.

"Had I been twenty years younger, I should probably have gone over to make personal acquaintance with the botany and botanists of Australia. As it is, I fear I must only hope to shake hands with yourself and others who have joined our ranks, on the chance of your being tempted to pay a visit to the old country. Yours very truly,

"GEORGE BENTHAM."

The Scotch Presbyterians of Canada have been thrown into a violent commotion by the evil example set by the Marquis of Lorne in travelling from Halifax to Quebec on Sunday. Sunday—or, rather, Sabbath—travelling is, says a home paper, no doubt equally condemned by the straiter sect of Presbyterians both in Scotland and in Canada: but the Marquis of Lorne has only done what greater personages at home are constantly in the habit of doing. We never hear of Presbyterian Scotland being scandalised by the Sunday travelling of great persons, and it is difficult at first to see why the Canadians should be more sensitive. The odd part of the Canadian story is that the Marquis of Lorne, ex majori cautela, took with him a Presbyterian doctor of divinity, the result being that the Canadians have two backslidings to mourn over and to sneer at instead of one.

DYNAMITE AND BLASTING GELATINE.

(From the Mining Journal, July 2.)

The circumstances attending an explosion of these explosives in the Minera mine, near Wrexham, on March 22, have been investigated by Lieutenant-Colonel Majendie, C.B., chief inspector of explosives, and his report to the Home Secretary has just been presented to Parliament. All who could have known anything definitely of the cause of the explosion having been killed, nothing absolutely conclusive has been ascertained. Both the dynamite and blasting gelatine were supplied direct from the manufacturers to Captain Penrice (late R.E.), who was testing an improved system of tunnelling which he has invented, and which consists in first driving a central hole some 10 feet deep, and then enlarging for which about four holes suffice; he claims that with these five holes he does as much work as is now done with 25 or 30 holes. The system of tunnelling does not appear to have had anything to do with the explosion.

The report explains that Blasting Gelatine No. 1 consists of nitro-cotton combined with thoroughly purified nitro-glycerine, and containing not less than seven parts of such nitro-cotton in every 100 parts of blasting gelatine, the whole to be of such character and consistency as not to be liable to liquefaction or exudation. Nitro-cotton, consisting of nitro-cellulose, carefully washed and purified, and of such composition that not less than 70 per cent. of the dry material shall be soluble in nitro-glycerine. Lieut.-Col. Majendie mentions that the material as first licensed was thus described:—"Blasting Gelatine No. 1, consisting of collodion cotton, as hereinafter defined, combined with thoroughly purified nitroglycerine, and containing no less than seven and not more than ten parts of such collodion cotton in every hundred parts, the whole to be of such character and consistency as to prevent liquefaction or exudation. Collodion cotton consisting of nitro-cellulose thoroughly washed and purified, and of such composition that at least 95 per cent. of the dry material shall be soluble in a mixture of ether and alcohol." It is added that Blasting Gelatine No. 1, in its ordinary condition, is a light brown or greenish brown stiff elastic jelly, the gelatinous character being the result of the solvent action of the nitroglycerine upon the soluble portion of the nitro-cotton, and the thickening influence upon the nitroglycerine of the nitro-cotton so dissolved, and it will be observed that it is a material point of the specification that the substance shall not be "liable to liquefaction or exudation," the evil sought to be guarded against by these controlling words being the formation of liquid explosive such as would arise either if the nitroglycerine exuded or became separated from the nitro-cotton, or if the gelatinous mass itself became dissolved and liquefied.

Lieutenant-Colonel Majendie was fortunately able to procure for the purposes of examination samples from both the consignments of blasting gelatine which had been supplied to Captain Penrice, and the result of Dr. Dupré's examination of these samples is decidedly unsatisfactory on the important point of the liability of the material to liquefaction. It is observed that with regard to the ⅞in. cartridges which formed the first consignment, Dr. Dupré reports that "on thawing, a considerable portion of very liquid gelatine ran out of the cartridge, which in consequence was in a dangerous condition. The material was very soft at ordinary temperatures, and almost semi-fluid at 100° Fahr. It does not correspond to the definition in the license in regard to its physical condition. In regard to purity the condition is satisfactory." Again, it "was frozen hard when received, and on thawing (at 73° Fah.) a rather large quantity of liquid gelatine ran out." Of the 1¼-inch cartridges which formed the last consignment, and which were almost certainly those which were in the holes at the time of the accident, Dr. Dupré reports:—"On thawing a considerable portion of very liquid gelatine exuded or ran out of the cartridge, which in consequence was in a dangerous condition. The material did not correspond with the definition given in the license as it shows a very strong tendency to exude or partially to liquefy. In regard to purity the condition is satisfactory." Again, "when received it was frozen hard, and on thawing even at so low a temperature as 75° Fahr., a quantity of liquid gelatine ran out, and on slight pressure more liquid could be pressed out of the mass." This corresponds with a statement made to Lieut.-Colonel Majendie by one of the miners (Ephraim Odgers), who in reply to his inquiries said he did not like blasting gelatine at all (as compared with dynamite), because of the quantity of liquid which "ran out of it" when it was thawed. He thought it dangerous.

It will be observed that even when exposed to a temperature of 73° this gelatine liquefied to a considerable and (in Dr. Dupré's opinion) dangerous extent. The conclusion is therefore inevitable that the same blasting gelatine, when exposed to a sensibly higher temperature in the hole, must have behaved in the same way. It is therefore certain that the man who was charging the hole was dealing with an explosive of exceptional sensitiveness, due in part to the liquefied condition of a portion of the mass, and in part to the fact that the whole mass had been exposed for some time to a somewhat elevated temperature. It is hardly necessary to conjecture whether this condition was not also probably aggravated by the presence of liquid nitro-glycerine, which would have exuded from the dynamite if the hole contained any water, which if it had been sluiced out as usual with water, it probably did.

ENCAMPMENT OF CADETS.

The annual encampment of the cadets attached to the Sydney Grammar School, and All Saints' College, Bathurst, was held this year at Mittagong. The Grammar School cadets, under command of Captain Weigall, moved into camp on Saturday, September 24, and were joined at an early hour on the morning of Tuesday, September 27, by a detachment from Bathurst, under command of Captain Bean. The weather during the encampment was favourable, except on Wednesday, when it rained all day. During the whole time strict military discipline was observed. There was a daily parade, and a daily inspection of tents, arms, and accoutrements; sentries were posted day and night; and on Thursday and Saturday afternoon one half of the company, under command of Sergeant-instructor Hagney, went out as an attacking party, while the other half company, under command of Captain Weigall, remained to defend the camp. On Friday evening the boys gave an entertainment at Bowral on behalf of the local School of Arts, and repeated the entertainment the following night at Mittagong, Mr. Southey having kindly allowed them the use of the Oaklands schoolroom. On Sunday afternoon the Rev. Stanley Howard held a service in the camp, and preached an impressive and thoroughly practical sermon. The cadets returned to Sydney on Monday, October 3. It is gratifying to learn that no sickness, accident, or casualty of any kind occurred, and that the behaviour of the cadets throughout was characterized by prompt obedience to orders, cheerful endurance of hardships, and gentlemanly demeanour both in and out of camp. The following is a copy of the printed camp regulations, which were strictly enforced:—"1. No N.C. officer or cadet shall go one mile from camp without a pass signed by his commanding officer. 2. All N.C. officers or cadets leaving camp must be properly dressed, with their waist belts on. 3. All N.C. officers and cadets are strictly forbidden to damage property, such as crossing fields of corn, breaking down fences, setting the bush on fire, or lighting fires of any kind. 4. All N.C. officers and cadets, when on leave or otherwise must remember to behave in a gentlemanly manner. 5. The tents will be inspected daily at 9.45 a.m. 6. There will be a daily parade at 10.15 a.m. 7. Breakfast, 8.30 a.m.; dinner, 1 p.m.; supper, 5.15 p.m. 8. Each tent will supply two orderlies daily to fetch rations. 9. A cup of tea or coffee will be provided to the night guard at midnight, to be taken to them by the cook. 10. All lights must be put out at tattoo, and after tattoo there must be no noise in the tents. 11. The rifle company will supply the night guard, the carbines the day guard, in such a manner as will hereafter be notified. 12. Guards will mount daily at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m. 13. Sentries are forbidden to loiter about on their posts, or to talk. 14. No offensive matter must be allowed near the tents."

FOR PRIVATE SALE,
Magnificent Fattening Station,
KIENGAL and WILLMORINGLE,
Warrego District, N. S. W.
These Stations form a compact block of about 437,000 acres of unsurpassable saltbush plains, and lightly-timbered ridges, equally well adapted for sheep or cattle. Intersected and permanently watered by the Culgoa, Birrie, and Barbut Creeks, and some fine springs.
To be sold with the famous herd of cattle, about 9500 head, especially well bred. For full particulars, see Herald of 31st August last. Plans, &c., from GRIFFITHS and WEAVER,
Corner George and Hunter streets, Sydney.

MITCHELL DISTRICT, QUEENSLAND.
FOR PRIVATE SALE.
THE BIMERAH STATION, situated on the Thompson River, about 140 miles west of Blackall, and adjoining those noted pastoral properties Corella, Tocal, Westland, and Ruthven.
Bimerah contains an area of ABOUT 500,000 ACRES of the most unrivalled saltbush downs country, thickly covered with Mitchell, blue, and barley grasses, and all the choice varieties of cotton bush, blue bush, and herbage indigenous to this noted belt of country, and on which both sheep and cattle thrive and fatten to an unlimited extent.
The STATION is abundantly and permanently watered by about 32 miles frontage to the main channels of the never-failing Thompson River, and by the Emu and Moonda Creeks and their tributaries.
The coolibar trees on the river and creek frontages afford sufficient timber for building and fencing purposes, and on the crests of the ridges there are pretty clumps of boree, which shelter the stock.
The whole of the run is free from scrub, is clear of native dogs, kangaroos, wallabies, and other noxious vermin, has not a vestige of hurtful grass seed in it, and is of the best wool-growing character.
The HOMESTEAD, which is located on Bimerah Creek, near the centre of the run, consists of COMFORTABLE SIX-ROOMED COTTAGE, built of sawn timber, with detached kitchen, stables, and outbuildings, also HUTS, WOOLSHED, WOOLSTORE, HORSE PADDOCK, STOCKYARD, &c., &c.
At the cattle station on the river is a stockman's hut, stockyard, tailing-yard, and horse paddock, and there are two other outstations at Stonehenge and Emu Creek, with stockyards and horse paddocks.
About 80 miles of newly erected wire sheep and cattle proof fences enclose and subdivide about 150,000 acres into 4 paddocks, and the erection of another 50 miles of fencing would amply provide for 100,000 sheep.
The run is now less than half stocked with very carefully bred sheep and cattle, say, 11,000 CHOICE DURHAM CATTLE, a mixed herd, and including about 1500 fats.
ABOUT 23,000 FULL FLEECED SHEEP, of which some 13,000 are lambing ewes, including 15,000 now dropping their first lambs to Glengullan rams, the ewes having been bought of Mr. A. H. M'Culloch, of Colane, near Cannonbar, and Messrs. Hayley and C. and F. Dutton.
THERE ARE ABOUT 250 HORSES, extensive plant, stores, drays, &c.
Investors are specially invited to inspect this fine property, which is brought into the market owing to the expiration of the present proprietors' partnership.
THE FAT STOCK
have for many years been well known in both the Adelaide and Rockhampton markets.
Goods and wool are now conveyed to and from Withersfield railway station at about 8s per cwt., and the extension of this railway, which will shortly be opened to Barcaldine, will bring Bimerah within 100 miles of railway communication with Rockhampton.
As, however, the further extension of the Queensland railways (both Rockhampton and Transcontinental) pass northerly from Barcaldine, there is no fear of the leases of Bimerah, which have being cancelled, or of its being necessary to purchase any land on the station.

THIS PRICE LIST.—Persons who may read this advertisement must not think that because the prices of some articles are ridiculously low the goods are very common; they are by no means the commonest goods—we have lower prices still; but the fact is competition now in the Drapery Trade is so keen, not only in Sydney but with manufacturers in England, that good articles can now be had at very low prices. Moreover, we confine our business to goods we have had a large experience in, and do not require the aid of either grocery, crockery, boots and shoes, furniture, or such like commodities to sustain our ever-increasing business. Neither have we to seek profits to pay for expensive palaces, emporiums, or unwieldy warehouses, and as a consequence we can publish such a list of prices in this advertisement for sterling good articles, which may cause many persons to think that they are too cheap to be good.

BOYS' CLOTHING.—Mothers of families and others who have found it a difficult matter to keep boys nicely clad, will find it comparatively an easy matter after inspecting our stock. We do the largest business in Australia in Boys' and Youths' Clothing, notwithstanding all the competition. We still hold our own for Boys' articles, and sell upwards of a Thousand Boys' Suits per week. This grand result has been attained gradually in consequence of allowing nothing but good wearing materials to come into our stock.

Our instructions to the manufacturers at home are, no matter how low the price, we must have Good Wearing Material, a Good Fit, and Strong Sewing. You ought to see our best 7s 6d Suits.

PALACE EMPORIUM.

ANTHONY HORDERN and SONS, HAYMARKET (ONLY).

FIFTY THOUSAND PERSONS PASSED THROUGH THE PALACE EMPORIUM on Thursday and Friday evenings in this week. There was but one opinion expressed, namely, that the structure in all its beauty, and the stock it contains, are two of the chief wonders in Australia. "THERE IS NOTHING LIKE THEM ON THIS SIDE OF THE EQUATOR," was the common remark. "IT IS THE GARDEN PALACE REVIVED," said others. The wonder was intense, and generally expressed in words.

MEN'S CLOTHING. This day we exhibit first-class clothing, unrivalled at their prices, for STRENGTH, FASHION, and BEAUTY.

Superior Coats, all kinds. Trousers, superior cut.

BOYS' CLOTHING. Vests, perfect in finish.

YOUTHS' CLOTHING. WE CALL ATTENTION TO OUR STOCK of WHITE SHIRTS of EXCELLENT QUALITY, ONLY 11s 6d THE HALF-DOZEN.

These Shirts are a marvellous bargain.

Our YOUTHS' and BOYS' CLOTHING maintains its long reputation for excellence and cheapness.

Men's Half-hose. Men's Neckties.

Men's Collars. Men's Gloves.

HATS. Our Clothing Department is still in George-street, closely adjacent to the Palace Emporium itself.

Superb Paris Hats, 8s 6d. Men's Shell Hats, 7s 11d.

Soft and Other Felts. Smoking Caps.

THE PYRAMID OF HATS. OUR HAT DEPARTMENT IN GEORGE-STREET DOES THE MOST EXTENSIVE TRADE OF ANY HAT ESTABLISHMENT IN AUSTRALIA.
SEE THE PYRAMID OF HATS IN OUR GEORGE-STREET WINDOWS!
SEE THE PYRAMID OF HATS IN OUR GEORGE-STREET WINDOWS!

Straw Hats. Straw Hats.

Straw Hats. Leghorn Hats.

OUR NEW SHOW ROOM. The Show Room is on the first floor of the great Palace Emporium. In it is the MILLINERY Department, the COSTUME and MANTLE Department, and that for Ladies' and Children's BOOTS and SHOES. There are LADIES' HATS of all shapes, such as LADIES' HATS.

CHERRY RIPE
GARDENER'S DAUGHTER
GRANNY
TORRODON
CROCUS
LYCEUM.

DOLMANS. The TRIMMED MILLINERY is really a picture. It is superb and attractive in every sense of those words.

MANTLES. Silk, Satin, Cashmere Dolmans. Silk and Satin Mantles.

Ladies' Jackets, of beautiful material.

JACKETS. These DOLMANS and JACKETS are beautifully adapted to the spring and summer seasons. The COSTUMES in this department are of all prices and materials. There are WASHING COSTUMES, very neat and pretty. They are made in the latest fashions.

BOOTS and SHOES. You ascend the grand staircase for this department. THE BOOTS and SHOES for LADIES and CHILDREN are GIVING the PUBLIC the UTMOST SATISFACTION. There are boots for walking, for home use, and for evening wear.

SLIPPERS. There are comfortable SLIPPERS, which it is a luxury to wear.

FANCY DEPARTMENTS. RIBBONS. In this Department, which is strikingly beautiful, you may buy SHADED RIBBONS, plain and broche, from 5d to 1s 6d per yard.

LACE. Moreover, you may buy the most lovely LACE, whether CREAM, GOLD SPANISH, VERMICELLI, MONTESPAN, CORALINE, ANTIQUE, &c. In fact,

We have THOUSANDS OF DOZENS OF LACE, from 3½d per dozen up to 10s 6d per yard.

GLOVES FOR LADIES. You may buy all sorts of Gloves, and among them our famous "PALACE KID GLOVE." Nothing can exceed it for neatness and beauty.

CORSETS. The "PALACE CORSET" is fast becoming a positive favourite. It is a LUXURY in point of FIT, SHAPE, and ADAPTABILITY.

FLOWERS. We hear much about lovely spots where FLOWERS GROW. In the PALACE EMPORIUM there is a great profusion of them. They are so natural that they appear to have GROWN THERE.

SUNSHADES. These are very beautiful at the Palace Emporium. Many are trimmed tastefully with lace. You ought to see them.

PERFUMERY. We have choice Scents in the Fancy Department, in great variety, together with soaps of various kinds, and ornamental stationery.

Within the limits of a single advertisement it is simply an impossibility to mention a tenth part of the resources of the Palace Emporium, Haymarket.

We have but ONE address and NO BRANCHES, and our card of business may be stated thus—

NEW TESTIMONIALS on the EFFICACY OF THE REMEDIES of GRIMAULT and CO., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Paris: 8, Rue Vivienne, 8, Paris.

DISEASES OF THE CHEST CURED.
I compliment you for your SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITE OF LIME. I employ it daily amongst adults or children who are attacked with diseases of the lungs and liver. It outvies every other preparation of the day.
J. H. LANG, Medical Doctor, Lake Kellambete, Zerang, Victoria.

CONSUMPTION CURED.
I have published several well-confirmed cases of phthisis pulmonalis, one of which with the complete destruction of one of the lungs, cured by the use of DUSART'S WINE AND SYRUP together with raw meat as food.
Dr. DELZENNE, of the Paris Faculty.

ASTHMA CURED.
We owe it to truth to state that all the physicians who have prescribed to their patients GRIMAULT and CO.'S INDIAN CIGARETTES are unanimous in telling them that their effect in asthmas, chronic catarrhs, and inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, palate, and bronchiæ is most surprising.—Vienna Medical Gazette (Austria).

SICK HEADACHE and NEURALGIA VANQUISHED.
By taking one of the GRIMAULT and CO.'S GUARANA POWDERS, and remaining quiet when I have premonitory symptoms of SICK HEADACHE by a beginning of pain, I have put it off for two months (something which had never occurred in my life before).
Dr. WOOD, Montreal.

FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

CLARKE'S
WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE,
The GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and RESTORER, for CLEANSING and CLEARING the BLOOD from all impurities, cannot be too highly recommended.
For Scrofula, Scurvy, Skin and Blood Diseases, and sores of any kind, it is a never-failing and permanent cure.
Clears the Blood from all Impure Matter, From whatever cause arising.
As this mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the proprietor solicits sufferers to give it a trial, to test its value.
THOUSANDS of TESTIMONIALS from all parts.
Sold in bottles, 2s 6d each; and in cases containing six times the quantity, 11s each—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases—by all CHEMISTS and PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the world.
Trade Mark—"Blood Mixture."
Proprietor, F. J. CLARKE, Chemist, Lincoln, England.

IMPORTANT TO INVALIDS.—The Tonic Essence of CHIRETTA and QUININE, for weakness of the stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, nervous debility, extreme lassitude, and ague, and is particularly useful in the incipient or first stage of decline. This purely vegetable tonic, having been in use for many years, and having been extensively prescribed by the Faculty, is now established as the safest and most efficacious medicine of its class ever offered to the public. It will agree with persons of the weakest constitution, and can safely be administered to persons of all ages; and in all cases, after taking a few doses, a decidedly beneficial effect has been the result. As a "Summer Tonic" it stands unrivalled. Sold in bottles, 3s 6d and 6s each. Prepared exclusively by A. J. WATT and CO., 598, George-street South, opposite the Police Station, Sydney.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated publicly in Court that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne, that the whole story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, and he regretted to say it had been sworn to.—Times, July 13, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.—The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in cholera was Chlorodyne.—See Lancet, December 31, 1864.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne "is prescribed by scores of orthodox practitioners. Of course it would not be thus singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place.'"—Medical Times, January 12, 1866.
Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne is the best and most certain remedy in coughs, colds, asthma, consumption, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c.

Canadian Pain-Destroyer.
Effects Wonderful Cures.
Best Remedy for Pain.
Sold by all chemists and storekeepers.
Wholesale by WILLIAM TAYLER and CO., 175, Pitt-street.

IS YOUR LIFE WORTH SAVING?
This may seem a curious question to some people, but many persons would neglect their Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and any Diseases of the Throat or Lungs, before they would invest the small sum of 6d in a sample bottle of Dr. "BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP" to try it, before buying a large bottle for 3s 6d, holding 8 small bottles. All dealers. Wholesale by ELLIOTT BROS.

KEATING'S BON BONS OR WORM TABLETS, A PURELY VEGETABLE SWEETMEAT, both in appearance and taste, furnishing a most agreeable method of administering the only certain remedy for INTESTINAL or THREAD WORMS. It is a perfectly safe and mild preparation, and is especially adapted for children. Sold in tins by all chemists.

BLADON'S HEALTH SALINE OR LIFE SALT.
A combination of Oxygenated Salts, with the ripe juices of lemons, limes, and oranges. Aperient, Alterative, Effervescing, Tonic, Refreshing. This Salt is beautifully prepared, and put up in first-class style. The MEDICAL PROFESSION prescribe it, because it is a genuine article. It is the only Saline made in the colonies from FRUIT.
In patent-stoppered bottles, of all chemists and W. H. SOUL. Wholesale, ELLIOTT BROTHERS.

CLIFTON MINERAL SPRINGS COMPANY, DRYSDALE, Limited.
Mr. R. N. SADLEAR, 158, Sussex-street, has been appointed AGENT for Sydney and New South Wales for the above Company, from whom the now celebrated Clifton MINERAL WATERS can be procured, comprising:—
Apollonaris.—A cooling beverage in cases of fever and other epidemics. Does not change the colour of spirits, and is very valuable for a carbonade in mixing with alcoholic drinks, on account of its softness and delicacy of flavour.
Seltzer.—Pronounced the "Queen of Spas," possessing all the qualities of the celebrated German and Hungarian waters combined. It is alkaline, chalybeat, and tonic, a mild aperient, is pleasant and refreshing to the palate.
Seltzerade and Cliftonade are the natural waters flavoured with the most delicious essences, and make an excellent, refreshing, sparkling beverage of daily use, in addition to being highly medicinal and curative. Circulars containing testimonials, &c., to be had from the agents.
JOHN G. REEVES, Manager.
Clifton Springs, Drysdale, on the Bay, Victoria.
N.B.—Hot Mineral BATHS can be had at the Springs. Wonderful cures have been effected in cases of gout, rhumatism, and sciatica. Testimonials and medical opinions to be had on application to the agent.

LONG'S Compound Consolidated CASTOR OIL or PALMA CHRISTI PILL, the Great Liver Purge.
LONG'S FRUIT LINCTUS.—A few doses loosen the Phlegm, allay Tickling in the Throat, producing easy expectoration. In bottles, 1s and 2s 6d each. 1s 6d saved by taking the large size. Sold by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT should be well rubbed upon the pit of the stomach and region of the heart in that particular form of indigestion which gives rise to palpitation, shortness of breath, and a suffocating sensation. Every disagreeable symptom soon yields. Sold at 533, Oxford-street, W.C., London, and all druggists.

HAMILTON'S INDIAN WORM SYRUP.—A reliable, palatable preparation, liked by children; positively destroys worms, leaves no bad effects, is highly recommended by physicians, and is unquestionably the best worm medicine.
Prepared only by J. HAMILTON, Chemist, 138, Regent-street, Chippendale, Sydney.

J. S. ABRAHAM'S PILLS are beyond doubt the most remarkable remedy of the age.

NOTICE UNDER THE DOWER ABOLITION ACT OF THE COLONY OF VICTORIA.

Attention is directed to the Act of the Parliament of Victoria called "The Dower Abolition Act, 1880," by which all widows entitled to dower, and all married women contingently entitled to dower, are required, before the 28th day of December, 1882, to lodge a claim in writing with the Registrar-General of Victoria, at Melbourne, otherwise they will loose their right to dower.

Every such claim must contain the name and residence of the claimant, and set forth as clearly and distinctly as may be the lands sought to be charged or affected, the date and place of the marriage of the claimant, the name of her husband through whom she claims, and such claim may be signed by such claimant or anyone on her behalf; and no such claim will be received unless some address or place within the present limits of the city of Melbourne be named therein as the place at which all proceedings relating to such claim may be served.

The address may from time to time be changed as provided for in section five of the Act by endorsing a memorandum of such change on the claim.

Dated at the Registrar-General's office, at Melbourne, this fourteenth day of January, A.D. 1881.

A PLAIN STATEMENT OF FACTS

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEW SOUTH WALES.—We believed that a firm adopting an original title for its place of business had the exclusive and the best possible right to it. But other houses, we suppose, destitute of originality, have meanly chosen to APPROPRIATE THE TITLE OF OUR ESTABLISHMENT in advertisements, and actually as a trademark. This, though a tribute to our success, is SO UNSCRUPULOUS AND FLAGRANT AN INJUSTICE to us that we believe the people of New South Wales will mark their dissatisfaction by advising their friends NOT TO BE MISLED as to the position of THE ONLY AND ORIGINAL PALACE EMPORIUM, HAYMARKET, SYDNEY, and of the firm which has served them long and well.

(Signed) ANTHONY HORDERN and SONS, PALACE EMPORIUM, HAYMARKET (only).

CAUTION.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

NOTICE is hereby given that an Alleged Patent, or INVENTION, of one ARTHUR OWEN JONES, for Improvements in the Manufacture and Refining of Sugar, referred to in prospectus issued by the promoters of a proposed new Company, to be called THE QUEENSLAND SUGAR REFINING COMPANY, is an infringement of an invention now the property of the Queensland National Bank (Limited), in respect of which Letters of Registration have been duly issued under the hand of the Governor and the Seal of the Colony, and recorded in the office of the Supreme Court of Queensland. And all persons are hereby CAUTIONED against entering into any undertakings, or becoming parties to any agreements, with the view of working, or in any way using or employing, the said alleged invention of the said Arthur Owen Jones, as legal proceedings will be instituted, without further notice, on behalf of the said Bank, for recovery of damages for any infringement of their patent rights.

OPEN POLICIES issued to cover wool that may be sent to London during the season

GEO. A. LLOYD and CO., Sydney, AGENTS for NEW SOUTH WALES.

TO WOOLGROWERS.

We beg to offer our services in the disposal of the approaching clip.

The additions made to our storage accommodation last year permitted of our promptly receiving and satisfactorily showing the quicker and larger deliveries of wool which, as expected, immediately followed. And a further extension during the present year will enable us, we trust, to meet equally efficaciously the still increasing requirements.

The immediate proximity of our new Darling Harbour Stores to the railway goods terminus is acknowledged to have been of special assistance in the expediting and facilitating of the general wool traffic, and the arrangements have the approval of sellers and buyers.

The result of the sales made here last season confirmed the anticipations we had expressed, that this market would be found an advantageous one. We look for a still larger attendance during the approaching season of foreign buyers, French, German, and American, whose presence, with that of the usual purchasers on behalf of English manufacturers and for merchants' account, will ensure a wide and active competition.

We give close personal supervision to the classification and lotting of the wool, and ample space is afforded for inspection by the buyers, and all possible effort made to secure their confidence, and, as a consequence, the obtainment of the highest market values.

Our Auction Sales are held on Wednesday and Friday of each week during the season.

Every lot, large or small, is carefully valued, and, if desired, the owners advised with prior to offering for sale.

If, on testing the market, the prices obtainable are not up to limits, we are prepared to arrange for prompt shipment on the most favourable terms.

Our London firm is well conversant with New South Wales and Queensland wools, and gives special personal attention in the realisation of all wool sent to its care.

Wool or other produce consigned to us is received at any of the railway stations, or by any of the shipping and forwarding agents, and duly sent on to Sydney.

All produce is insured against fire whilst in our warehouses, but if any constituents wish their consignments protected in transit thereto, it is necessary that they give specific instructions.

On letter or telegram being sent, Wool may be insured from the sheep's back.

Liberal cash advances made.

BRIGHTSIDE ESTATE.
211 VILLA SITES.
GUILFORD, near PARRAMATTA JUNCTION,
TO BE SOLD ON THE GROUND, THIS DAY, 8th October, 1881,
by WATKIN and WATKIN.
The following are a few of the advantages of Brightside:—
1. The Title is Torrens' Act.
2. The terms of sale are very easy, being 10 per cent. cash, and the balance in 18 monthly instalments without interest.
3. The position and quality of the soil are second to none on any of the suburban railway lines.
4. Brightside is situated on the heights of Guilford, and adjoins the property of the Hon. J. Lackey; it is the highest land between Sydney and Campbellfields.
5. The reservoir for supplying Sydney with water from the Nepean is not more than 150 yards from this property.
6. Messrs. Hudson Brothers' property is within a mile of Brightside, and from the fact that 600 to 1000 workmen will be employed in these very extensive workshops, there can be no doubt that property in this vicinity will be worth three times its present value in less than two years.
7. The streets running through Brightside are all one chain wide, and have been properly stumped and cleared.
8. Guilford station is only seven minutes' walk, and Granville station 25 minutes walk.
Special Train TO-DAY, at 2.15 p.m.
Free Tickets on application.
A. C. Gibbes, Esq., Wentworth-court, solicitor for vendors.

MAGNIFICENT FREEHOLD and PASTORAL ESTATE, known as BENDENINE, and comprising the following well-known properties, viz.:—
BENDENINE, EAST GALONG, ILLALONG, KURIONG, DUNDERALLIGO, and CURIANGA.

R. GOLDSBROUGH and CO., Limited (in conjunction with Mort and Co., Sydney) have been favoured with instructions from the Executors of the late Henry Brown, Esq., to SELL by PUBLIC AUCTION, at their Wool Warehouses, Bourke and William streets, Melbourne, on FRIDAY, 4th November, at 2.30 o'clock p.m.,
the BENDENINE ESTATE, containing an area of about 66,308 acres,
of which 11,600 acres are freehold and about 47,000 acres of conditional purchases, the remainder being chiefly leased Crown lands.
With the exception of about 8000 acres, the whole run is enclosed with most substantial post and rail and wire fences, and is subdivided into 32 paddocks. The greater portion of this fencing is new, having been put up within the last three or four years; a considerable portion within the last few months, so that it will require but little repairs for many years to come.

With the above will be sold about 36,700 sheep of the following ages and sexes:—

Ewes—One year old	3800
Two ditto ditto	4690
Three ditto ditto	3200
Four ditto ditto	3600
Five and over	4850
		20,140
Wethers—One year old	3800
Two ditto ditto	4780
Three ditto ditto	4177
Four ditto ditto	1500
Five and over	1452
		15,709
Rams—One to five years old		851
Total		36,700 (all more or less.)

1400 cattle
65 horses.

THIS SPLENDID PROPERTY is situated close to Bowning and Binalong Railway stations, N. S. W., and has several miles frontage to the Boorowa River, which has never been known to cease running even in the longest droughts. The railway line from Sydney to Albury passes through the property. The fences fronting the railway line, which are both sheep and cattle proof, are kept in perfect repair at the cost of the Government, and form secure boundaries for a number of paddocks.
The country may be described as excellent pastoral and agricultural land, and consists for the most part of fine, open, box ridges, and rich flats, lightly timbered, and is well watered by permanent creeks and lagoons, besides numerous tanks and dams. It is at present lightly stocked, its capabilities being estimated at 50,000 to 60,000 sheep.
On a large portion of the estate the timber has been ringbarked, thereby greatly improving the quality of the grass.
The IMPROVEMENTS ARE FIRST-CLASS, the late owner having expended very large sums in order to make it a residential property. At BENDENINE there is a comfortable homestead, containing 10 rooms, with detached kitchen and servants'-room, well-kept fruit and flower garden and vineyard, large store built of stone, woolshed, large hay shed, stabling, coachhouse, manager's residence, men's huts, &c. There is also a dwelling-house of eight rooms on the ILLALONG portion of the property, together with store, stabling, &c., and a very substantial woolshed fitted for 26 shearers, which, with all the latest improvements and appliances, was erected only in 1877, at a cost of £1500, and large drafting yards have recently been erected in a central position on the run. Also a conveniently situated washpen, with battened stages, and every facility for keeping the sheep clean after washing.
On the DUNDERALLIGO portion there is a house containing seven rooms, also, huts, stabling, &c.
At EAST GALONG there is a good overseer's hut and drafting yards. There is also a railway platform and siding on this part of the property, from whence the stock from the adjoining FATTENING PADDOCKS can be trucked for the Sydney and Melbourne markets.
The sheep are of good ages, and are in excellent order, great care having been exercised for several years past in culling out all objectionable stock.
The rams include choice selections from the noted flocks of Messrs. Gibson, of Tasmania; and Messrs. Lamb and Roberts, of Mudgee; and other noted breeders, which have been used for several years past. The young rams are universally acknowledged to be of very superior quality, and a considerable income is made every year by leasing them out to parties in the district.
The wool is of superior quality, and commands full rates.
The cattle are well-bred, and some of the cows cost £50 to £100 each, whilst the bulls are chiefly from the noted herds of Messrs. Woodhouse, Lee, Robert Lowe, and others.
The horses include 16 heavy draught, 6 light ditto, 22 saddle horses, 15 brood mares, 12 young and unbroken, and the Clydesdale entire "Young Tom."
Copper, lead, silver, and marble are to be found on the freehold property.
THIS FINE PROPERTY is placed in the market for absolute sale owing to the death of the late owner, and presents a REALLY FIRST-CLASS OPPORTUNITY FOR INVESTMENT.
Terms:—One-third cash; balance at 1, 2, 3, and 4 years, at 6 per cent.
☞ Special attention is invited to the fact that the purchaser will have the benefit of the lambs at foot, and an immediate return from the wool clip, now about to be shorn, which will be given in subject to the actual shearing expenses.
For further particulars, terms, &c., apply to
R. GOLDSBROUGH and CO., Limited, Bourke and William streets, Melbourne; or at No. 4, Spring-street, Sydney; or to MORT and CO.,

VALUABLE PROPERTIES,
Comprising the Cream of New Town.

GUESDON and WESTBROOK are instructed to sell, at their Mart, Collins-street, date as above, by order of the trustee of the settlement,
The following well-known properties at New Town, long occupied by the late Mr. Roope.
Lot 1 comprises a comfortable dwelling-house, containing ten rooms, besides kitchen, pantry, dressing and bath rooms, also convenient out-buildings, including stabling and coachhouse, and a well-arranged Turkish bath. The house stands in the centre of nearly ten acres of ornamental grounds and orchards, judiciously laid out and securely enclosed, chiefly with a 6 feet batten fence, and in front by a well-grown hawthorn hedge.
The buildings are in good order, and the garden and orchards in the highest state of cultivation. There is an unlimited supply of water, which could be carried throughout the grounds at a trifling expense.
This property is bounded almost wholly by four streets, and is within five minutes' walk of the Risdon-road railway station.
LOT 2 comprises the celebrated Pearmain orchard and a small grass paddock, in area 4 acres. This lot fronts on Cross-street, is separated from Lot 1 by Swanson-street, and bounded on the other side by General Irvine's property. There is a neat cottage at the angle of these streets, which would always readily let, and there is on the grass land an unrivalled site for a large house.
LOT 3.—On the Risdon-road, opposite main entrance to Lot 1, comprises over one acre and a quarter of land, chiefly laid out in an orchard, and now in full bearing. There is an excellent cottage of 6 rooms abutting on the road.
LOT 4 is the grass paddock adjoining the last lot, and extending to the property of Mr. T. Dowdle.
Terms—20 per cent. deposit, 20 by bill at 4 months, and balance in 3 years; interest, 6 per cent., secured on the property.
Cards to view on and after 20th September.
For further particulars, apply to Roberts, Allport, and Allport, solicitors, Stone-buildings, or to the auctioneers.

BURRABOGIE STATION,
Murrumbidgee District,
N. S. Wales.

WILKINSON, GRAVES, and LAVENDER (in conjunction with Raleigh, Aitken, and Co.) have received instructions from the Proprietors, Messrs. M'Gaw and Co., to sell by public auction, at the Exchange Rooms, Melbourne, early in February, 1882,
THE BURRABOGIE STATION, comprising a total area of 335,000 acres of first-class salt and cotton bush country, of which 220,000 acres are freehold, and 115,000 acres Crown lands.
Of the Crown lands about 100,000 acres are held under pre-lease, the remainder being reserves.
The whole is most substantially fenced with wire, and subdivided into 85 paddocks, abundantly watered by 22 miles' frontage to the Murrumbidgee River.
Twenty-seven wells, and numerous large dams and tanks.
In fact, it is one of the best and most elaborately improved stations in New South Wales.

With the property will be sold 141,000 high-class sheep, of which 74,000 are breeding ewes
4000 stud flock
800 well-bred cattle
100 horses.

This magnificent property is for positive sale in consequence of the termination of the partnership.
The sheep can be inspected in the wool up to the 25th August.
For further particulars apply to
WILKINSON, GRAVES, and LAVENDER,
Sydney, Hay, and Wagga Wagga; or to RALEIGH, AITKEN, and CO., Melbourne.

IMPORTANT LAND SALE
at GOULBURN.

240 ACRES, MORE OR LESS.

THE RACECOURSE PADDOCK.

For Positive Sale, in one Block.

THIS GRAND PROPERTY affords Speculators and Investors an opportunity THAT CANNOT OCCUR AGAIN DURING A GENERATION OF SECURING A PROPERTY THAT IS UNRIVALLED,
being only about 200 yards from the RAILWAY STATION, and directly opposite. The land is exceedingly rich, with a frontage of about 46 chains to the Mulwaree Ponds, bounded on the southside by the Lansdowne Estate, and on the north by that known as Captain Hovell's, now the Property of the University.

The Improvements consist of a commodious House of 6 rooms, hall, verandah front and back, large kitchen, stable, and outhouses;
FIRST-CLASS ORCHARD, containing four hundred choice worked fruit trees, substantially fenced; area, say four acres. The whole of the land is enclosed, and the average returns annually may be estimated at £500, and if properly managed might be increased to at least fifty per cent.
The saddling paddock and grand stand occupy one acre, at a rental of £25 a year.

SANDS and BELCHER have been favoured with instructions from Mr. T. Brock to sell by auction, AT GOULBURN,
on TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18th,
at 11 o'clock,
All that magnificent freehold known as
BROOK'S PADDOCK.

ALL SPORTS TAKE PLACE IN IT.

TITLE, PERFECT.

Terms—One-third cash; the balance may remain for three or more years, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, secured on the property in the usual manner.
Full particulars on application to the auctioneers.

MONDAY NEXT.—SHOW DAY at all RILEY BROTHERS' Shops, of Dress Materials.

COOMOO COOMOO STATION,
Liverpool Plains District.

PITT, SON, and BADGERY have received instructions to sell by auction, at the Exchange, Sydney, on WEDNESDAY, 26th of October next, at 12 o'clock,
The well-known and justly celebrated Coomoo Coomoo Estate, containing an area of about 35,000 acres, of which over 19,000 acres are purchased, about 11,500 being freehold, and the balance conditional purchases, fully improved, and transferable.
The run is situate in the best part of Liverpool Plains, 35 miles from Quirindi, and 25 from Breeza railway stations, and with its extensive improvements its carrying capabilities may safely be estimated at 40,000 sheep, that number having been shorn on it last year. As to its fattening qualities, comment is quite unnecessary.
Improvements.—The estate is fenced and subdivided into 11 sheep paddocks, 1 horse, 2 cultivation, and house paddock, the fencing being all first-class wire and post and rail. There is a comfortable homestead, with all necessary outbuildings, stables, hayshed, men's huts, &c., also good woolshed, stockyard, sheep yards, and in fact everything necessary for the efficient working of a first-class establishment. A large portion of the run has been ringbarked and cleared, and the benefit of this are becoming more marked every year.
The water supply is ample, well distributed, and permanent. Besides a frontage to both sides of the Coomoo Coomoo Creek and several never-failing springs, there are 16 wells, with all the latest and most efficient appliances for lifting the water; and several good dams and tanks, one of the latter being 6000 and another 4000 yards.
The run will be sold with the sheep now on it, and which have been carried through the late dry season. They consist principally of ewes purchased from some of the best flocks in Riverina.
There are also a few cattle and horses, of which full particulars will be given at the time of sale.
In submitting this property to the public for bona-fide UNRESERVED SALE, the auctioneers feel that they cannot in the limits of a short advertisement do adequate justice to the advantages it possesses, for from its position, its compactness, its water supply, and its fertility of soil, it requires inspection to judge of its merits.
The auctioneers will be glad to give intending purchasers every information, and would strongly advise all who possibly can to inspect.

To Capitalists and others.

375 ACRES of RICH SUGAR LAND,

WAI OBA,
Island of Taviuna, Fiji.

BRUNKER and WOLFE have received instructions from the Executors of the late John Johnston, Esq., to sell by auction, at the Chamber of Commerce, Exchange, Sydney, on WEDNESDAY, 26th October, 1881,
at 12 o'clock,
375 acres of rich sugar growing land, known as Wai Oba, situate on the coast of the Island of Taviuna, Fiji.

This plot of land, irrespective of its great natural productiveness, has an important prospective value, on account of its being situated at a point commanding the only harbour and safe anchorage for vessels on the Island, and adjoining extensive Sugar Works now about being erected.
For terms and other particulars apply to the Auctioneers, 279, George-street, Sydney, and West Maitland.

FOR POSITIVE SALE.

Those desirable Properties known as the CUDGELO and WALLENGOBBA ESTATES, situate on the LACHLAN RIVER, about six miles from Cowra, together with 12,000, more or less, FINE-WOOLLED MERINO SHEEP.

MORT and CO. will sell by public auction, at the sale room of their Wool Warehouse, Circular Quay, Sydney, on TUESDAY, 1st NOVEMBER, at 2.30 o'clock,
The above-named valuable properties, consisting of 6283 acres freehold land
3056 ditto transferable C.P.'s
16,480 ditto, more or less, pre-emptive lease land 9080 ditto, more or less, auction leases, together with
12,000, more or less, FINE-WOOLLED MERINO SHEEP.
☞ The CUDGELO and WALLENGOBBA Estates are so situated as to form a SPLENDID RECEIVING DEPOT for STOCK, or as a large STUD FARM, as they will have easy COMMUNICATION by RAILWAY with all parts of NEW SOUTH WALES, and with VICTORIA. The district of Cowra is undoubtedly one of the healthiest in the colony, and on completion of the promised railway between Blayney and Murrumburrah connecting the Great Southern and Western system of railways, and which branch line will pass through Cowra, properties in the vicinity, such as the above, will no doubt be much sought after, and necessarily increase enormously in value.
The secured land and most of the Freehold is of an EXCELLENT AGRICULTURAL CHARACTER, and the Estate COULD BE SUBDIVIDED INTO GRAZING and AGRICULTURAL FARMS to great advantage.
The IMPROVEMENTS are of an unusually SUBSTANTIAL CHARACTER, and consist of—
AT CUDGELO—Stone House, 8 rooms, kitchen, servant's room, out-offices, store, stable, coachhouse, &c., woolshed, cultivation paddocks, sheep paddocks, yards, &c.
AT WALLENGOBBA—Very fine stone Dwelling, 5 rooms, stone kitchen, scullery, store, and servant's room under one roof, cottage, stables, coachhouse, paddocks, &c.
The Estates are WELL WATERED BY A LARGE FRONTAGE TO THE LACHLAN RIVER, and by tanks on various parts of the properties.
The purchaser will have the benefit of the wool clip, now about to be shorn, which will be given in, less shearing expenses, as well as the lambs now dropped.
TERMS: HALF CASH, balance may remain on security of the land at 5 per cent. per annum, extending over a term of years.
For further particulars, apply to
MORT and CO.,
WOOL WAREHOUSES, SYDNEY.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1881.

NEW ZEALAND LOAN and MERCANTILE AGENCY COMPANY, Limited (in conjunction with Messrs. Dal. Campbell and Co.), have received instructions from Messrs. Stewart and M'Gee, in consequence of dissolution of partnership, to OFFER by PUBLIC AUCTION, on Friday, 21st October, 1881,
The well-known station
WOOLOONDOOL.
The Wooloondool station comprises the Wooloondool and Woolombye runs, situated immediately below Hay, on the Murrumbidgee, and having a frontage to that river, and adjoining the well known Eloiwah, Benduck, and Ulonga runs.
The stock consists of 33,000 first-class sheep of mixed ages and sexes.
35 head of cattle, milch cows, and progeny
36 head horses (including draft and whim horses).
The property consists of open salt and cotton bush and well-grassed plains, is substantially fenced with six-wire fences, and subdivided into six sheep paddocks, also three small, one horse, and one cultivation paddock of 10 acres. These are watered by 10 tanks (now full of water), and three wells giving an unlimited supply, which will not, however, be needed this season. There are about 80,000 acres Crown lands, and 16,000 acres freehold.
The improvements include at the homestead, a comfortable house of 5 rooms, kitchen, servants' rooms, laundry, bathhouse, and necessary outbuildings; also, store and barracks of 3 rooms, stables, coachhouse, men's hut, stockyards, drafting yards, and woolshed for 24 shearers, and rouse-about huts, and one well of fine water; also, drafting yards, capable of drafting 12,000 sheep in, and 5000 out; and boundary riders' cottages.
Plant, &c. Stores at cost price, with carriage added. Furniture to be taken at a valuation.

AT CONDON'S HOTEL, ALBION PARK.

D. L. DYMOCK has received instructions from the proprietors to sell by auction, on the above date and place, the celebrated YALLAH ESTATE, as subdivided as follows:—
LOT 1. 141 acres, known as the Yallah Homestead, all cleared and grassed (except necessary timber), subdivided into four large cultivation paddocks of meadow land, with comfortable cottage and all necessary outbuildings, large milking shed, with Duck Creek close to premises.
LOT 2. 117 acres, bounded by lot 1, and having its whole frontage to main road to Kiama and Wollongong. Rich meadow land, with superior cultivation ground on slope of Mount Brown, and Duck Creek running through it.
LOT 3. 120 acres, having frontage to the main road, consisting of alluvial flats of black soil, and enclosed paddock known as Clover Meadow, with undulating forest ridges.
LOT 4. 109 acres, with frontage to main road, adjoining Musgrave's dairy farm, well improved, of superior land, black soil, and open forest ridges, of gentle slope.
LOT 5. 100 acres, fronting Lake Illawarra, adjoining Musgrave's farm, great portion under grass, a fine grazing block, interspersed with oaks and evergreens, and admirably adapted for a villa residence, on the margin of Lake Illawarra.
LOT 6. 49 acres with frontage to Lake Illawarra, adjoining lot 5, superior black soil, and similar in character to lot 5, admirably adapted for pleasure grounds or fishing station.
LOT 7. 35 acres, bordering Lake Illawarra and Wollongong Creek, navigable to eastern boundary of lot 5, and reserved road from main road; great portion under grass and lightly timbered; for country residence and lovers of yachting it is unique in its character.
LOT 8. 20 acres, being superior block of land fronting main road to Wollongong, of an elevated character, commanding the full view of Lake Illawarra and the picturesque Marshall Mount Valley, the late residence of the Messrs. Osborne.

Terms unexceptionably liberal: 20 per cent. deposit, 20 per cent. in one month; balance may remain on mortgage for three years at 5 per cent. per annum.

TITLE, UNEXCEPTIONABLE.

The Auctioneer, in calling attention to this valuable property, would point out its well-known character in former years of being a heavy producer; its subdivision being in suitable blocks, within the reach of all; its present convenient distance from Wollongong on the one side and Shellharbour and Kiama on the other, with almost daily steam communication; its adjoining the South Coast Road on the one side and the grand Illawarra Lake on the other, teeming with wild fowl, and a large source of the fish supply of Sydney; together with its certain value as one of the future supplies of milk to the metropolis; and, lastly, ITS CLOSE PROXIMITY TO THE SOUTH COAST ILLAWARRA RAILWAY, SURVEYED WITHIN A QUARTER OF A MILE OF THE PROPERTY, must command the attention of all wise men who want either a comfortable home or a good investment, and where Sydney merchants will be within two hours' travelling from business by rail.

Daily coach passes the property.
Steamers leave Sydney every Monday and Tuesday nights to Wollongong, distance only nine miles. Steamer returns from Wollongong Thursday, at 3 p.m.

Frontages to the MAIN PITT WATER-ROAD, and other streets all ONE CHAIN WIDE, also to the BEACH known as LONG REACH, and the waters of NARRABEEN LAGOON.

\. This new township is in the prettiest and most beautiful position in this healthful and really attractive locality, known as the PARISH of MANLY, and is approached by a good, well-formed road from Manly Beach, distant only 6 miles.
PUBLIC CONVEYANCES run through this township daily in their trips to and from MANLY and PITTWATER.
The scenery along the road is acknowledged by all to be the most pleasing and enlivening out of the city.
An inspection of the new township subdivision will convince those in search of safe investments that a few pounds judiciously laid out in the purchase of some of the Building Allotments here must turn out a good speculation and return to the investor a handsome profit in a very short time.

NOTE THE VERY LIBERAL TERMS—

Mr. LICENSED SURVEYOR REUSS, Jun.

THE IMPORTANCE of the sale of this MAGNIFICENT ESTATE, in the
NEIGHBOURHOOD OF THE CITY, must arrest and demand the attention of all.
SITUATED on a NATURAL and BEAUTIFUL ELEVATION, with DELIGHTFUL SCENERY, diversified and extensive, combined with the GREAT CONVENIENCE of being only FOUR MINUTES' distance per
RAILWAY FROM SYDNEY, or a pleasant drive of about a mile on one of the best roads out of the city.
THE MALCOLM ESTATE
possesses every attraction that can be perceived to persuade and influence all classes of the community in the selection of a home-stead where the QUIET ENJOYMENT of RURAL LIFE may be secured under such favourable circumstances.

It is not only to business men and others willing to avail themselves of UNRIVALLED SPOTS for SUBURBAN RETREATS
that this sale will be interesting, but it may be confidently recommended to, and brought under the notice of,
CAPITALISTS
and SPECULATORS
as a means of investment, for in a short time, when the numerous lots that will be purchased for immediate occupation are improved, an advance in the value of the neighbouring lots of at least
ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.
may with certainty be calculated upon.
It is some considerable time since such an important property has been offered for PUBLIC UNRESTRICTED COMPETITION, and it is expected that the liberal efforts that have been made to satisfy the requirements of the times and the locality will be responded to by the public generally.

Messrs. DAINTRY and JONES, Elizabeth-street, are Solicitors of the Estate.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, on MONDAY, 10th OCTOBER,
at 11 o'clock,
PROMPT,
THE MALCOLM ESTATE,
at MACDONALDTOWN, NEWTOWN, upwards of 30 ACRES, including
THE CRICKET GROUND, subdivided as described above.

TERMS OF SALE: 10 per cent. cash deposit, 15 per cent. cash in three months without interest, and the residue in equal amounts, at one, two, and three years, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, payable quarterly.

The auctioneers, in bringing this valuable estate into the market, feel assured that their anxiety to introduce it in a manner acceptable to the public WILL BE APPRECIATED, and that few will neglect to secure some portion of the ATTRACTIVE SUBDIVISION;
and, as their instructions are POSITIVELY to SELL, and on TERMS so EXTREMELY LIBERAL, they cannot but feel pleasure in urging it upon public attention.
The whole of the lots are marked out with numbered pegs, and the streets well defined. By this means, and the aid of the LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS, which may be obtained at the Rooms, Pitt-street, parties desirous of becoming buyers will be able to identify the various lots previous to the day of sale, and thus regulate their purchases.

DAY OF SALE—MONDAY, 10th OCTOBER,

That magnificent AGRICULTURAL and GRAZING
FREEHOLD ESTATE,
ST. AUBINS, adjoining the TOWNSHIP OF SCONE, containing upwards of 12,560 ACRES OF LAND in FEE SIMPLE, with a large area of PRE-EMPTIVE LEASES attaching thereto, and about 1380 Acres of SELECTED LANDS now transferable, the requirements in conformity with the Land Act having been duly observed.

This valuable estate is traversed by the GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY, its whole length, as well as by the GREAT NORTHERN ROAD.

THE STOCK to be sold with the above property is as follows, viz.:—
8,300 Sheep
330 highly-bred Cattle
130 well-bred Horses.
. Stores, Implements, Working Plant, and all the belongings, to be taken by valuation in the usual way.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from the TRUSTEES of the late W. A. DUMARESQ, Esq., to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney, on THURSDAY, 20th OCTOBER,
at 11 o'clock.
The above MAGNIFICENT FREEHOLD ESTATE.

This extensive and choice estate, fit for both AGRICULTURAL and GRAZING purposes, contains 12,560 ACRES of FREEHOLD LAND, consisting of flats and undulating country, one-third of which is of a very rich description, a like portion fit for agriculture, and the remainder is sound well-grassed grazing land. The timber is chiefly box and ironbark, and about 5000 acres have been sapped, and upwards of 800 acres have been entirely cleared.
The PRE-EMPTIVE LEASES number
6000 ACRES, more or less of fair grazing country, and the SELECTED LANDS ready for transfer 1380 ACRES,
making together a snug property of 20,000 ACRES,
all well watered by the KINGDON PONDS, several creeks, dams, and wells.

The whole of the property is fenced (with the exception of about 2 miles to complete boundary), and subdivided into varying in size from 40 to 4000 acres, with provision on each for water.

The IMPROVEMENTS comprise two dwelling houses out of repair, store, kitchen, good 6-stall stable, harness room, and woolshed under one roof, cattle and sheep drafting yards, cultivation paddocks, about 35 acres under lucerne, and every other requisite for working the property economically.
The stock are of high class, and consist of SHEEP.

Ewes, 3600, 5 years old, and aged Hoggets, 1000, mixed sexes
Weaners, 900, ditto ditto
Mixed, 1000,

8300, all more or less.
There are about 1800 lambs to be given in.

CATTLE.
These are of a high class, bred from the best blood procurable in the colony, including Victoria's Theodore (brother to the champion bull), and the 2500-guinea bull 24th Duke of Derrimut.
They comprise 120 cows and heifers
210 mixed

330 in all, more or less.

HORSES.
This stock numbers
120 HEAD, all bred from selected mares, by the noted thoroughbred sires Victor, Volunteer, Oxford, Camel, Talisman, and the imported Eastley.

It is proposed that the above stock shall be taken by the buyer of the estate at a fixed price per head for each description, and that the biddings shall be taken for the freehold land alone at per acre, with the selected lands at a stated price per acre and the pre-emptives given in.

"ST. AUBINS" is surrounded by other first-class properties, including "Turonville," owned by Mr. Thomas Cook; "Cliffdale," owned by Mr. Everett; "Invermein," Messrs. E. and F. Parbury; "Cressfield" and "Segenhoe," the latter belonging to the Hon. James White. It is only 12 hours distant from Sydney by steamer and railway, and the homestead is but a short distance from the Scone railway station.

This property will be offered as above described IN ONE LOT, the trustees being desirous of closing their accounts in accordance with the directions contained in the will of the late W. A. Dumaresq, Esq.

TITLE TO THE ESTATE UNEXCEPTIONABLE, full particulars of which may be obtained upon application to W. Andrews, Esq., 84, Castlereagh-street, Sydney, solicitor to the estate.

IMPORTANT AUCTION SALE.

That well-known and delightfully-situated Property
BROADVIEW,
and RESIDENCE, on the PENNANT HILLS ROAD, only 15 minutes' drive from the PARRAMATTA RAILWAY STATION, and immediately opposite the LONGSIGHT ESTATE.

It comprises 65 acres, about 20 acres of which are laid out as ORANGERY
and ORCHARD, and the residue
(45 acres)
is beautifully elevated
PARK and TIMBERED LAND.

Broadview is now SUBDIVIDED by Surveyors DAWSON and STEPHEN, of Pitt-street, Sydney, and will be submitted to public competition,
ON THE GROUND,
SATURDAY, 22nd OCTOBER,
at 3 o'clock,
by RICHARDSON and WRENCH.

THE BROADVIEW ESTATE is most beautifully situated on A GRAND EMINENCE, and in a VERY ATTRACTIVE
and TRULY DELIGHTFUL position on THE PENNANT HILLS ROAD, only 1 mile from PARRAMATTA TOWN BOUNDARY, and 2 miles from THE RAILWAY STATION, subdivided as follows:—
LOT 69.—This Block of Land comprises an area of about 6 acres, and has considerable frontage to PENNANT HILLS ROAD.
On it are the following improvements:—
BROADVIEW HOUSE, a comfortable TWO-STORY RESIDENCE, with verandah in front, and containing hall, parlour, dining-room, and 2 bedrooms.
Cottage of 4 rooms, and adjoining this is a two-story building, containing pantry, laundry, and bedroom.
These forming in one a well-arranged family dwelling, with all necessary conveniences.
The OUTHOUSES comprise two brick coachhouses, stable, toolhouse, man's room, large wood shed, and fowlhouse.
The water supply is ample for all seasons from 3 underground tanks.
The grounds, 5 acres, are laid out as orangery and orchard, and the TREES, about 300, are all in fair order and full bearing.
In front of the residence is a tastefully arranged flower garden.
Lots 1 to 68, 70 and 71, SEVENTY SITES, from 100 feet to 2[illegible] feet frontages, with depths ranging from 284 feet to 680 feet.

BROADVIEW is well and appropriately named, as from the estate the view for EXTENT GRANDEUR BEAUTY DIVERSITY
and
ATTRACTIVENESS, cannot be surpassed from any other position in all the [illegible] and pretty district of PENNANT HILLS,
the PRIDE OF THE WEST.

The more prominent objects that catch the eyes of those who visit this estate are the many suburbs to the eastward, viz.:—
AUBURN
HOMEBUSH
BURWOOD
CROYDON
ASHFIELD,
and PETERSHAM, with the PICTURESQUE TOWN of PARRAMATTA in the foreground, while here and there along the landscape glimpses of the placid waters of the winding river are to be seen, which give life to the picture.
The view also extends on all sides, and embraces the most lovely country of hill and dale in the whole county of Cumberland, and extends westward right on to the Blue Mountain range.
The subdivision is so arranged that each of the lots comprised in the 22 acres of ORANGERY and ORCHARD will take in a certain number of full bearing trees, which with care and proper attention will continue to bear fruit very profusely for many years to come, and the other various lots have each a good building site upon them.
The subdivision is so arranged, and will be sold in such a way that the purchaser of one lot will have the option of taking a certain number of adjoining lots at the same price without further competition.
Inspection of the estate is particularly invited. Mr. JOHN TAYLOR, the Auctioneer, of Parramatta, will have conveyances at the Railway Station at Parramatta to meet the early afternoon trains from Sydney, so that visitors can be driven to the property, and after inspection will be brought back to the train in time that Sydney may be reached before dusk.
The terms, which will be liberal, will be published in a future issue.
LITHOGRAPHIC PLANS are now ready for distribution, and can be obtained at the Rooms of Mr. JOHN TAYLOR, Auctioneer, Parramatta; or at our own Rooms, Pitt-street.

THE GROUND has a frontage of 180 feet by a depth of 350 feet.

THE TITLE IS UNDER TORRENS' ACT.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from H. W. WEBB, Esq., to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, Bell's-chambers, Pitt-street, at 11.30 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 12th OCTOBER.
THAT Desirable FAMILY RESIDENCE known as ASHGROVE,
situate within three minutes' walk of the ASHFIELD RAILWAY STATION.

The grounds are prettily laid out into flower garden and lawn in front, and kitchen and fruit garden at the rear, also yard with private side entrance.

THE SUPPLY OF WATER is equal to over 40,000 GALLONS.

CARDS TO VIEW can be obtained at the ROOMS of the Auctioneers.

THIS IS INDEED A DESIRABLE SUBURBAN HOME.
Buyers of suburban homesteads are particularly asked to inspect this property before the day of sale. The house is well built and thoroughly complete; the grounds are in perfect order, and have expended upon them years of toil and a large sum of money. The position for access to the station, the character of surroundings, and the extensive views, are unequalled. Early possession will be given to the purchaser.

By order of the Mortgagee.

A COMFORTABLE COTTAGE RESIDENCE, being No. 15, THOMAS-STREET, off Vine-street, REDFERN, EVELEIGH ESTATE.
The property is built of brick on stone, and contains 5 rooms, besides stable, coachhouse, &c. The land has 20 feet frontage, by 95 feet deep. Freehold title.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions to sell by public auction, at their ROOMS, 133, PITT-STREET, at 11.30 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 12th October,
The above-described property.

The only available building land in the locality for sale; close to the wharfs, on the main thoroughfare, and where bonded and free stores must be required.

The ADVANTAGES ARE—
1. FRONT WALLS and RETURNS ALREADY FIXED
2. PERSPECTIVE VALUE
3. NO MORE LAND TO BE OBTAINED
and
4. RAILWAY TO CIRCULAR QUAY.

Plan on view.
Lithographs at the Rooms.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, Pitt-street, on WEDNESDAY, 19th OCTOBER,
at 11.30 o'clock,

Over 631 feet of frontage to GEORGE-STREET NORTH, close to Circular Quay, and being the MAIN FRONTAGE of the well-known property belonging to the A. S. N. COMPANY, and well suited for the erection of CAPACIOUS STORES combined with the advantages of SHOPS, which when erected are sure to command HIGH RENTALS and LET READILY.

The IMPROVEMENTS now being carried out at CIRCULAR QUAY, the NOTIFIED EXTENSION OF THE TRAMWAYS PAST THE PROPERTY, the probability of a RAILWAY being constructed to CIRCULAR QUAY, as well as the general growth and importance of the LOCALITY, will make it more difficult from year to year to secure such SPLENDID BUILDING SITES.

Inspection of the property is invited.

WAVERLEY.

LOT 1.—TWO ALLOTMENTS of LAND, having 100 feet frontage to VARNA-STREET, by a depth of 181 feet to DOUGLAS-STREET. Freehold Title.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions to sell by public auction, at their Rooms, 133, Pitt-street, at 11.30 o'clock, on WEDNESDAY, 26th OCTOBER,
The above described blocks of land, as per plan at the Rooms.

TO CLEAR.

HIGHBURY ESTATE,
CROYDON.

By order of the directors of the Anglo-Australian Investment, Finance, and Land Company, Limited.

60 BUILDING ALLOTMENTS, as follows:—
SECTION 1.
LOTS 15 to 21, each 60 feet to ANTHONY-STREET.
SECTION 2.
RUGBY HOUSE and 7 ALLOTMENTS, fronting METASTREET.
SECTION 3.
LOTS 15 to 23, each 33 feet to CROYDON-ROAD
LOTS 26 to 34, each 33 feet to EDWIN-STREET
LOTS 38 to 47, each 33 feet to EDWIN-STREET.
SECTION 4.
LOTS 5 to 9, each 33 feet to YOUNG-STREET
LOTS 22 to 25, each 33 feet to GROSVENOR-STREET
LOTS 33 to 38, each 33 feet to BOUNDARY-STREET
LOT 26, with a well-built VILLA thereon
LOTS 39 to 45, each 33 feet to GROSVENOR-STREET.

These SITES and the TWO HOUSES are situate within about a stone's throw of the RAILWAY-STATION.

Nearly every lot has a back entrance, and is first-rate building land. Will certainly equal land similarly situated at Ashfield.

CROYDON is a pretty and favourite suburb, with many good villas studding the hilly country around.

The TERMS of SALE are only 10 per cent. deposit, the balance at 5 per cent. interest.

LITHOGRAPHS are now ready, showing the lots sold and for sale, and may be obtained at the Rooms.

ON THE FIFTH OF NOVEMBER,
SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

SANDGATE. SANDGATE.

BOTANY. BOTANY.

EXTENSIVE SALE, ON THE GROUND, of that MAGNIFICENT ESTATE, comprising the grand area of 80 ACRES, the property of THE BOTANY LAND SYNDICATE, having

MAIN ROAD FRONTAGES.

BOTANY BAY FRONTAGES.

SPLENDID BUSINESS SITES, on both sides of the TRAMWAY LINE, and near to its TERMINUS. (TRAMWAY NOW IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION).

SEASIDE VILLA BLOCKS.

COTTAGE AND HOMESTEAD BLOCKS.

The PROPERTY known as SANDGATE embraces the beautiful estates formerly owned by Mr. LORD
Mr. GEDDES
Mr. BEAUMONT, which were purchased in the early days, judiciously made in view of
THE FUTURE GREATNESS OF BOTANY.

SANDGATE lies on both sides of
THE MAIN BOTANY ROAD,
and embraces the whole of
THE SLOPING RIDGES on the one side, and on the other extends to
THE DEEP WATERS OF BOTANY BAY.

THE TRAMWAY is in course of active construction, and quite a busy scene is now presented by the large number of men engaged on the WORKS.

SANDGATE may be classed amongst the very best estates ever likely to be offered in Sydney for sale by public competition.
It is in the VERY CENTRE of BOTANY, with a large and a rapidly growing population all around, and from its very position purchasers at this
FIRST SALE on the GROUND cannot fail to at least DOUBLE THEIR MONEY in a very short period.

The ROADS are all WIDE, and have been laid out by Mr. ATCHISON, C.E., with a due regard to THE SANITARY REQUIREMENTS OF THE AGE WE LIVE IN.

The LOTS to be SOLD are all of UNUSUAL DEPTHS, and also have GOOD FRONTAGES to
The MAIN BOTANY-ROAD,
THE ESPLANADE,
CHELMSFORD-AVENUE,
FOLKESTONE-PARADE,
HASTINGS-ROAD,
DOVER-ROAD,
SIR JOSEPH BANKS-ROAD,
TENTERDEN-ROAD,
CRANBROOK-ROAD, ROCHESTER-ROAD,
RAMSGATE-ROAD,
MARGATE-ROAD,
BRIGHTON-ROAD,
TUNBRIDGE-ROAD,
WOODSTOCK-ROAD,
EDGEHILL-ROAD,
CLEVEDON-ROAD,
AYLESBURY-ROAD,
CHATHAM-ROAD,
KINGSTON-ROAD,
MAIDENHEAD-ROAD,
DEWSBURY-ROAD,
SALISBURY-ROAD,
SANDGATE-ROAD.

SANDGATE, BOTANY BAY, opposite to CORREY'S TEA GARDENS and SIR JOSEPH BANKS' HOTEL.

EVERYONE SHOULD go to SANDGATE.

EVERYONE SHOULD BUY LAND AT SANDGATE.

SANDGATE, the CENTRE of BOTANY.

SANDGATE, surrounded by COLONIAL INDUSTRIES.

FREETRADERS should invest at SANDGATE, because under the banner of free trade so many factories are rising up and employing now HUNDREDS, as presently they will employ THOUSANDS of hands.

PROTECTIONISTS should buy land at SANDGATE, because it is about the only spot around Sydney, combining all the necessaries for carrying on LARGE CONCERNS, and because by so doing they will be recognising true
COLONIAL ENTERPRISE and THRIFT.

SANDGATE, BOTANY.
What will be the rate of increase in population when the TWOPENNY TRAMWAYS run every quarter of an hour, conveying thousands to and from the FACTORIES and WORKSHOPS?

SANDGATE is just a little over FOUR MILES from the CITY, and is surrounded by HAPPY HOMESTEADS,
PUBLIC BUILDINGS
THE SCHOOL OF ARTS and
THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE
THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND
THE PUBLIC SCHOOL
THE CATHOLIC CHURCH
THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
THE WESLEYAN CHURCH
THE DISTRICT POLICE COURT, and numerous other public buildings, all of a necessary and elevating character, denoting the BASIS upon which the POPULATION is already established.
In addition there are some of the PRETTIEST GARDENS and MOST FERTILE LANDS around SYDNEY.

THE ENGLISH OAK
THE ORANGE and LEMON
THE PEACH, APPLE, and PEAR
THE FIG, LOQUAT, AND QUINCE and even THE HAWTHORN, here blossom and flourish in unbounded luxuriance.

At SANDGATE is the place to build your COTTAGE.
At SANDGATE you should build your VILLA.
At SANDGATE you can grow FLOWERS, VEGETABLES, and FRUIT.

BE AT SANDGATE LAND SALE,
on the 5th of November.

THE AUCTIONEERS have been authorized by the Botany Land Syndicate to offer
